CEREMONIAL

Sunday is my Festival of Beauty, of Loved Things, of Leisure, and of Worship. I reserve for it whatever I most enjoy—flowers, blue china at breakfast, books, important letters, special walks, colored candles at supper and waffles, pine incense and colored flames in my fire. O nSunday I would not do any work, nor say nor think nor do unworthy things. I may this day announce to the people whom I like the fact that I do like them.

—Abbie Graham: "Ceremonials of Common Days"

Film at Church Tonight

"Not One to Spare" is the title of the film which will show tonight at the First Congregational church in conjunction with Rev. Charles E. Ward's sermon topic, "Christ and the Child."

The press sheet furnished gives the following suggestion of the plot: "Picturized from the poem by Mrs. E. L. Beers, which, we are reminded was published in the fourth readers of the public schools about 25 years ago, under the title "Not One to Spare," the former copybook classic now asks "Which Shall It Be?"

Willis Marks, "happy in his humble poverty," with seven children and a disappointed farm up-state, is envied by David Torrence, "sad in his lonely luxury," in a home as big as the public library, with two stone lions keeping guard. Torrence writes his brother and offers to give him a house and lot and a lifelong allowance in exchange for one of the seven children to raise as his own.

Marks and Ethel Wales, both well cast, spend several reels trying to decide what to do, speak in poetic sub-titles, introduce some tearful scenes and try to choose between the children. And all the children in the cast are adorable.

There is a refreshing absence of villains, railroad wrecks or midnight cabarets in the picture, which contains a sincerely told story, interesting in its sympathetic simplicity and answers the question to everyone's satisfaction.

9 Reasons for World Leadership

WHEN labor-saving equipment is to be bought for great industrial plants, guess work, theory, or claims play no part. Facts and facts alone, determine the decision. Experts test before they buy.

In the purchase of a washer, who, indeed, could be better qualified to pass on the merits of the many fine washers offered, than the housewife, herself. She's the expert.

Naturally we turn to her with the Maytag Gyrafoam Washer. We ask her to compare the Maytag with any or all other washers before she buys. Further than that, we ask her to actually do the biggest, most soiled washing she can gather together, and we offer her a Maytag with which to do it.

Then there will be no question unanswered—no doubt in her mind about the washer her home must have. She'll find the Maytag twice as fast as others, and much more thorough and careful in its washing. The secret, of course, is the exclusive Gyrafoam principle.

We'll bring a Maytag right to your home. Buy as the expert buys. Test it—wash with it. The only obligation is the one you owe yourself. Phone without delay.

For homes without electricity the Maytag Gyrafoam is available with Multi-Motor attachment.*
