

STANFIELD WILL SPEAK AT FORUM

Junior Oregon Senator Is Guest of Chamber of Commerce Monday

At the luncheon of the Salem Chamber of Commerce to be held Monday noon, United States Senator Robert N. Stanfield will be the principal speaker, having as his subject, "The Western States Are Entitled to the Proceeds From Their Own Natural Resources."

Senator Stanfield is at the present time junior senator from Oregon, having been elected to that capacity in 1920. He is now seeking reelection on the Republican ticket, being a candidate for nomination for that party.

Senator Stanfield's appearance before the Salem Chamber marks the policy of that body to have each of those seeking the senatorial honors to give his views to the business men of Salem.

Senator Stanfield was born at Umatilla, the son of a "Forty-Niner." After his father's death he left normal school to help his mother care for and support 11 children.

His entry into the sheep business, for which he has since become famous, was at the early age of 19 years. At that time he bought his first herd of sheep, and he has been buying and selling ever since.

Senator Stanfield's entry into politics came in 1913, when he was elected to the state legislature. For two terms after that he was elected to help shape the laws of the state and in 1917, he was made speaker of the House. In 1920 came the election to the senate from the state of Oregon. He is chairman of the senate committee of public lands, and a member of the finance committee. The home loan bill providing federal loans to home builders at a low rate of interest had as its author Senator Stanfield. He is now advocating the contention that the eleven states of the west are entitled to the proceeds from the development of their own natural resources. Acting chairman for the luncheon will be Zadoc J. Riggs.

The six to play yet are Ivan Kafoury, Ed Rafferty, Ike Girod, Willard Kappahan, Russell Steiner and Paul Kafoury.

AMERICAN APPLES HIT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The department of agriculture has been informed by its attaché at London that fruit dealers there have been fined for selling American apples alleged to contain arsenic in harmful quantities. Fruit and marketing experts of the department said today that the amount of arsenic reported to have been found was less than a third of a medicinal dose to each apple and that, assuming that skin and all was eaten without washing or wiping, a dozen would have had to be consumed at one time before serious effects could follow.

No case of fatal or even serious illness from this cause has been reported in this country, but the experts are continuing vigorously their efforts to have legislation for some time to educate American growers in the proper handling of arsenical sprays which are essential to the culture of the fruit.

STUDENTS ON 'STRIKE'

NEBRASKA UNIVERSITY CELEBRATES GRID VICTORY

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 27.—(By Associated Press).—There was no school today for University of Nebraska students. Jubilation over the defeat of Notre Dame yesterday demoralized all efforts of faculty members to hold classes, forcing a formal dismissal by Dean Carl Engberg in mid-morning.

Eight o'clock classes began in various buildings, but depleted rows of seats greeted most instructors. About nine o'clock several hundred gathered in the center of the campus and around the buildings shouting "There will be no school!"

Recruits joined the "strikers" rapidly and made the shout a reality.

Dean Engberg said tonight no formal action would be taken against ringleaders because no property damage was done. The demonstration lasted all day.

INCREASE IS PROTESTED

SOUTHERN PACIFIC OPPOSES ACTION OF COMMISSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—(By Associated Press.)—The Southern Pacific company has placed itself on record against the increase of butter, eggs and cheese freight rates ordered by the interstate commerce commission between Portland and California points and has obtained a postponement of the effective date of the increase. The company wants to overturn the increase altogether on the ground that it greatly disturbs its present rate structure.

The company was advised that the commission had postponed the effective date from December 28 until January 27. The company has asked for a hearing to show that the increase is not desired. The increase was ordered after an investigation by the commission on its own initiative. The commission held that railroads should not meet water rates for the long haul with a charge less than the freight tariff on an intermediate haul.

which still are unreconciled to the fact that the left bloc is dead. The radicals read the question of the financial policy in the new government; they wanted to know what measure it was proposed to substitute for the projects introduced by M. Painleve.

"I am the policy of the coming government," replied M. Briand. "Until my cabinet has met to decide upon its ministerial declarations I am the whole thing. And if any group is dissatisfied with the choice made by the president of the republic, let them go to Elysee palace."

This energetic attitude put a quick stop to the growing opposition. During the day M. Pain-leve was asked to resume the difficult task of unravelling the financial tangle, supposedly with the view of taking up his own projects as they stood before they were revised at the behest of the socialists.
