Christmas Party at McGilchrist Home

The home of Mrs. William McGilchrist Sr., at 2500 South Commercial street was the scene of a particularly delightful Christmas party yesterday afternoon when members of Chapter G of the P. E. O. sisterhood met as the guests of Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Sr.

McCullough and Mrs. Frank Churchill were in charge of the program of the day. Mrs. McCullough told in a beautiful manner the story of the first Christmas, while Mrs. Churchill gave an appropriate account of the life of Mary. Mrs. Frank Churchill played Mrs. McGilchrist's accompaniment. Following the program the guests exchanged gifts taken from the boughs of the Christmas tree.

FORESTRY BOARD

LEAVES FOR BAY

Will Spend Saturday in Effort to Settle Slash Disposal Problem

Members of the state board of forestry, together with federal forestry officials, will spend today and Saturday in Coos county in an effort to reach some agreement relative to slash disposal.

F. A. Elliott, state forester, announced yesterday that the problem of slash disposal in the Port Orford cedar district was serious and required immediate attention.

"This was due, he said, to the desirability of white cedar for export purposes and the large price it demands in the markets. "Many operators go upon the land and log only the cedar," said Mr. Elliott, "leaving the remaining merchantable timber standing. The slash remaining from the cedar operations is a distinct menace to the remaining standing timber and cannot be burned broadcast without great financial loss. How to get rid of the menace and at the same time conserve the timber is the question that is before the forestry officials."

All members of the board will join in the inspection, it was said.

"Bossy" Refuses to Be Sold and Returns to Her Old Stall

COLD ASH, England—As does are known to have returned to their master after long spells of enforced absence, so did "Bossy," one of the best cows on any farm in this section, return to her old stall after being sold to a far-away neighbor.

Her owner drove "Bossy" to market and disposed of her to a farmer 12 miles away. The buyer took her home. But when milking time came next morning "Bossy" was back home in Cold Ash, a little tired from her long walk, but seemingly happy, in a bovine sort of way.

MORE FAME FOR OREGON

Oregon has long reached the pinnacle of fame—the majestic snow-capped Mt. Hood is known the world over. The grandeur of the Pacific highway has brought thousands of globe travelers to this state. The word lumber is synonymous with Oregon over the entire universe, and now the discovery of large copper and other ore deposits in the eastern part of the state bids well to let Oregon take the lead in industrial development of our country. But wait—that is not all. Down in a little ravine in Hubbard, Oregon, Marion county, flows a cool, sparkling spring that has been wasting millions of gallons of "life giving" water for countless years. It is true that before the white man drove the brave and noble red man into the Pacific that the Indian worshipped at this spring, and the hand of the medicine man worked its cunningness by this same water with miraculous results.
