

Dempsey-Gene Tunney Title Match May Be Scheduled for September

TEX RICKARD SAYS CLASH IS PENDING

Negotiations Being Made for Heavyweight Go in Boyles' Thirty Acres

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tex Rickard, whose promoting hand is credited with Max Baer's victory over Dempsey for a heavyweight title fight with the ex-champ, Gene Tunney, broke his silence today sufficiently to give the impression that he figures on staging this battle at his Jersey City arena, Boyles' Thirty Acres, next September.

Rickard refused to make any point blank admission that he has negotiations for such a match near completion, as published reports have contended. Likewise he declined to deny them, but at the same time he admitted holding a conference yesterday with Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, expressed his conviction that Tunney is the champion's most logical contender, and made it clear he has already plans to match Dempsey with the persistent negro challenger, Harry Wills.

WATERFOWL DEPLETED HUNTING IN WASHINGTON IS POOREST IN HISTORY

SEATTLE, Jan. 21.—(By Associated Press.)—Information received here today stated that Willapa harbor has experienced the poorest waterfowl hunting season in history. The season ended last Friday.

Game Warden Mossman believed that the water fowl myriads were depleted by epidemics at Great Salt Lake, Utah, Tule Lake, Ore., and other inland waters.

Mossman said it was his opinion that the epidemic which carried off thousands of ducks at Great Salt Lake last spring was brought north by ducks that apparently were well but germ carriers. He pointed out that manifestly the same disease appeared at Klamath and Tule lakes.

WEBFOOTERS TAKE TRIP UNIVERSITY HOOP FIVE HAVE FIVE GAMES ON HAND

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 21.—(By Associated Press.)—Four conference games in five days face the University of Oregon basketball squad, which leaves here in the morning on its annual northern tour. The Webfooters will play the University of Washington in Seattle Saturday night; Montana Monday, Idaho, Tuesday, and WSC Wednesday, with a return game with the University of Washington January 30.

Salem Hi Five Will Play Ashland Tossers in Local Gym on Monday

KITCHEN BOOKS SURPRISE GAME

Enthusiasm Expressed; Following Contest With Albany Hi Tuesday

Salem high school will play the basketball team from Ashland, high school Monday night. The game is to be played on the floor of the Salem high school gymnasium.

This game comes as something of a surprise, as the next game was thought to be with Albany high school next Tuesday. Bob Kitchen, however, had the chance to arrange for the game with the boundary boys, and clinched the chance at once.

Ashland, it is said, is all the go in the southern part of the state as far as basketball is concerned. While the game is not a divisional one, and Salem's chances for making the state tournament are not in danger, still the game will be a fair indication of Salem's chances in the state tournament with the teams from southern Oregon.

Coach Huntington is not letting up on the training of his men. Scrimmage is being held nightly, and passing and short shots are forever being emphasized.

Salem will meet Albany high school Tuesday night. The game will be played at Albany. While plans are not definitely shaped as yet, it is understood a large excursion of rosters will accompany the Salem team on their conquest of Albany.

Saturday night, January 30, the Salem boys will play the OAC rooks a return game. The game will be played on the Salem gym floor. In the last game with the rooks, Salem won, 22-19.

LIONS LURED BY CATNIP COUGARS FALLING PREY TO FEDERAL BIOLOGISTS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 21.—(By Associated Press.)—Mountain lions are being lured to their death by oil of catnip, Stanley P. Young of Denver, biologist in charge of the Colorado-Kansas district of predatory animal control of the department of agriculture, told the Colorado Fish, Game and Forest Protective association today. "A cat is a cat regardless of its size or living conditions, and the great mountain lion is as susceptible to the delicious intoxication of catnip as is our own pet tabby," he said. "The lions come down to roll about in patches of poisoned food around which oil of catnip has been poured, just like little kittens."

ROD CLUB SCORES FISHING PETITION

Organization Favors Keeping Mill Stream Closed to Sportsmen Now

Streams around Salem that have been closed by state game warden E. F. Averill have been closed upon the recommendation of the Salem Rod and Gun club, according to Dr. G. E. Prime, president of the club.

