

SILVERTON FIGHT, ALBANY REED-JONES GRAPPLE LOAD WEEK'S SPORT GUN

LOCAL BOYS LISTED IN SQUARED PARTY

Danny Garth and Art Bibbey to Meet in Feature Wednesday Night

Danny Garth, 162-pound slugger of Silvertown will be pitted against Art Bibbey, Astoria fist expert of the same weight, in the 10-round main event of the smoker to be staged at Silvertown this coming Wednesday evening. The smoker is scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Garth is well known in Salem, having fought several times in local smokers. Lately, it is said, he has been training, and is in excellent condition for his match with Bibbey. Bibbey is said to be a knock-out artist, although outside of this, little is known of him in this vicinity.

Tommy Murphy of Salem will star in the semi-windup, clashing with Frankie Paragon of Astoria. Murphy used to fight regularly at the Salem armory. Local Matchmaker Harry Plant announced that Murphy will again make his appearance in Salem in the near future. The semi-windup will go six rounds.

A special four-round affair has been arranged, with Kid Bye of Silvertown and Tommy Moore of Astoria showing their stuff.

Ezlem's Young Foley will get a chance at "One Round" Schuley of Silvertown in the preliminary four-round go.

Shadow Gretz, who sustained a broken hand while boxing in a special match at the last smoker staged at the Salem armory, will be in shape to fight again in about three weeks, according to Harry Plant.

JONES RECHALLENGE FINDS ROBIN READY

Intermountain Title at Stake When Athletes Meet New Years Night

Heen Jones, contender for the welterweight Intermountain title is to meet Robin Reed, the flashy Aggie wrestling mentor in a two-hour go at Albany January 1, 1926. Already Jones and Reed have held two matches with the first one going to Reed and the second one a decided draw. In the first match Reed gained the welterweight title.

That the New Year's Day match is to be no trifling affair is shown by the determination of the Utah man to regain his belt. He declares that he will take it home with him.

Such was his promise in the last match, but he was unable to wrest a victory from Reed. Jones has had the Intermountain welterweight title for twelve years and during that time has had only five defeats to his credit. The fifth one was given him by Reed, who thus gained the welterweight title from Jones.

Reed is in better trim than he has been for some time and seems to be able to wrestle smoother than he has in the past few weeks. Steady road work has developed his wind and endurance to a point that places him equal with Jones. With both men in good condition plenty of speed is to be shown the fans in their New Year's meet.

The Jones-Reed match at Albany recently was one of the best welterweight struggles that has ever taken place in Oregon. Bucketfuls of wrestling was served up to the fans who were enthusiastic in their approval. Plenty of action and speed was shown on the mat, as evidenced by the exhausted condition of the two wrestlers at the end of the two hour period. When the bell sounded Jones fell to the mat completely exhausted and smelling salts and restoratives were used to bring him out. Fifteen minutes of such methods caused him to open his eyes and ask, "Did he beat me?"

During the last three minutes of match neither Reed nor Jones were able to hold the other in the various positions that they would gain.

With two such equally matched men, both trained to a point of physical perfection and both determined to secure the coveted Intermountain and Pacific welterweight title, fans are promised one of the best wrestling classics that will ever be presented in Oregon.

Promoter Matheny, who secured Reed's answer to the Jones challenge is preparing for a big crowd in the Moose hall at Albany.

WEST WINS IN HARD FOUGHT GRID BATTLE

Eastern All-Star Football Team Is Defeated by Coast; Score 6 to 0

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—The West subdued the East here today when an all-star football aggregation selected from the sunset side of the Rocky Mountains defeated a similar squad picked from the sunrise of the great divide, in a game arranged for the benefit of the hospital for crippled children conducted by the Shriners. The score was 6-0. The west's only touchdown came in the third period on a forward pass Imlay to Muller, for a gain of 29 yards.

With numerous all-American selections of former years in the two lineups, the play was brilliant except for several fumbling spasms resulting from insufficient practice. Wyckoff, dashing full-back of Georgia Tech starred for the east. One of his punts traveled a distance of 76 yards from his punting position.

The play for most of the game was in the east's territory but several times, as the result of the wide open, basketball-like character of the contest, the east threatened to score but always fell just short of crossing the west goal line.

A capacity crowd of 20,000 persons witnessed the game, which was played at Ewing field.

Hurt in Auto Wreck—Marion Allsman, 19, of the Keizer district, had the muscle in his right arm, near the shoulder, completely severed in an auto accident on the Wallace road last night when the car he was driving hit a telephone pole after he had misjudged the distance of a corner, due to the fog. He was taken to the Salem hospital by the Golden ambulance. Two other youths accompanying Allsman escaped unhurt.

