 TRUST HIM ALWAYS:—Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him. Psalm 37: 5.

BECAUSE WORK IS HONORED

"When I was asked in Paris the reason for my country's success, I replied: Because work is honored, and the principle of my country is work."

The above is a sentence from a speech delivered twenty-five years ago, Nov. 11, 1905, by General Horace Porter, former Ambassador to France, who was the guest at that time of the Union League Club, New York.

Yes, work is honored in the United States—
 And to respect honorable toil is of the very spirit of our country and its institutions; was so in the beginning, and has been so ever since. The very foundations of our Republic were laid by a company of weavers and spinners and common laborers, who came to the New World to worship God as they wished, and to put behind them the injustices of caste and class.

Work is honored, and we so frame our laws as to give work to all, to the last possible person capable of working—

To give work to our own people at living wages, as preferred in our care and regard above foreign laborers competing at less than living wages.

That is the spirit of good citizenship, of a patriotic selfishness—

For we can neither lift our own people to higher levels nor help other peoples to rise higher without building on such solid foundations—

And so work ought to be honored. It is good for us and for all the rest of the world.

QUOTATION FOR A BOY ARRIVING AT THE AGE OF COMPREHENSION

From one who signs herself "Hopeful Mother," comes a letter:

"I have a boy who is just reaching what you might call the Age of Comprehension. I'm going to give him a copy-book for Christmas and encourage him to keep in it the thoughts, quotations, etc., that impress him. I'd like for you to suggest something for me to write upon the first page."

One particular object-lesson of some sort—a book, a play, a living example—will perhaps modify and color our whole lives.

Hereward Carrington, the scientist, says that his whole life has been influenced by a quotation from William James which he read when about 19 years of age.

This quotation is offered to "Hopeful Mother" as a good one with which to start her son's copy-book:

"Let no youth have any anxiety about the upshot of his education, whatever the line of it may be.

"If he keep faithfully busy each hour of the working day, he may safely leave the final result to itself.

"He can with perfect certainty count on waking up some fine morning, to find himself one of the competent ones of his generation, in whatever pursuit he may have singled out for himself.

"Silently, between all of the details of his business, the POWER OF JUDGING in that class of matter will have built itself up within him as a possession that will never pass away.

"Young people should know this in advance. The ignorance of it has probably engendered more discouragement and faint-heartedness in youths embarking on arduous careers than all other causes put together."

According to the habits we form—lazy or industrious, bad or good—our life, success and destiny depend.

"We sow our thoughts, and we reap our actions;

"We sow our actions and we reap our habits;

"We sow our habits and we reap our characters;

"We sow our characters and we reap our destiny."

Another good insert for that copy-book. In dictionaries of familiar quotations you will find this idea credited to no less than four men; but countless others have expressed it, each in the belief that it was original.

GOOD SHOWS BEST INVESTMENT

That there is improvement in the class of shows put on for the public is current statement. And that there is room for still greater improvement is the rejoinder.

For a time partial nakedness and revolting language were altogether too common in stage and movie performances. The slightest reaction is noticeable and appreciated by the class of people who stabilize the theatre and movie by patronizing the worthier class of performances. There are certainties of success for those who will encourage and offer entertainment which, instead of making the patron sigh for fumigation of mind and memory as he leaves the performance, will furnish him with memories of performances replete with lessons of life's errors and successes depicted in wholesome inspiring ways.

Salem is fortunate in the number of high-grade dramatic performances offered. And the more of this class of entertainment given the better they will be patronized. It's a matter of education after all.

QUALITY PRODUCTS

The producer who would succeed must grow high quality products, and he must also grade for market sales. The quality basis is rapidly becoming the selling basis; and it is the just basis.

Buyers are demanding more and more products that are graded up to standard and consumers are also demanding the same qualities from the dealers.

And it is only fair that products be paid for according to their quality and market prices. Mixing grades means prices below those for first quality goods. Generally the producer is the loser.

The grower who produces up to quality products should and will in the future obtain the better prices whether sold to the dealer or the consumer. And more products will be purchased when the consumer is assured of the quality of his purchases.

Quality and graded products will help greatly to solve the marketing problem.

FIRST CHRISTMAS SEAL

Signaling the opening of the Christmas Seal Sale, City Carrier Prince, hands the first letter to Master Earl Kennell, Jr., aged 4. Mrs. Kennell stands beside her son, in the center of the picture.

This opens the 1925 Christmas campaign, which has always commanded whole-hearted local support.

Last year 1,250,000,000 seals were printed for the National Tuberculosis Association and their sale brought approximately $4,500,000 into the coffers of the 1500 organizations affiliated with the national body.

Personal letters have been addressed to principals of all schools in the Salem territory urging the purchase of these little seals, in come from the sale having, through the years, helped to finance hundreds of local, state and national campaigns to secure hospitals, sanatoria, clinics and dispensaries.

SOCIETY

thophonic Victoria.

