Christmas Tree Literature Distributed

The conservation department of the Salem Woman's club has recently completed the sending out of 5,000 copies of an interesting leaflet entitled "What About Christmas Trees?" which has been issued by the state board of forestry under the endorsement of the United States forest service.

The conservation department of the Salem Woman's club is made up of the following members: Mrs. F. A. Elliott, chairman; Mrs. B. E. Carrier, Mrs. John E. Brophy, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. W. E. Crews, Mrs. J. M. Clifford and Mrs. W. J. Willett.

The leaflet, in brief, does not discourage the favored yuletide custom of adorning a Christmas tree, but does heartily recommend that all such trees be selected according to forestry methods, in order that the result may be thinning, and not destruction.

Keizer Homecoming

The Keizer district celebrated the most successful homecoming in its history on Sunday, December 6, at the church. One hundred and ten were enrolled at the Sunday school session. Following the church service a basket dinner was served, with an entertaining program following. Both a girls' quartet and a boys' quartet, the first including Cora Gardner, Jewell Gardner, Lucille Cummings and Glandora Thompson; and the second, Truman Cummings, Gilbert Cummings, Willard Savage and Andrew Beardsley, gave numbers. Duets were given by Truman and Lucille Cummings and La Vaun and John Gardner. Mrs. Arthur Cummings and Everett Gardner gave readings.

The main feature of the afternoon was the fine address given by Prof. Robert M. Catke on the subject of "The Old Mission at Wheatland."

Cornstubs, pumpkins and Oregon grape decorated the church. A committee in charge of the arrangements for homecoming included Mrs. Arthur Beardsley, Arthur Cummings and Ernest Savage.

To insure a homecoming still more successful for next year a regular mailing list will be formulated and a larger number of pictures representing the Keizer district secured.

Box Social Postponed

Owing to the prevalence of contagious diseases, the box social which was announced for this evening at the Highland school has been postponed and, provided conditions have improved, will be an event of Tuesday evening, December 15.

Chemeketa Chapter Meets At Steeves Home

One of the most successful meetings of the year of Chemeketa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, took place on Saturday when the group met at the home of Mrs. B. L. Steeves for the December meeting. Assisting hostesses for the day included Mrs. J. P. Frizzell, Mrs. S. C. Dyer, Mrs. C. A. Holmstrom, Mrs. J. G. Heltzel and Mrs. Asa Fisher.

Practically the entire meeting was turned over to the Children of the American Revolution who were represented in a splendid manner by Mrs. James G. Walker, Jr. of Portland, state director of the organization. Mrs. Walker gave a resume of the work in Portland of Columbia chapter, the children's organization of which the senior president is Miss Margaret Moss, and the junior president Almore Newton.

A delightful program took place during the afternoon, including beautifully rendered piano numbers by Margaret Heltzel and Almore Newton, and a lovely Col-greetings from Multnomah chapter. Mrs. Harry D. Hurley of Seattle, vice regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution for the state of Washington, and Mrs. Alexander H. Workman of Multnomah chapter in Portland.

At the tea hour the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

The tea table was centered with bronze chrysanthemums, while tall yellow tapers burned in crystal holders. Mrs. Seymour Jones and Mrs. U. G. Shipley presided at the urns. Assisting in the serving were Margaret Heltzel, Annabelle Hawley, Jane Harbison and Grace Elizabeth Holman.

Bridge Club at Beach

Miss Alta Jones entertained the DUC club at one of the most delightful meetings of the year when she was hostess for members of the group at a two-day house party at Neskwim, the card club meeting on Wednesday. The summer home was lovely with appointments suggestive of the holiday season. Mrs. Lester Schlosberg won the high honor of the afternoon, while the consolation award went to Mrs. Eugene Eskerlin, Jr. Included in the group were Mrs. Victor McKenzie, Mrs. Ernest Skelley, Mrs. Eugene Eskerlin, Mrs. Lester Schlosberg, Mrs. Ray
