

Salem Team Tuned to Meet Corvallis Five in Hard Game on Friday

LOCALS WILL PLAY OAC ROOKS LATER

Fast Work Will Offset Drag of Facing Players on Foreign Floor

According to all that is proper in the realm of dope, Salem high school is scheduled for one of her hardest fights of the present basketball season when she meets Corvallis high school Friday evening. Corvallis has the first advantage in having the game on her home floor.

Coach Huntington's men, although they are anticipating a hard struggle, are nevertheless pointing for the victory. Corvallis is considered one of the strongest contenders for the right to represent this section in the state basketball tournament to be held at Willamette university's gymnasium March 11, 12 and 13.

Salem, if she can defeat the Corvallis lads Friday, will be one step farther in her march to the state tournament.

Corvallis started off its season on the right track by defeating the fast Albany five 20-14. Miller is reported to be playing a strong game for Corvallis. In the Albany game he made 12 points. He is a star at that.

Salem students will probably hold a pep assembly this afternoon to give the boys a fitting send-off. A large host of Salem high school rooters will accompany the team to Corvallis to support it during the game.

Stratmeyer was held again yesterday afternoon. Coach Huntington is still stressing passing and getting the ball down the floor so shots can be taken from under the baskets. Long shots are frowned on as being too uncertain to be of much use.

Salem's lineup to start against Corvallis will probably include Duffy and Nash at forwards; J. Drager at center, and R. Drager and Olinger at guards. Lyons, Adams and Blaco will be taken along for reserves.

The Salem men will stay in Corvallis over night and will meet the OAC rooks Saturday afternoon.

Tillamook Bay shipped 14,000, 800 feet of lumber during 1925.

ALBANY HIGH BALL STAR TO GO PRO

Davey Stritemater, Strong in Salem Game, Gets Coast League Offer

Davey Stritemater, the cocky little mounder and outfielder on the Albany baseball team at the end of the season, who won the game from Salem at Salem in the first of the three game series, has mounted another notch on the ladder to baseball fame and renown.

A contract, legal and business-like in appearance, has arrived from none other than Nick Williams, chief scout for the best barked ball club in the Pacific coast league, which is at the top of the minor league heap. This means that Stritemater is to have a tryout at the spring training camp and will receive a salary of 300 washers per month. Albany Democrat-Herald.

Mike Yokel Defeats Al Karasick in Go

PORTLAND, Jan. 13.—Mike Yokel, light heavyweight wrestler of Salt Lake City took two out of three falls from Al Karasick, Oakland, Cal., here tonight. Yokel took the first and third falls, the first with a steppover toe-hold in 22 minutes, 30 seconds and the third in 25 minutes with a head chancery. Karasick pinned Yokel in the second fall with a reverse headlock in 16 minutes, 5 seconds. The championship belt when Karasick recently won from Ted Thye was at stake in the match.

PORTLAND, Jan. 13.—Victoria defeated the Portland hockey team 3 to 2 in a last minute rally here tonight when Frederickson sank a short relay from Halderston with 48 seconds left to play.

CARPENTIER AGAIN IN UNITED STATES

French Fighter Here to Look After Interests of Spanish Pugilist

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(By Associated Press.)—Georges Carpentier, "orchid man" of France, arrived today on another pugilistic mission to the United States, but this time it is not entirely on his own account.

"Fight?" he repeated. "Most assuredly, if the opportunity is good, but you should see this Paolino of Spain if you wish to see a fighter."

Carpentier thus epitomized the main purpose of his visit. Now 32—he celebrated his birthday yesterday—and admittedly past his flistic prime, the "Gorgeous One" is not particularly anxious for a strenuous program on his own account, though he considers himself in good trim and "would like, monsieur, a shot at Paul Berlenbach or Young Stribling."

But Paolino! That is another matter and Georges with an expressive gesture, mildly asserted the Spaniard is the "greatest heavyweight in the game today," ready now, to take on either Gene Tunney or Harry Wills, and anxious to prove his right for a match with Jack Dempsey.

Carpentier is here chiefly as advance man for Paolino, who is due in New York in February with his manager, Francois Descamps, and other boxers in the Descamps stable.

OBERLANDER MAY COACH. COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 13.—Andy "Swede" Oberlander, Dartmouth star backfield man and all-American selection this year, has been invited to become assistant football coach at Ohio State university. If Oberlander accepts he would come here next summer.

OREGON-MONTANA TO MEET TUESDAY

Shakeup Threatened Unless Squad Shows Well Against Pacific Five

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Ore., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Unless the Oregon basketballers show improvement against Pacific here Friday night, Coach Reinhart threatens a shakeup. Oregon defeated Multnomah in Portland Saturday night, 40 to 12, but the coach is not happy over the one-sided score, as the Webfooters were fagged out in the second half and scored only 13 points to 10 for the clubmen. Poor basket shooting by the Winged M, rather than good checking by Oregon, was responsible for Multnomah's low total, he thinks.

Oregon opens its coast conference season next Tuesday against Montana here. The Grizzlies are said to have a good team. Unlike last year, the Webfooters play their early games away from home, taking the trip north January 23 to play Washington, Montana, Idaho and Washington State in five days.

The Oregon-O. A. C. games have been changed so the first will be played in Corvallis February 13, instead of Eugene, and the second in Eugene February 20, instead of Corvallis.