At the tea hour, with the arrangements carried out in delightful detail by Mrs. U. G. Shipley and her committee, Mrs. George H. Pearce and Mrs. Alice H. Dodd presided at the urns.

During the business meeting sixteen new members were voted to membership in the club. The group includes: Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. Earl Kennell, Mrs. Will Moore, Mrs. George Forge, Mr. Bertha Simmons, Mrs. William Mullen, Mrs. E. E. Sisson, Mrs. W. A. Marshall, Mrs. Olive B. Huston, Mrs. Fred Browning, Mrs. Alfred Berg, Miss Nadeen Smith, Mrs. D. H. Bauer, Mrs. George Lewis and Mrs. M. E. Brewer.

P. T. A. Meets
 The Lincoln-McKinley Parent-Teacher association met on Tuesday evening at the Lincoln school. The vice president, Dr. F. L. Utter, presided. The program opened with an orthophonic concert, through the courtesy of the H. L. Stiff company. At the business meeting various committee reports were heard. Gladys Medler and Pauline Hart played a delightful violin duet, accompanied at the piano by Lena Medler. W. A. Dellzell, secretary to Governor Pierce, spoke during the evening on "The Uplifting of Children and the Influence of Environment." Mrs. Mason Bishop sang a pleasing vocal solo, "I Love a Little Cottage." The next meeting of the association will be held on December 22 at the McKinley school.

Mrs. Darby Attends Lectures

Mrs. Bertha Junk Darby had the opportunity of attending the splendid lecture classes conducted by John M. Williams of New York city, an acknowledged authority in the musical field, during the past week, motoring down each day. Mrs. Darby was accompanied on Thursday by her mother, Mrs. W. P. Junk. Miss Elma Weller also availed herself of the opportunity to hear Mr. Williams' lectures.

W. C. T. U. on Tuesday

The regular business meeting of the WCTU will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the hall. A large attendance is urged on account of the importance of the business to come up.

Christmas Seal Sale

A large committee of members from the Salem Woman's club are completing arrangements for a successful sale of Christmas seals this season, through booths stationed at different parts of the city. The proceeds go directly to assist in the fight against tuberculosis and to carry on the health work for which Dr. Walter H. Brown and his staff are laying the foundation. The seals cost one cent each and their use is a splendid expression of the Christmas spirit.

The project is carried out under the auspices of the Marion County Health association, which has the following corps of officers: Mrs. J. A. Carson, president and county chairman; Mrs. C. W. Keene of Silverton, first vice president; Mrs. H. Overton of Woodburn, second vice president; Miss Elizabeth Putnam of Salem, secretary.

In Salem the mail and booth sales are handled by the Salem Woman's club, through the public health department of which Mrs. F. A. Elliott is chairman. Mrs. Elliott and her assistants have appointed Mrs. John E. Brophy to take charge of the booth sales of the seals at the postoffice and at various places of business.

The following have been named to assist in the mail sales: Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. John E. Brophy, Mrs. P. D. Quisenberry, Mrs. W. J. Page, Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding, Mrs. W. M. Busick, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. Erwin F. Smith, Mrs. Ralph Cooley, Mrs. G. R. Bonell, Mrs. A. L. Wallace, Mrs. H. M. Chadwick, Mrs. P. A. Eiker, Mrs. Earle Daue, Mrs. Ed Hartley, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. Rhea Luper, Mrs. Otto J. Wilson, Mrs. Alice B. Fisher, Mrs. W. H. Byrd, and Mrs. Lester F. Barr.

Miss Swartz at Jefferson

Miss Miriam Swartz of Portland spent Thanksgiving at the farm near Jefferson. Miss Swartz, who has many Salem friends, is employed by the Hibernian bank in Portland.

Guests for Thanksgiving

Mrs. George J. Pearce entertained as her house guests for the Thanksgiving holidays Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Green of Seattle and Mrs. T. G. Hopkins of Albany.

Dinner at Slade Home

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Slade entertained with a delightfully appointed Thanksgiving dinner at 5 o'clock Thursday. Bronze chrysanthemums were used on the table where covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Miss Helen Roberts, Miss Mildred Roberts, Mrs. Gertrude Cameron and sons Billy and Malcolm, W. R. Slade, Colin Slade, Fred Slade, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Slade.

Wedding at Tre Dalles

News has been received in Salem of the marriage of Mrs. Martha J. Lewellen to Mr. J. R. Payne of The Dalles on Thanksgiving day. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's daughter, with Rev. C. A. Edwards officiating. After November 30 Mr. and Mrs. Payne will be at home in Lyons, where Mr. Payne is principal of the Lyons high school.

Writers' Club

Mrs. Blanche M. Jones will be hostess on Tuesday evening for members of the Writers' section of the Salem Arts' league at her home, 606 South Winter street.

Dodd-Weller Wedding

A wedding of interest to a large circle of friends took place at 10:30 o'clock Thanksgiving morning when Miss Irene Fern Dodd became the wife of Mr. Edward N. Weller. The bride is the daughter of an old and highly respected pioneer family of Polk county while the Weller family has been very prominent in Salem for many years.