There is a petition being circulated by a local barber, Dr. Prime has heard, to have Mill Stream opened up again. The Salem Rod and Gun club are absolutely not behind the petition. Furthermore, Dr. Prime says the state game warden has declared, no such petition gotten up by an individual will ever be considered by the commission by the game commission.

"Petitions starting in barber shops and pool halls are just the ones that are least likely to be heard. If a man is really interested in fishing or hunting, he should join the club and talk over such matters with the rest of the boys. Not that we are soliciting members, but by organizing, we are able to look into matters thoroughly. And the little amount for dues certainly can't hurt any one who claims to be a sport."

"The mill stream was closed at the instigation of our club. The reason is that the stock is dying off. About 90 per cent of the fishermen around here fish in the Mill stream. For the first two days after the season has opened, the fishing is wonderful. Then all there is left are the trout under six inches. These are caught, but caught illegally."

"By closing the stream for a period of some years, we can restock the stream so that it will be one of the best fishing streams on the Pacific coast. Yet a lot of cheap sports are trying to get the streams opened up again."

There are now over 100 members in the Salem Rod and Gun club, according to Dr. Prime. The members are planning to hold a meeting in the auditorium of the Salem chamber of commerce at 7 o'clock sharp Saturday evening. At this time a committee will be appointed to go to Corvallis as representative of the local club. There will be a meeting in Corvallis of the committees from the gun clubs of Eugene, Salem and Corvallis to arrange the date and location of the tri-city shoot being planned.

At the Saturday night meet there will also be arrangements made for the entries to represent Salem at the Oregonian Telegraphic shoot to be held in February.

Skater Is an Attraction When Ice Forms in South

It does get cold sometimes in the sunny south, and when it does the southern folks flock to ponds and lakes to watch the few who have learned to skate. They do not know what to do about it when the ice gets thick enough to hold the weight of a man.

In these pictures the kids at the top are sliding about while a lone skater, an Atlanta youth, skids about Piedmont lake, Atlanta, on steel runners.

A few youths thought it would be fun to ride their bicycles on the ice, but changed their minds when the wheels wouldn't cling to the slick surface.

Ice thick enough for skating is an event in Atlanta which occurs only at rare intervals. Several years ago the ice got real thick and hardware merchants were unable to supply the demand for skates.

BASKET BALL WHO'S WHO Presenting THOMAS DUFFY

5 Feet 6 Inches, 134 Pounds, FORWARD

The scrappiest little player that ever paced a court, Tom, is the flashiest man on the squad. Lively with the ball for five seconds and the score keepers put a little cross in their book. The basket might as well be a manhole.

Tom's small stature is more of a blessing than a handicap, but it necessitates a tall running mate. Duffy was on the Chicago trip and gained much experience from the calmer styles of ball played there.

TO PRACTICE NEXT MONTH

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 21.—(By Associated Press.)—Spring football practice at the University of Oregon will get under way during February. It was announced tonight by John J. McEwan, new coach. All football candidates met with Coach McEwan this afternoon. Individual workouts will form the initial training, with scrimmage later, he said.

WOODBURN SALEM IN SPLIT DEBATE

Triangular Contest, Halsey, Albany, Corvallis Is Set for Tonight

The Salem high school debate team will meet Woodburn high school this evening in a dual debate. The affirmative team of the local high school will journey to Woodburn, while the negative team will meet the Woodburn affirmatives in the auditorium of the Salem high school.

Judges for the debate to be held here will be Dr. W. H. Dreese, Dr. E. B. Miller, and Dr. Roy M. Lockenour, all of OAC. Oscar Christenson, A. C. Stransborough, and C. H. Shuttee, all of the Oregon state normal school, will judge the debate at Woodburn.

Tonight a triangular debate will be held between Halsey, Albany and Corvallis. A triangular debate will also be held between Dallas, Independence and Monmouth.

