Bligh—An all star cast in "The Happy Warrior."

Hellig—Conrad Nagel in "Sun-Up."
POWERFUL DRAMA IS NOW IN SALEM

"Sun-Up," a Story of the Hill-Folk of Tennessee, Stars Conrad Nagel

Conrad Nagel, who plays the important role of Rufe, the uncouth, primitive youth of the Tennessee mountains in "Sun-Up," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen version of Lulu Vollmer's famous stage success playing at the Hellig theatre today, (Tuesday) and Wednesday, and directed by Edmund Goulding, assumes one of the most difficult roles of his career in this production.

Long-known for his immaculate appearance, he breaks away from the suave man of the world type in this role. Though conservative in dress and appearance, Mr. Nagel is always the perfectly groomed, cultured person both on and off the screen, and is known for his fastidiousness in dress. His fine, sensitive face is reflected in the refined, tasteful choice of his clothes, and not only is he known as the perfectly groomed, immaculately dressed, fastidious person by the great army of film fans who are his admirers but in private life, he has the reputation of being the perfectly groomed dresser.

In "Sun-Up," however, for the first time in his screen career he wears the rags and tatters of the unkempt mountaineer. In the ragged clothes and uncouth appearance of Rufe, Mr. Nagel proves beyond question that he is one of the screen's finest and most versatile actors.

The cast beside Mr. Nagel, includes Lucille La Verne, Pauline Starke, Sam DeGrasse, George K. Arthur, Arthur Rankin, Edward Connelly and Bainard Beckwith.

MUSICAL COMEDY COMING TO BLIGH

Rebooking of King's Comedians Secured by Management of Bligh

The Bligh theatre is ever on the alert for the best entertainment possible and by special arrangement has booked King's Comedians and Revue for Thursday and Friday, December 3rd and 4th.

This company has been playing all the principal cities from Southern California to northern Washington and comes highly commended by public and press.

The opening bill will be a big farce comedy, "A Night Out," and is said to be one of the best comedies ever written. Aside from this many specialties and novelty numbers will be introduced with vaudeville acts by the special King harmony trio.

The company has in its cast comedians who sing and dance, a dashing young juvenile with a silver-toned voice, a petite soubrette, clever ingenue and a prima donna who never fails to win her audience with classic and popular ballads.

A full line of beautiful show girls in new and gorgeous gowns are a feature with the show.

Judging from reports this will be one of the best shows that has visited this city in many months and a capacity house is anticipated.

STRONG DRAMA HERE

Bits For Breakfast

Going to be great—

The mint industry in the Salem district. Slogan pages on Thursday will have a mint of information about the industry. If you can help, please do so, today or tomorrow.

The express company, beginning on the 5th, will allow the shipment of dried prunes, nuts and apples, all in one package, at the lowest rate. This very low cost ought to send a lot of these fruits and our walnuts and filberts to distant friends during the holiday time.

Some one ought to make a specialty of putting up packages for this special purpose. There is a great opportunity for advertising here.

Commercial Street barber says when money talks we never criticize the grammar.

He also insists that being hard-baked is better than being half-baked.

This is the last month in the year. In the language of a Willamette freshe, "Oh, how tempus domes fugit!"

There will be no mail deliveries on Christmas. Absolutely none. Uncle Sam decrees that his mail forces shall enjoy Christmas.

A Salem spinster estimates that 87 per cent of the husbands who that are bossed, need it.

STANFIELD SCORES USE OF PUBLIC LAND FUNDS

from public lands, is given $30,000,000, and Pennsylvania, a state rich in natural resources, but giving the federal government nothing from public lands, is given $27,000,000.

The federal government has proposed the harvesting of the forests for perpetuity, he asserted, the cycle to cover a period of 50 years.

"But in that time, in 50 years, the federal government will have taken $325,000,000 from the state of Oregon. The time has come to raise a protest, or in a few years the state will lose millions of dollars to the government."

Referring to the fees collected for grazing on public lands, Senator Stanfield declared that they are in reality "taxes."

Last year the ranchers in this state paid $197,000 in fees for grazing. A movement is on foot to increase this amount 400 per cent. In order to put it on a commercial basis. If you hit the ranchers that hard, you will destroy their taxable worth. It is all right for the federal government to retain the administration of public lands, but the states in which they are contained should be given the benefits derived from them.

Due to "wet pavements, and a crowded highway," Senator Stanfield was somewhat late in arriving at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon, and before he came, T. M. Hicks, president of the Chamber, called upon I. L. Paterson, candidate for governor, George Belt and Coshow of the supreme court of Oregon, to speak briefly to the Chamber.

BISCUITS

Snowdrift is such a rich creamy shortening that it makes biscuits so good that the supply always runs low. It doesn't make any difference whether you use Snowdrift in your own biscuit recipe or in this one for Snowdrift Biscuits which Kate Brew Vaughn has given us.

- 2 Cups Flour (Sifted Before Measuring)
- 4 Teaspoons Baking Powder
- 1 Teaspoon Salt
- 1 Teaspoon Sugar
- 4 Tablespoons Snowdrift
- 3/4 Cup Milk

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Pinch in the shortening, not too thoroughly, and add the milk all at one time. Do not stir but rather cut and fold in the dough until smooth and elastic. Take out on a floured board and pat and roll to about one-fourth inch in thickness. Form with large biscuit cutter and place on an ungreased biscuit sheet. Bake in oven 450 degrees F. (hot) for about ten minutes. When baked these biscuits should be flat on top like English muffins and therefore, just before putting in oven press down with palm of hand.