Rev. A. H. Dodd, father of the bride, performed the ceremony at the Dodd home. Mrs. Weller was attractive in her traveling suit of ashes of roses crepe back satin. After a several months' sojourn at points of interest along the coast Mr. and Mrs. Weller will return to Salem to make their home at 165 North Seventeenth street.

Guests at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bibby and their three little sons, and Miss Edna Garfield, were Thanksgiving day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Anderson of Salem Heights.

Mrs. Wetjen Recovering

The friends of Mrs. Albert Richard Wetjen are happy to know of her recovery from a recent severe illness of several weeks' duration.

Bride-Elect Honored

Miss Daphne Evans, whose engagement to Mr. J. Orlo Hayes of San Jose has been announced, was the honor guest at a surprise shower given by her sister, Mrs. Lorence Kleinke on Wednesday evening. Those assisting the hostess in serving the refreshments were Mrs. Clifton Hugh Evans, Miss Hazel Todhunter and Miss Lila Kleinke. Guests invited were Miss Nan Putnam, Miss Caroline Hurst, Miss Marie Pratt, Mrs. Charles Bruce Montague, Miss Alice Velke, Miss Minnie Downing, Miss Grace Elisabeth Smith, Mrs. Miles McKee, Miss Grace Sullivan, Mrs. Clifton Hughes Evans, Miss Lila Kleinke, Miss Hazel Todhunter. Portland guests were Miss Margaret Livesley and Miss Clara Maurischat.

Mrs. Whittig Is Hostess

Mrs. J. T. Whittig entertained on Thursday evening with an eight-cover Thanksgiving dinner. The table was lovely with its centerpiece of pink chrysanthemums. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. E. Hartley, Miss Kathryn Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Taylor of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Downing, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Whittig.

Miss White Returns To School

Miss Henrietta White, daughter of Brigadier General and Mrs. George A. White, will return to Corvallis today where she is a student at the Oregon Agricultural college, after spending the Thanksgiving vacation at her home.

Guests at Crouse Home

Mrs. D. M. Crouse entertained at one of the most delightful of the season's Thanksgiving dinners on Thursday at her home. Her guests included Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Ruedrich and daughter, Margaret Louise, of Vancouver, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cornoyer and daughter, Josephine, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Simpson and son, Walter, Mr. George Stahl of Portland, and the hostess, Mrs. D. M. Crouse.

Yomarco Club Entertained

The Yomarco club of the First Methodist church was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Ronald C. Glover, 633 North Commercial street, on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The afternoon, which was spent with sewing, was interspersed with readings selected by Mrs. Glover. The business session which followed was presided over by Mrs. Walter B. Minier, president of the club. The club members were sorry to hear the announcement during the afternoon that Mrs. B. E. Sisson and Mrs. Roy Melson have been seriously ill. Pleasure was expressed, however, that they are slowly improving. The club wrote a note to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Manela, who left last week to make their home in Milton, Or., which was signed by every member of the club present. The Manelas are making the change in residence with the hope that Mr. Manela's health will be benefited. The club has decided to omit the afternoon meetings until after the first of the year. The next meeting—in January—will be held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Foley. The next evening meeting will be held on December 15 at the home of Prof. and Mrs. T. S. Roberts.

Twenty members of the club were present for the afternoon. Refreshments were served following the business session and social time. The table was centered with a bowl of fall fruits while red candles were used in crystal sticks. The lights were shaded in red. A suggestion of the Thanksgiving season was carried out in the refreshments served.

Those present were Mesdames. Minier, Beard, Barton, Hawley, Abrams, Boesch, Dillen, Zimmerman, Day, Pennington, Stewert, Roblin, Foley, Mosher, Hollenberg, Swafford, Millard, Lindbeck, the hostess' mother, Mrs. W. H. Byars, and the hostess, Mrs. Ronald C. Glover.

Basket Social at Highland

A basket social will be held at the Highland school on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The affair is being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association.

Plan No. 419 COZY COTTAGE MAKES APPEAL TO BUILDERS

ECONOMY in construction and in the use of floor space offered in the accompanying design appeals strongly to the home builders and thousands of dwellings of this type have been erected during the past three years by families of moderate means in Portland's suburban districts.

The scenic environment of the city's residential sections, with a wealth of foliage, flowering plants and green lawns, softens the severity of the design and brings into full play the homelike qualities of the cottage type.

Two good sized chambers with closets and windows affording cross ventilation are conveniently arranged with reference to the living room and kitchen. The location of the bathroom with doors connecting the two bedrooms such restrictions do not apply. The living room is of ample size little room and large enough for city limits, but in the suburban for a small family and the kitchen all ordinary requirements. An indistinct outside the city, where as well arranged for convenient closed back porch offers space for this kind of a house is popular, housekeeping. The breakfast nook ice chest and cupboards.

Two sets of blue prints and specifications for the above house or other houses will be supplied at nominal cost upon application to
