

WEBFOOTERS WALK OFF WITH OLDER BOYS TITLE, DEFEAT HI-Y FIVE 14-13

Doctors Stop Match When Jones Throws Reed, Regaining Title Belt

CALL TOURNAMENT BEST EVER STAGED

Journals Win in Consolation Contest, Defeating the Night Juniors.

Webfooters won the Older Boys' tournament conducted at the Salem YMCA by defeating the Hi-Y boys 14-13 last night in the closest game played on the YMCA gymnasium floor this season. By winning the tournament, the Webfooters win the right to call themselves the best basketball team in the city within the age limit of 19 years.

The game was a fast as it was close. Superior defense work in the tight spots was largely responsible for the victory. At that, the Webfooters were five points behind in the last two minutes of play. Risking all in an attempt to keep their record clear and to hang up the championship of the tournament, the Webfooters forgot about their defense, forgot everything but the basket at the far end of the floor.

Down the floor they sped, showing wonderful weaving and pulling short passes all around their basket. Shots rained toward the quiet little hoop suspended some eight feet from the floor. Result, the Webfooters skipped out with the extra point just as the whistle from the side line announced that the game and the tournament were things of the past.

Simpson was the outstanding player for the Webfooters, and with his contribution of 8 points, was largely responsible for the victory. He was backed with excellent team work by his mates, Miller in particular.

Marr and the Adams brothers showed well for the Hi-Y's. Following the game the boys met down in the locker rooms, and with Bob Boardman, physical director of the YMCA, serving as sole audience, the game was played over again with a thoroughness and skill that would be a credit to any college game.

Oregon Journals won the consolation tournament by defeating the Night Juniors, 27 to 10. The Journals showed good team work, and ability to connect with the hoop. The Night Juniors showed lack of experience, but fought till the last whistle.

Siegmund was high point man of the game, shooting baskets for a total of 22 points. Crane was the outstanding man for the Night Juniors.

Lineup for the finals of the big tournament follow:

Hi-Y	Webfooters

In the second semi-finals the Oregon Journals took the game without the slightest exertion. Their opponents, the Creeks, volunteered to take the defeat by falling to appear for the contest.

Paul Actor's volley ball boys defeated Dr. Barriek's team three games out of five. It looked as though victory was to go to the Barriek men when they took the first two games. But pulling the trite stunt introduced by the Pittsburgh Pirates in the last world series, the Actor aggregation sat tight, or rather hit tight, and plucked the next three games.

"This tournament," declared Bob Boardman, physical director,

"has been the most successful the YMCA has staged for a long time. We are only sorry we were not in the new building so we could have had larger crowds. As it was, we couldn't have packed another boy into the gym for the games last night."

Today there will be a basketball tournament held for the Pioneer clubs of the city. Purpose of the tournament is to determine the best Pioneer basketball team in Salem.

On Friday, January 15, a rally off all Pioneer clubs in Marion county will be held at Methodist church of Salem. At that time a basketball tournament will be held for all the Pioneer clubs in the county. The purpose of picking the best Salem team today is to enter it in the county tournament.

FLYING MARE ENDS BOUNT AFTER FALL

Provo Grappler Refuses to Meet OAC Star Again for Three Months

After 51 minutes and 30 seconds of grueling work for both men, Henry Jones of Provo, Utah, last night at Albany defeated Robin Reed of Corvallis and regained possession of title of western welterweight champion.

An overflow crowd packed the Moos auditorium to its utmost capacity and voiced disappointment when Jones secured the first and what proved to be the final fall in a match scheduled for two hours.

Just when Jones was on the point of exhaustion he crushed Reed to the mat using the flying mare or airplane spin. So great was the violence of the fall that Reed was unconscious for seven minutes after being carried from

PHIL BAYES TAKES DECISION IN BOUT

Match With Charlie Dundee at Roseburg Goes to Limit of Ten Rounds

Phil Bayes, scrappy little Salem fighter, won a decision from Charlie Dundee of San Francisco in a ten round match in Roseburg last night in what was said to be one of the fastest bouts ever put on in that city.

