BAYES KNOCKS OUT JACK NASH IN FIRST ROUND, EARLY FIGHTS CHEERED

BLOW TO TEMPLE ENDS MAIN BOUT

Preliminaries Worth Price of Admission, Contortionist Draws Hand

A short but terrific straight to the temple last night spelled ruin to Jack Nash who visited with Phil Bayes for two minutes of a scheduled ten round main event at the Armory.

Fighting at 130 and 126 pounds respectively Nash and Bayes spelled little of interest to a few fans who wanted a long and bloody session.

To the main portion of the attendance, however, the meeting with Nash proved that Bayes is in first class training condition and that he is able to cope with a heavier and more experienced man.

Nash defeated Kelly at Albany a year ago and at Astoria Monday night won the press decision over Jimmie Anderson in a hard fought ten rounds pronounced a draw by Anderson's fellow Astorians despite the fact that he was thrice knocked down by Nash.

The Manila Tiger, sturdy Filipino featherweight, was the known when he stepped into the ring with Tommy Murphy, of Salem at the Armory last night.

Although listed as the semi-final the Murphy-Tiger go was money's worth for those present.

When the islander faced out his lightning punches the Salem Irishman was in danger averted only by his cool head and a quiet generalship that won by odds.

One-round Shuley, lanky Silvertown featherweight, put on a good show when he met Stocky Foley, of Salem. After four rounds of scrapping, Foley received the decision of Referee Tom Lohmitt.

Bill Kendall, better known as Battling Bill, was again a decision loser to Art Mayer, both boys being from Salem.

Mayer was judged Kendall's superior in the many art but Kendall continued to make friends last night when he took punishment with a smile and refused to run away from a good thrashing.

Stan Stanton, Hincant entertainer, held the limelight just before the semi-windup and gave the fans full money's worth of a fair voluntary shower of coin to the canvas.

Stan is the skinny boy with the smile whose India rubber makeup enables him to extend his height.

and reach to from eight to ten inches beyond normal. After proving that he possesses an 11-inch chest expansion, Stan contorted himself into all the Lon Chaney shapes and a few extras. Then he took the curtain after freeing himself from the wrestling holds of six brawny men all clustered upon Stan at the same time.

Harry Hansen, of the Portland boxing commission was present last night and announced that by his latest victory Phil Bayes has won the right to reach for higher laurels.

"I am trying to get matches for Phil with any or all of the following: Bud Ridley, Los Angeles; Dan Edwards, Oakland; Tommie O'Brien, Portland," said Hansen. "These are all fast boys, especially the flashy negro, Edwards, but I am sure that Bayes can win from them as fast as they sign up."

BEARCATS DEFEAT DALLAS BY 44-21

Running and Change in Defensive System Marks Style of Local Play

Willamette university defeated the Dallas Athletic club hoopers at the Willamette gymnasium last night with a score of 44-21. The game was intermixed with a great amount of running with the ball.

Willamette asserted superior playing early in the game running up a six point lead before the Dallas boys could score. During the first period, while Dallas was running up only four point, the Bearcats were piling up 14.

In this first period there were many shots taken by each team. Time after time one team or the other would work down to the basket, and rain six or seven shots at the hoop in rapid succession, only to break away without scoring.

Willamette showed superior team work, and manifested the best defense. A new style of defense for Willamette was in evidence. Instead of the five man system used last year, individual checking was employed, and proved to be effective.

Willamette showed its old weakness, not being able to convert free throws. Although foul after foul was called on the Dallas boys, the Bearcats gleaned but four points on free throws.

Starting in with the second half, the Bearcats launched an offensive that netted over twenty points. Hartley and Fasnacht were largely responsible for the points gained on this spurt.

Not long after this the Willamette second team was brought into play. Roundtree proved to be the outstanding player of this squad, scoring five points in the brief time he was in. The Dallas hoopers launched a rally shortly before the end of the game; that brought them out of the teens and into the twenties before the final whistle blew.

Hartley and Fasnacht were the outstanding men for Willamette. Hartley was responsible for 14 points. Incidentally, he was high point man of the game. Fasnacht followed closely with 13 points. Erickson played a strong guard game breaking up more of the Dallas plays than any other man on the Willamette team.

Farley and Curtis starred for the Dallas team. Farley was high point man with 8 points. High leaps into the air were featured by Curtis, who nabbed the ball from the Bearcats when apparently not a Dallas man was in sight. Curtis, however, who had been playing a strenuous game, and covering a lot of territory, was forced out of the game with an injured knee near the end of the final half.

Following is the lineup: Willamette—Dallas FasnachtPF Farley RobertsonLF Hamilton HartleyC Craven FlesherRG Williams EricksonLG Curtis Substitutes: Willamette: Litchfield (4), Roundtree (5), Scott, Blatchford, Baker and Hayes; Dallas: Ward (2), Referee, Pug Ross of Salem.

'Y' LEADERS FACE PRATUM THURSDAY

Night Juniors to Meet Training School Team in Game on Friday

YMCA Leaders are slated to meet the Pratum Sunday school hoopers on the floor of the Salem YMCA gymnasium Thursday night. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock. Pratum is reputed to have a strong team this season, but even so, the local boys are favorites in the game.

Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, the YMCA Night Juniors will play the Oregon State Training school team. The contest is scheduled to be played at the gymnasium of the training school. Night Juniors are said to have the edge on the training school boys.

The crack volley ball team of the Salem YMCA will hold a series of games with the Mills City team in February, according to announcement made yesterday by Bob Boardman, physical director of the local YMCA.

The series was first scheduled to be played in January, but the Mills City team found it impossible to play during this month. In the meantime, the local volley ball experts are in training. The six best players to show up between now and the time of the series will be the ones to represent Salem.

The Indian school gets the largest appropriation in its history.

Gets a new $70,000 kitchen and dining room, $30,000 for general repairs, and $10,000 for industrial equipment. And provision for 200 pupils, which means over 1000 here, with the help of farm products and economies.

The fine new cottage at the institution for the feeble minded is appropriately named the Kay cottage. Tom Kay deserves the honor.

Take it or leave it—buy the water system or decide that Salem does not want to own her water system. It is not fair to leave the matter up in the air.

It will soon be time to talk about who wants to grow flax this year. There will have to be a large acreage, in order to supply the first and second linen mills, and more threshing, ridding and scutching plants will have to be built.

Here will be a chance for a number of the valley towns to get busy and secure plants. And such a plant may grow into a full fledged linen mill, in time.

The penitentiary now gets its shoe thread from the Miles mill, which gets the fiber to make it from the penitentiary. Now the shoe making operations at the penitentiary should be extended to the making of all the shoes for all the state institutions. If not enough help is available at the penitentiary, some may be had at the others, like the asylum and the institution for the feeble minded.

SCOTT TO BE RETURNED POLICE CERTAIN THAT MAN RUSSELL SCOTT'S BROTHER

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—(By Associated Press.)—Confident that the man held at San Quentin prison as John Redding, is in reality Robert Scott, brother of Russell Scott, the authorities tonight were preparing to send a man to San Francisco tomorrow, to bring him back to Chicago to stand trial for the murder of Joseph Maurer, drug clerk in a holdup in 1924. Russell Scott, once sentenced to death for the murder, later was found insane and is now confined in the Chestnut asylum.

Detectives today hunted for persons to make affidavits that Robert Scott was in Chicago at the time Maurer was slain as is required before the governor can sign a fugitive extradition warrant.

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney said that Robert Scott who Russell Scott said had fired the shot which killed Maurer, would be tried for murder and that the death penalty would be asked as in the case of Russell. Scott is already under indictment.

SALEM, Jan. 5.—(By Associated Press.)—The University of Washington set a new enrollment record of 6,296 students for the winter quarter, beating the previous high record of 6,119 made last quarter when registration closed tonight.

INTERCITY SHOOT BOOKED BY CLUB

Eugene, Corvallis and Salem Sportsmen to Meet to Test Skill

Arrangements for a competitive shoot to be held by the Eugene, Corvallis and Salem gun clubs were made last night at a meeting of the Salem Rod and Gun club in the chamber of commerce rooms.

Each gun club is to select 10 men from its membership and these three teams of 10 men each will compete in three tournaments or shoots at the various cities. The winning club must win two out of the three shoots and will be given a handsome $50 trophy to be purchased by equal donations from each club.

It is believed that the first match will be held on January 17, although that date has not been decided on definitely. The duck season will not close until January 15 and the shoots will be postponed until after this date so as not to interfere with hunting trips.

It is thought that the first shoot will be held in either Corvallis or Eugene and either the second or third will be held in Salem.

Salem shooters made arrangements last night for the selection of men to compose the local team. A tryout shoot will be held here on Sunday, January 10 and also on the following Sunday, if possible. The tryout shoot will be open to everyone in the local club. One hundred targets will be shot by each man and his score will determine whether he is selected as a member of the team. The 10 high shooters will make the team. It is desired that all members participate in the tryouts in order that the best material in the organization may be selected. The names of the winners and scores made will be published as soon after the shoot as possible.

At last night's meeting the gun club also took up the matter of closing streams in this locality and a letter is to be sent to the state game commission in Portland recommending that anglers be barred from several streams for at least a year.

The club has received a letter from the state game commission, asking for suggestions with regard to fishing streams. On January 21 in the game commission office in the Plitcock block in Portland a meeting will be held at 1 o'clock at which time the matter of closing the streams will be definitely determined. At this meeting, the letter states, final recommendations will be heard. The matter of fish planting will also be taken up.

COAL SITUATION SAME

DEADLOCK STILL UNBROKEN IN ANTHRACITE STRIKE

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(By Associated Press.)—"Still deadlocked" apparently described the situation in the negotiations between anthracite miners and operators who are attempting to end the hard coal strike now in its fifth month.

Shortly before 7 o'clock tonight, after a session of nearly five hours, announcement was made that the joint conference of six miners and six operators had adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. With this announcement came the following message: "The conference met this afternoon and continued consideration of the possibility of reaching an agreement. The discussion was along the lines of previous sessions."

No amplification of this statement could be had from either side.
