200 POUNDS OF DYNAMITE FOUND UNDER DISTILLERY
TACOMA, Dec. 10.—(By Associated Press)—Mined with 200 pounds of dynamite apparently to prevent seizure, an illicit whiskey making plant was raided by federal prohibition officers in the Bald Hills district of Thurston county today. The severing by the officers of a connecting wire leading from the point of setting off the charge to the buried explosives is believed by the raiders to have prevented the destruction of the plant before their arrival. The plant consisted of three buildings. One built below ground and housing a 300 gallon still and 3,000 gallons of mash and several gallons of completed article, while the two buildings above ground were used for blending and bottling purposes, the officers stated. Large quantities of creosote, ether, denatured alcohol and a "black and white" whiskey labels and tops were found by the officers. The creosote, ether and denatured alcohol were used, according to the officers, for blending purposes. d11

Historic Church of Hawaii to Be Made Safe by Repairs
HONOLULU.—Kawaihoo—the Westminister Abbey of Hawaii for the last 83 years and the first stronghold of the missionaries who came to the islands from New England more than a century ago—has been declared unsafe. Insidious white ants, wood borers, have invaded the floor beams, girders and columns, eating away the inside and causing danger that the structure might collapse. The building has been closed and will not be opened until steel and concrete are substituted. A reconstruction committee estimates that repairs may cost $100,000. The church was designed in 1836 by Hiram Bingham, one of the missionaries and forefather of Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut. The building was completed in 1842. It has been the scene of many incidents in Hawaiian history. Two men stood watching a steam shovel at work. With a clatter and a roar the shovel bit into a steep bank, closed on a cartload of earth and dumped it on a waiting flatcar. "It makes me wild," said the first onlooker, "to see that monster taking the bread out of good men's mouths. Look at H. Why, it's filling up those wagon's faster than a hundred men with picks and shovels could do it!" The other shook his head and answered: "See here, mister, if it would be better to employ a hundred men with picks and shovels on this job, wouldn't it be better still, by your way of thinking, to employ a thousand men with forks and tablespoons?" d11
