er can also play in this position if necessary.

Hartley, two-year center, and one of the largest point gamblers on the team last year, is still unable to report due to conflicting working hours.

Reports concerning Monmouth's team are hazy. It is said interest in the sport has picked up there, and a fast team has been developed. The Bearcats will not attempt to make a one-sided team score, but will devote their efforts to developing a playing combination. It is expected that every man on the squad will get a chance to show his wares.

Plans for a barnstorming trip through southern Oregon and northern California have been abandoned by Coach Rathbun, Willamette mentor. Sufficient guarantees could not be obtained.

Instead, the Bearcats will play several games in Portland and will probably invade Washington. The only game definitely scheduled is that with Multnomah club to be played December 26. The Coliseum club of Portland is also willing to play two games.

The athletic club at Washougal, Wash., want to take on the Bearcats. Three or four other games will be scheduled if possible.

BOY'S CHORUS WILL SING NEXT FRIDAY

First Appearance of the Season to Be Full Christmas Program

On next Friday evening, December 18, at 7:30 the Salem Boys' Chorus will give its first concert of the season at the First Methodist church. The program will be mainly in the nature of Christmas choruses, and will include quartets, duets, and instrumental selections, as well as a reading by one of the boys.

The boys chorus is about four years old now, and has been very successfully conducted by Dr. Epley. The concerts staged in the past have been well received by the public. Heretofore there has been a charge made for the concerts, but it is the purpose now to open all concerts in the future to the public without charge and receive an offering to defray expenses.

Dr. Epley and a number of others are very enthusiastic about community singing, and in connection with this concert a number of songs will be sung by the entire audience.

The program to be staged Friday night is as follows: "Great the Holy Morn," Salem Boys' Chorus; invocation, Rev. Fred C. Taylor; "The Glory of Christmas Morn," Salem Boys' Chorus; "The First Christmas Tree," Stanley King; "The Light of the World," Salem Boys' Chorus; vocal duet—"A Stranger Came to Bethlehem," Donald and Glen Woodry; piano solo—"The Hunting Song," (Mendelssohn), Arthur Boehsen; "The Old, Old Story," Salem Boys' Chorus; Harp solo, Robert Brown; vocal duet—"Hush, for Baby is Sleeping," Potter Brothers; "Lo, He is Here," Salem Boys' chorus; Boh, Little Town of Bethlehem; Boys' Quartette; "Silent Night," Salem Boys' Chorus; "Bells of Hope," Salem Boys' Chorus.

Following the program will be the community sing.

BEARCAT FIVE PLAY AT HOME TOMORROW

Opening Game With Normal School Will Show Speed of Local Boys

Salem fans will get their first chance to size up Willamette's basketball prospects for the coming season when the Bearcats meet the Normal school quintet on the home floor tomorrow night.

Turnout has been slow, hindered somewhat by the inter-class games. Now that these are over, it is expected varsity practice will be speeded up.

To date, no prospect has been found for center. Forward material is plentiful. Robertson and Fasnacht are both forwards and lettermen of two years' standing. Both are reported to be showing mid-season form. Besides, there are Flesher and Litchfield, forwards of last year's rook squad. Both are playing on the first to string. The only letterman at guard is Erickson, who has held that berth for three seasons. Scotty and Faber of last year's Freshmen are contenders for guard jobs. Robertson and Fles-