Bayes took the aggressive keeping Dundee on the offensive in practically every one of the ten rounds. Dundee was dropped once by Bayes although the local boxer was unable to follow up with a knockout.

Bayes weighed in at 127 pounds and Dundee at 155. Bayes will meet Ed Kelly in the armory here on Wednesday, January 6. Tommy Murphy will also be matched on the same card, according to Harry Plant, matchmaker.

DAVE SHADE WINS

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—(By Associated Press.)—Dave Shade of California scored a decisive victory over Roland Todd, English middleweight in a 16-round bout, the feature attraction on the New Year's card at Madison Square Garden tonight. Shade did everything but knock out his English opponent. He floored him for a count of two in the third round, but the Britisher remained vertical during the remainder of the fight despite Shade's tremendous punching power.

the ring. After Jones had granted 5 minutes in addition to the usual rest period between falls, physicians attending Reed refused to permit him to proceed with the match.

Jones, from the first minute of the bout, showed a ruthless determination to regain from Reed the title he had held for 14 years and lost to the Corvallis lad on last Thanksgiving day.

Action and lots of it marked the go. In the first ten minutes Jones tried body holds, specializing in leg splits and scissors, all of which were easily broken by Reed, who gradually assumed the aggressive.

With toe holds and modified hammerlocks Reed carried the work to Jones who, time after time, made lightning-like escapes from positions hard to solve.

At the last minutes Jones was staggering about, lurching in the ropes. Both men were on their feet and slipped into a position from which Jones developed his winning throw.

At the end of the match Jones announced that he would permit a return bout with Reed only after three months and with 145 pounds as the weight. Challengers of Jones are Reed, Johnny Morris of Oakland, Joe Manning of San Francisco, and Milton Harndon of Glendale, Wash. Reed had given Jones two chances to regain the title within two months' time.

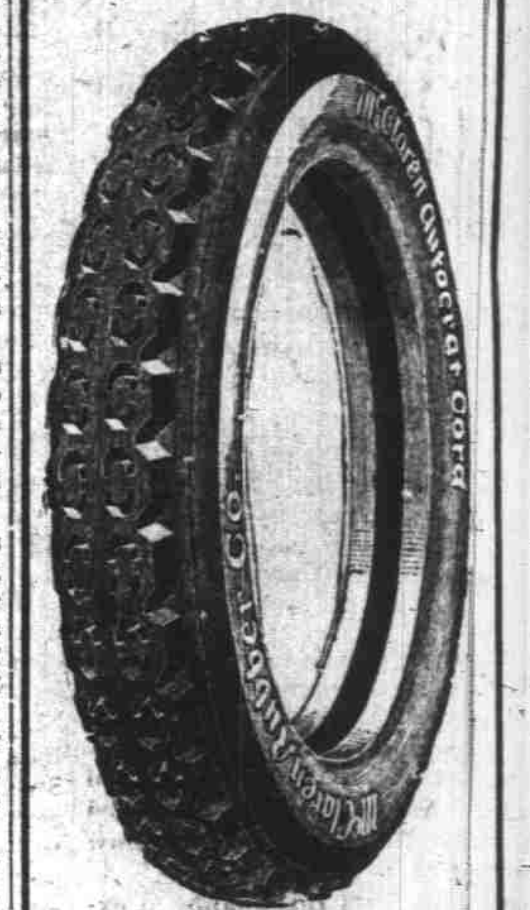

The main event was preceded by a very brief preliminary. Cal Herman of Salt Lake refereed both matches. At the onset of the Reed-Jones match the weights were announced as 146 pounds for Reed and 119 pounds for Jones, many spectators contending however that an actual official weigh-in would show that Jones was heavier than Reed by at least six pounds.