The schedule has been cut to a minimum, the team playing no non-conference games once the season starts. This will help save the players for late-season competition. Reinhart thinks, attributing Oregon's loss of the championship last year to the fact that the players went stale from too much play.

No first team has been selected. Reinhart has been using most frequently the combination composed of Gunther and Hobson, forwards; Okerberg, center, and Westergren and Jost, guards. Hobson has been bothered all season by a leg injury, so may not be of much use. Murray, forward, and Edwards, and Kiminki, guards, have the best chance to break in as regulars.

TED BROWN ASKS FOR RETURN DATE

Decares He Will Meet Harry Jones, Champion, Any Time, Anywhere

Ted Brown, who Tuesday night had Harry Jones, inter-mountain title holder, worried with a series of headlocks which were solved only by a strenuous application of the airplane sling, declares, in a special statement to this paper, that he is ready to meet Jones anywhere, anytime.

Webfooters Defeat Dallas Second Five

In a fast game played as a preliminary to the Salem-Dallas contest Tuesday night, the Webfooters, Salem's champions in the 19-year-old class, defeated the Dallas second team, 15-14.

The game was neck and neck from start to finish. The Webfooters will again meet the Dallas second team in a preliminary game when Salem plays Dallas on the local high school floor on February 26 in a return game.

Lineup of the Webfooters-Dallas go follows:
Webfooters: Dallas
Miller.....RF.....Forliere
Simpson.....LF.....Gerlinger
De Harport.....C.....Garrett
J. Schaeffer.....RG.....Lefores
Keeney.....LG.....Campbell
Substitutes: Webfooters, C. Schaeffer, Dallas: Parsons, Byron, Hayes and Chapman.

Portland 1925 tourist traffic was 25.32 per cent over 1924, say travel experts.

UNIVERSITY TANK MEN BEGIN SPLASH

Ed Abercrombie, New Instructor, to Put Varsity and Frosh to Work

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—The University of Oregon varsity and freshmen swimming teams will start practice in earnest this week, under their new instructor, Ed Abercrombie, who has been chosen to succeed Rudolph Fall, resigned. To conform with the events as held in intercollegiate meets in the East, the plunge for distance has been dropped from competition.

Two changes have been made, one in starting and the other in the way of scoring in the diving events. In starting only two signals will be given in the future instead of three. In the diving the points scored by the performer will be announced at the conclusion of his attempts.

The list of events for competition will be as follows: 50-yard free style, 150-yard back-stroke, 220-yard free style, fancy diving, 100-yard medley, and 200-yard relay.

BEARCATS TO PLAY IN WALLA WALLA

Whitman Declared to Have One of Strongest Teams in Conference

Willamette university's basketball team will journey to Walla Walla to meet the Whitman university team Friday evening. The game will be the second conference meet for the Willamette team.

Whitman is considered to have one of the strongest teams in the Northwest conference. It is thought that if Willamette can win Friday night, she will have little difficulty in taking the championship of the conference. Whitman recently played Washington university hoopers, holding them to a difference in the score of only two points. It is said Whitman has three veterans in the lineup, and is as powerful as last year.

During the last few years Willamette has not fared well at the hands of Whitman. The Walla Walla school has been taking the wins regularly.

Coach Rathbun's Bearcats are not so poorly this year, themselves, and it is the secret ambition of each man on the team to turn the tables on Whitman. Four veterans are in the Willamette lineup, Fasnacht, Robertson, Hartley, and Erickson. Fleisher has been playing in the other position.

The Bearcats are in good shape after their game with Linfield. It is thought they will be in better condition for the Whitman game than at any time before in this season.

Pacific College Five Trims Oregon Normal

PACIFIC COLLEGE, Newberg, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—By a margin of a single point Pacific college defeated the Oregon State Normal basketball team in 5 minutes of overtime, the final score being 25-24.

SPEED TAX CUT BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—National democratic party leaders today sent word to minority members of the senate finance committee who have sponsored a substitute tax reduction program, urging them to facilitate early passage of the pending revenue bill even at the expense of success of their plan.

MAURUS WILL MEET HENRY JONES AGAIN

Bout Is Scheduled for Silverton on January 19, Prelim Booked

SILVERTON, Jan. 13.—Although defeated two weeks ago by Henry Jones at Albany, Johnny Maurus, California welterweight wrestler, will, on January 19, try to defeat Jones in a match here.

Jones, the Provo, Utah, grappler who has recently been worsting all comers, has only two serious contenders for his laurels. Maurus and Robin Reed, former welterweight champion, are the men he cares less to meet.

In the Albany match Maurus gave Jones the surprise of his life, throwing him flat within the first 15 seconds of the event. Jones' two falls were secured from Maurus only after 35 minutes of hard work.

There will be at least one fast preliminary on this card.

Slickers Victorious Over Deaf Basketeers

The Slickers, local basketball team made up of YMCA boys, defeated the second team of the deaf school last night in a fast game played on the deaf school gym floor. The score was 29 to 10.

Lineup for the Slickers included Marr and Byrd, forwards; Laughader, center, and Bachelor and Goode guards. Byrd was the outstanding player for the locals.

SCHWAB SEES PROSPERITY

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—(By Associated Press.)—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel company, tonight reiterated his forecast of continued prosperity voiced in Chicago last fall, but to it he coupled a stern warning of the paramount necessity of economy throughout the whole economic structure of the United States.
