Jolly Christmas Party
One of the jolliest Christmas parties of the entire holiday season took place last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Churchill on North Winter street. An elaborately ornamented Christmas tree, and Santa Claus as a visitor of the occasion, were special features of the evening.

Christmas Letter Received From Mrs. Hawley
Unusually appropriate to the Christmas season is the most recent letter from Mrs. W. C. Hawley written on December 17 in the national capital.

I've just returned from the post office a half dozen blocks away. Started on the road the last of two hundred Christmas cards.

Yesterday I lost a package—not of great value but these days every cent counts—hope some needy youngster found it.

Did I tell you that the noisy man upstairs had gone? Before we went home last spring I said my prayers that he would be gone when we returned and sure enough two quiet ladies have the apartment.

We attended the Diplomatic Reception at the White House last week. It is the most brilliant of the four receptions but this year three of the nations are in mourning because of the death of Queen Alexandra.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Angle Woodworth will entertain at their Christmas guests over the holiday week-end Mrs. Woodworth's mother, Mrs. Ella J. Clinton, and her sister, Miss Eleanor M. Clinton, both of Portland.
