MAYBE YOU'D RATHER HAVE 6
 good acres with a small house and barn out on the great highway north and worth $4500, than your Salem house or would it be better to raise the boys on a little farm of 10 acres with a good house and barn and 2 big chickenhouses and 600 fine hens and 2 cows and the farm machinery necessary and all for $7500 and you can trade your town home for it if you have a couple of fairly well improved close acre and want a good big town house worth $4000, you bring it in, or if you are one of those birds who knows just how to run a town we can trade you a store stock, residence, maybe justifier and section lease and all worth $16,000 for an apartment house or a good farm; or if you're a "shicker" we've "filler" with a fine house and couple of acres on the highway worth $6500 who wants a house in Salem and he just loves to be socked.

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE - OF - REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Magde Is Curious.

I almost stopped short in the hall, however, on discovering that the bathroom door stood ever so slightly ajar. It was not possible for anyone in the hall to see Dicky at his shaving, but the circumstance gave me much food for conjecture. The bathroom opening upon the public hall in this apartment always had been one of his strongest objections to the place, and he never had shaved in it before without closing and locking the door. Why had he broken his rule this morning? Was it possible that his curiosity to see Mollie Fawcett was so strong that he meant to inspect her through the crack of the door should she leave the Marks' apartment before he finished shaving?

I loathed myself for the conjecture, but I could not keep it out of my mind and when Dicky came hurriedly into the living room and rushed through his dressing in record-breaking time, I kept my eyes open for any indication of the girl's departure from the Marks' domicile.

But there was no sign of her when Dicky finally was ready to depart. He kissed me perfunctorily, with an air of pre-occupation went into the hall, and I heard a minute after the emphatic closing of the lower hall door which always heralds his departure.

What instinct took me to the front window, I do not know, for in that area of cheap apartments, I declined to make one of the company of women who waved languishingly to their departing spouses. But I rushed to the window, and raising it noiselessly, leaned far out to see which way he had gone.

But nowhere was Dicky to be seen. (To be continued)

very quickly." I returned. "But I'm sure it is."

He went into the bathroom, and the next minute I heard his voice in a satisfied comment.

"Hot as the hinger of....."

A Pleasant Prospect.

The closing of the door cut off his final word, and with a wry little smile, at his characteristic expression, I took my parcels down the hall to the kitchen, and donning a kitchen apron put them away in refrigerator and cupboard until Dicky should have gone.

Cooking is almost a rite with me. I so thoroughly enjoy it - almost as much as I detect the clearing-up process afterwards - and I wanted no distractions while preparing dinner which I meant to be one of the best of my record.

I could distinguish only the distant murmur of voices in the next apartment, and I guessed that Mrs. Marks had taken her unexpected guest into the kitchen at the back and shut the door, where their chatter would not disturb the saturnine "Pety". Suddenly I discovered that I was straining my ears to hear any chance word, and with a wave of disgust at myself, I fled back to the living room again.

Why the sudden decision to go to the studio? I knew from his own comments that he had nothing important on hand, and the wound on his head even though it had received competent surgical attention, surely gave him ample excuse for remaining at home, even if there had been any one but himself to whom he had to give excuses.

Why the undeniable and unusual interest in the voices of Mrs. Marks and Mollie Fawcett outside our door? Why the comment, "that is an English name," almost as if he had seen the girl's odd type and noticed the incongruity between her name and her appearance.

Was it possible - I pushed a fantastic conjecture back into a brain compartment and locked the door upon it. But - I did not throw away the key, and I knew that some time, when I had leisure to consider anything beside the commonplace of housekeeping again, I should release the fanciful guess and give it a thorough investigation.

"Is there anything I can do for you?" I asked the perfunctory question equably.

"Not a thing, old dear. Thanks, just the same. I hope the water's hot for my shave."

"If it isn't, I can heat some."

Notice of Assessment for Cost of Improving Nebraska Avenue From Capitol Street to Fifteenth Street.

Notice is hereby given that the common council of the City of Salem, Oregon, will, at or about 7:30 p. m. on the 7th day of December, 1925, or at any subsequent meeting of the said council thereafter in the council chambers of the city hall at Salem, Oregon, proceed to assess upon and against each lot or part thereof liable therefor its proportionate share of the cost of improving Nebraska Avenue from the east line of Capitol street to the east line of Fifteenth street in the City of Salem, Oregon.

All persons interested in the said assessment are hereby notified to appear before the said council at said time and place and present their objections, if any they have, to said assessment, and apply to said council to equalize their proportionate share of same.

By order of the common council November the 16th, 1925.
M. POULSEN, City Recorder
