Salem Lions Club Sponsors Test to See if the Beauty of Last Century Music Has Died Under Feet Grown Old, Dancing to Their Strains

Wanted: Old fiddlers.

The call was sent out yesterday by the Salem Lions club Pacific Hit by Heavy Storm in an attempt to locate as many crafty musicians as possible, for competition in the "Old Fiddlers' Contest," to be staged in the Armory on the night of February 5.

At that time, the one-step and fox trot, the Charleston and other forms of exercise will give way to the stately dances of our fathers and grandmothers, as far back as any living fiddler can remember.

If there is an old fiddler who first picked up the bow in the days when Lincoln was a back
