

PICK SCOUT MANUAL FOR DESERT VISIT

Assistant English Professor at University Names Books He Wants

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Dec. 17.—(Special.)—"If I were cast away on a desert island and had a chance to select twelve volumes from a complete library," said Walter Snyder, assistant professor of English at the University of Oregon. "I would look at the situation from a practical standpoint. "First, I would select a Boy Scout Manual. This would contain much of the needed information, and practical knowledge on how to live in such a place. "Next, I would take a dictionary; it would be the nearest thing to a complete encyclopedia in one volume. One could get all sorts of ideas from it, and the illustrations in the volume would help a great deal in a place like a desert island.

"For the third book I would select a good book on botany. I might want to grow something on the island and would want to distinguish the poisonous plants from the non-poisonous. "A good book on birds would be my next choice. I could find a great deal of amusement in studying the little creatures, and this avocation would help to occupy a lot of my time. "Now, how many does that make?" "Four," said the reporter. "You have time to grab eight more before the ship sinks. How about a novel?" "No, I wouldn't have a novel.

I would prefer something I would read over several times and enjoy it at each reading. Oh, yes, I know what I would take, though," the professor smiled with satisfaction. "A bound volume of the Saturday Evening Post. The advertisements; they would remind me of the good old days in civilization, and I could get some good ideas from them. "A volume of Shakespeare would keep me busy for a while. "I would, of course, take the Bible. One can read the Bible over and over and still enjoy reading it again. "Wells' Outline of History" would be a good book to have. I never get tired of reading history. "The Oxford Book of English Verse would be one of my selections. In this I would get all the choice poetry of the world, and could spend a great deal of your time memorizing it. "I'm not much of a singer, but I would take a good song book along to amuse myself singing. Let's see now, I have two more books; well, I will have to hurry before the ship goes down I guess. A book of reproductions of wonderful paintings would be good to have. "I think for my last book, I would take a book on drawing. On a desert island a person would have all kinds of opportunity to practice sketching. "That list ought to keep me busy for awhile, but if I were going to be there all my life, I would try and salvage a few more volumes from the lost ship."

CLEVER NEWSPAPER RUN BY STUDENTS

Aurora School Publishes Mimeographed Paper Full of Local News

An interesting paper was given out yesterday from the county school superintendent's office, from Aurora.

This paper is a six-page mimeographed newspaper put out by the grade school at Aurora, Or., and is called the Student Body Exaggerator.

This mimeographed publication makes it possible for members to contribute articles where they cannot have a regular printed publication. Extracts from this paper follow:

"The Student Body Exaggerator, printed and published by the pupils of the school, on or about the second Friday of each month. Editor, Dorothy Hurst; Manager, Lowell Gribble. Subscription rates: Semester, 15 cents; single copy, 5 cents. Advertising rates on application to the manager.

"Again we are with you in this Christmas special edition of the Exaggerator. We hope you will enjoy reading it as much as we have enjoyed printing it. "All the rooms at the school are brightly decorated for Christmas. Each room will have its own little program and tree this year, instead of one big program and tree in the assembly room. You will enjoy seeing the decorations and work at the school. Better try and visit with us before the holidays.

"Mrs. Fishelson visited in the several rooms one day last week. She gave the eighth grade several problems in arithmetic and appeared to be well pleased with the results. "We wish to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Sadler for the beautiful holly sent to the school for use in decorations.

"From all indications there will be a large number of competitors in the declamatory contest this year. The county contest is to be held the third week in January. "The sixth grade pupils are working hard on Oregon history these days. The new course of study requires that they take a test in this subject in January.

"Mr. Southwick received word that he has been chosen as a delegate to the state convention of the Oregon State Teachers' association for Marion county which meets in Portland December 29.

"Basketball seems to be the big sport at the Aurora school these days. The boys are practicing every week now and hope to chalk up some victories soon. Their new suits will be here in a few days. Then, if clothes make the man just watch them go. They will play practice games with the Aurora high school boys soon. Their first official game listed so far will be at Barlow.

"Mr. Southwick and Earl Jurgens attended a meeting at Oregon City last week where the following schedule of games was arranged for in Clackamas county: January 15—Aurora at Barlow; Canby at Willamette. January 22—Barlow at Canby; Willamette at Aurora. January 29—Aurora at Canby; Barlow at Willamette. February 5—Canby at Aurora; Willamette at Barlow. February 12—Aurora at Willamette; Canby at Barlow. February 19—Barlow at Aurora; Willamette at Canby.

"We also have two games listed with Woodburn to be played soon. "Some big improvements are under way at the school. City water is being installed. A telephone is promised. If a few improvements are added each year, soon we will have a school plant to be proud of. With city water it will be an easy matter to install a hot water tank and put coils in the furnace so that pupils may have hot water to wash in. Wash basins should be installed with the water system."

Japanese Railways Adopt American Coupling System

TOKYO.—In one day recently the majority of the 70,000 freight cars of the government railways of Japan, and many of the passenger coaches, were equipped with the modern type of American automatic coupler. All of the cars had been using a European coupler of the hook and line type. More than 150,000 of the American couplers, which are manufactured by a Chicago firm, were purchased and distributed throughout the various railway yards of Japan.