FOOTBALL LETTERS AWARDED PLAYERS

Nineteen Men Given Insignia at Silvertown High School Assembly

SILVERTOWN, Ore., Dec. 26.—(Special.)—At the big Christmas Assembly Wednesday afternoon at the Silvertown high school 19 letters were awarded to football men of the high school. Those receiving the letters were Paul Blazer, D. Blazer, Clayton Benson, R. Brady, Timothy Lamb, J. Linn, C. DeGuire, E. Hardy, L. Warren, J. Welch, Norman Eastman, Francis Woods, W. Butler, H. Putman, L. Rine, H. Oddie, B. Gikerson, J. Stranyx, and H. Clark.

Prices were also awarded to those taking part in the Armistice day parade. The Orangemen won first prize, with second going to the Pop club, and third to the Science club.

Numbers on the program included songs by the boys' and girls' glee clubs, talks by R. Goetz, superintendent of Silvertown schools, and Ronald Hubbs, a student at the University of Oregon, and the distribution of presents with Lowell Brown acting as Santa Claus.

CHALLENGE IS SEEN IN BORAH'S SPEECH

(Continued from page 1.) cratic members of the committee submitted minority views on the court, urging the reservations which had been suggested by Secretary Hughes.

President Cobden in his messages to congress has urged adoption of the resolution of adherence, and his last message specified not only the original four-fifths reservations but another declaring the United States not bound by advisory opinions of the court.

To several observers, the most menacing feature of the situation is that Senator Borah is captaining the fight on the World Court. He is chairman of the foreign relations committee, as was Lodge in the League of Nations and peace treaty struggle, and Borah has with him most of the surviving "bitter-enders" of that conflict, among them Moses of New Hampshire, Hiram Johnson of California, and Reed of Missouri.

The anomaly of the Republican head of the senate's foreign relations committee desperately opposing the Republican president, who is charged with the conduct of those relations, is a never-ending source of wonderment in other countries, but is easy to understand among those who have noted the restiveness of Borah with the policies of the administration.

Some there are who say Borah has deliberately chosen the World Court as his vehicle of challenge to a regime almost every phase of which is against his theory of government. He might have taken the principle of the Kayrolji case, or the Mellon tax plan, or the retention of the seized German property, or any one of half a dozen things on which he is at variance with the president, but he regards the World Court as having a wider appeal and as an issue on which the public can be educated to his viewpoint.

HI-Y TEAM OPENS OLDER BOYS GAMES

Lop Sided Score Breaks Ice in Tournament to Last Till Saturday

HI-Y team received the first round of the Older Boys tournament being held at the Salem YMCA gymnasium by defeating the Crooks yesterday afternoon 41 to 5.

For the first quarter it looked as though the game was going to be fiercely contested, the score being held down on both sides. But the HI-Y's gained momentum as the game progressed, and rapidly drew away from their adversaries.

Team work and short passing around the basket by the HI-Y hoopers were largely responsible for the one sided victory. The Crooks took several shots at their basket, but were unable to connect with it regularly.

Dwight Adams starred for the HI-Y's and was high point man of the game, being personally responsible for 16 points. Jim Darby showed up best for the Crooks.

Following is the lineup:
HI-Y— Position — Crooks
Marr ——— RF ——— White
D. Adams — LF ——— Darby
H. Adams — C ——— Garber
Goode ——— RG ——— Launer
Wood ——— LG ——— Allen
Referee, Bill East; timekeeper, Ed. Slegmund; scorekeeper, F. De Harport.

Two more games of the tournament will be played Monday evening.

In the first game the Night Juniors will meet the Webfooters. The game will start at 7 o'clock. In the second game the Athenians will meet the Oregon Journals. In the first game the Webfooters are considered favorites, having played together in several games this season while it will be the first real game for the night Juniors. The Crooks, losers in yesterday's contest, will have the chance to play in the consolation tournament. The final game of the tournament will be played Saturday night.

BIRD SHOOT WILL TAKE PLACE TODAY

Salem Rod and Gun Club Schedule Climax Event of Winter Season

A shoot will be held today by the members of the Salem Rod and Gun club at their grounds on the Turner road. It is thought this will be the final shoot of the year.

Prizes to be offered consist of capon and geese. There will be plenty of birds to go around, it is said. The shoot will start at 9 o'clock this morning and will continue until the birds are all gone. All those who find sport in shooting are invited to attend the event. Those participating will be divided into three classes, for good shots, fair shots, and inexperienced shots.