LATE FIGHT NEWS

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, tonight knocked out Clemente Saavedra of Chile in the second round of a scheduled ten round bout. Renault knocked the ropes with a right hook to the chin.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Eddie Roberts of Tacoma won a decision over Red Uhan, Oakland middleweight in the six round main event of a ring show here tonight. Uhan injured his hand in the final round.

OREGON TOSSERS TO FACE HUSKIES 'Y' DEDICATION TALKED AT MEET

Five Will Play on Washington Floor Saturday, Only Northern Trip

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 21.—(Special.)—Oregon's basketball team, victor over Montana Tuesday, 40 to 19, will leave Eugene Friday morning for Seattle to play the University of Washington Huskies on their floor Saturday night. It will be Oregon's only northern trip and they will play Idaho, Washington State and Montana on the same trip.

The Oregon machine seems to be better balanced than it was a year ago at this time. However, there are many rough spots yet to be polished before the Webfooters may hope to win their games on foreign courts.

Coach Reinhardt undoubtedly will start the same team against Washington he did against Montana. He will be Gunther and Hobson, forwards; Okerberg, center, and Jost and Westergren, guards. Gunther is breaking in as a regular for the first time. He was high man of the Montana game, tallying six field and two converted foul throws for 14 points. All of his baskets came in the second half after a rather poor start.

Oregon's whole offense depends on speed. No team is faster than its slowest man, Coach Reinhardt believes, so a great deal of Oregon's future success will hinge on the ability of Gunther to keep pace with the other four members of the team, all of whom are tried and true veterans. Should Gunther come through as expected, Oregon will win the championship or be runner-up, Reinhardt thinks.

Poverty and old age are a great aid in keeping good resolutions.

Conscience: Something that is rarely consulted until the day after.

The dedication committee of the Y. M. C. A., of which Justice O. P. Coshaw of the Oregon supreme court is chairman, met yesterday afternoon. No definite plans were gotten under way, however. The dedication will not be held until the building is completely ready, the committee decided.

The program will be a lengthy one, however. There will be a dedication ceremony. But there will be an entire week of actual dedication, during which the public will be invited to inspect the building. It is hoped the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of March.

Quebec's Dog-Sled Derby Even Awakens the Golden Dog

FAMOUS GOLDEN DOG, QUEBEC

Quebec's historic Golden dog taking his repose and gnawing his bone over the post-office door, has plenty of canine rivals for fame during the winter season, especially during February when the Eastern International Dog Sled Derby will be run. Dog teams are trotting up and down Dufferin Terrace, the haying and yelping of other brethren comes up from the Lower Town; the long strings of huskies, mastiffs, St. Bernards, Newfoundlanders, Great Danes and mixed breeds are even climbing steep and tortuous Mountain Hill under the very nose of the famous Chien-Chien. Famous because he has had a novel written about him and post cards describing his romances have been scattered to the winds of heaven.

One French Canadian, tacking up Mountain Hill with a package under his arm and another inside his anatomy declared recently that when he reached the post office, the Golden Dog barked shrilly as one of the dog teams dashed by. Perhaps he was hearing things, but beyond a doubt, Quebec is "putting on a lot of dog" just now, and will continue to do so even after the races on February 13, 19 and 20.

One of the newest ways for visitors to view Quebec is to take a slight seeing tour in a fur robed sled drawn by an intelligent, strong looking outfit of huskies. The Chateau Frontenac's team is constantly demanded, for guests like this novel method of doing the town better even than the sleigh drawn by a sleek horse and driven by a loquacious French Canadian.

A Double Treatment for Colds

It is an obstinate cold indeed that can resist the direct, double action of Vicks Vaporub. When it is rubbed over throat and chest at bedtime, Vicks acts in two ways at once:

- (1) Direct to the inflamed air passages with its medicated vapors, released by the body heat; and
- (2) Direct through the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" the tightness, soreness and pain.

Head or chest colds may easily sap your vitality and undermine your health. Don't neglect them.
