

JANUARY PERMITS MAY PASS $100,000

36 Applications Made to Date, Representing $86,100 in Value

If the following months of this year keep January's record, Salem will average a great deal better than a home a day. Permits representing the construction of seven homes were issued from the office of the city recorder Wednesday, bringing the total to 36 homes already this month. And there are ten days yet to go.

These 36 homes represent a total outlay of $86,100. If the rate continues as steadily as it has so far this month, $100,000 will be totalled by the end of the month. This in comparison to some $60,000 for January, 1925, when permits were taken out for the erection of 24 homes.

Adam Engle took out two permits yesterday to construct homes at 1510 and 1520 North Seventeenth street. Each is to cost $2800. F. L. Gerspach was given a permit to erect a one-story dwelling at 2395 North Liberty at a cost of $500.

J. A. Mills took out a permit to construct three one-story dwellings at 433, 485 and 487 North Winter street. Each is to cost $1500. Mary McIntyre was issued a permit to erect a one-story residence at 515 South Nineteenth street, to cost $800.

GELLAGLY NAMED CLUB PRESIDENT

Jefferson Community Organization Starts Off With 26 Members

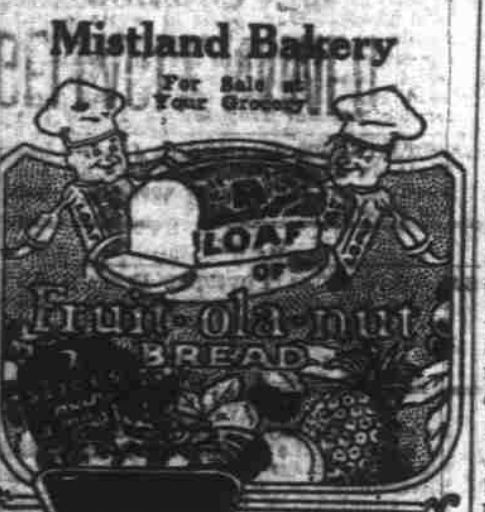

At a meeting held Tuesday evening at Jefferson, a community club was organized with a membership of 25, and with the election of the following officers:

F. A. Gellagly, president; Ed D. Smith, vice president; J. H. Rowland, secretary-treasurer, and the following directors: For one year, W. L. Jones; for two years, C. A. Ferguson and Joseph G. Fontaine, and for the three-year term, J. H. Rowland and E. B. Knight.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted, similar to those in use by the other 23 community clubs in the county. It was voted that any citizen of Jefferson and community was eligible to membership.

and that the annual dues should be $1.

In a general discussion following the election of officers, it developed that many were in favor of a community hall, and also in favor of doing all that could be done to increase the attendance at the Jefferson high school. The matter of proper roads will also come in for a share of attention from the community club.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the Jefferson city hall on Thursday evening, January 28, when a special program will be presented, and again the work of the community club will come up for discussion.

Among the visitors from Salem who spoke and complimented the Jefferson men in organizing a club for the best interests of the city were George H. Grabenhorst, president of the Salem Chamber of Commerce; H. G. Holt, director of the Salem Chamber of Commerce; Henry R. Crawford of the Ladd & Bush bank, and C. E. Wilson, manager of the Salem Chamber of Commerce.

BOOKS INCREASE IN LIBRARY LIST

1589 Books Have Been Loaned Silverton Readers Since October 17

SILVERTON, Or., Jan. 20.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Since October 17, when the city library opened in the new city hall, 1589 books have been loaned to readers, according to Mrs. Alice Kircher, librarian. And since that time 175 books have been added, making the total number some over 2000 volumes.

Another new lot of books will be added in the near future. This will consist mostly of fiction for adult readers. Of the readers 148 are 16 years of age or under.

The library is now supported by the Silverton woman's club. It is open on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, and all day Saturday. The board hopes some day a special library tax will be levied at Silverton, so that the reading room can be open to the public every day.

MISSIONARY IS TO GIVE LECTURE HERE

Rev. B. H. Pearson Is to Speak at Salem Free Methodist Church

Rev. B. H. Pearson, superintendent of home missionary work for the Free Methodist church in southern California, is planning to give a stereopticon lecture at the Salem Free Methodist church, located at the corner of Water and Market streets.

Rev. Pearson has "personal charge of several of the missions among the Mexicans. His lecture will have to do with the experience he has gleaned from those Mexicans.

He was at one time private secretary to Harold Bell Wright, for several years one of the "best sellers" in the United States. His novel, "Eyes of the World," considered one of his best works, was dedicated to Rev. Pearson.

Rev. Pearson was principal speaker at the Young People's session held last week-end in Portland.

CHARGE BRUTALITY IN DIVORCE CASE

Nellie Kunkle Asks Court to Release Her From Matrimonial Ties

Charging that her husband beat her head against the walls and that he knocked her down with his fists, Nellie Kunkle has filed suit in circuit court here for a divorce from Frank H. Kunkle.

They were married in Salem in January, 1921.

Mrs. Kunkle charges that her husband seized her by the throat on one occasion and choked her into submission, leaving marks on her neck and causing several lacerations. In October, 1922, the plaintiff alleges Kunkle slammed her head against the wall and beat her, crying "I ought to kill you." On January 15 of this year, the complaint states, Kunkle knocked his wife down and beat her with his fists, cursing and striking her.

OFFICERS INSTALLED BY MARION COUNTY GRANGE

state grange committee, of which he is chairman, working in conjunction with committees from the Oregon State Teachers' association and Farmers' union, in shaping the proposed income tax bill to be submitted to the public at the next general election.

He pointed out the urgency for the income tax, and suggested some of the provisions that will probably be contained in the bill.

The grange went on record, through resolution, as opposed to confirmation of Messrs Woodcock and Taylor as members of the interstate commerce commission, basing its opposition on the assumption that the men are too biased toward the railroads to render impartial judgment to railroads and to shippers. The resolution will be forwarded to the Oregon state senate.

The grange appointed a legislative committee consisting of Dr. Slaughter of Salem, Whitehead of Turner and Mrs. R. C. Smith of Salem. A visiting committee was also appointed whose duty it will be to visit other granges.

Members decided to hold joint sessions of Pomona in Marion and Polk counties some time in February. The matter was left in the hands of masters of the two granges.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drugstore.

"CLASSIFIED" AT THE OREGON

Jack Muzail, Corrine Griffith and Ward Crane are starred in "Classified," now playing at the Oregon theater. The story is an adaptation of Edna Ferber's famous novel of the same name.

PICTURE AT OREGON USES THREE STARS

Corrine Griffith Has Leading Part in "Classified," by Edna Ferber

Corrine Griffith has undergone a change in her latest production, "Classified," that makes her hard to recognize for the stately, demure and essentially cultivated Corinne the moving picture public has come to know and admire so well.

Saucy, full of pep and impudence, Miss Griffith simply bubbles over with enthusiasm in "Classified," which opened at the Oregon theatre last evening, and if ever an actress was a whole show in herself here is an exhibition of it.

The story is an adaptation of Edna Ferber's famous story of the same title prepared for the screen by June Mathis, and that perhaps says something for the success the
