

Woodburn Tossers Upset Dope, Defeating Salem By 25 to 17 Score

INDIANS TO PLAY HERE TOMORROW

Game Counted First Hard Test of High School Machine's Strength

Woodburn upset the dope in the realm of sports last night when she defeated the Salem high school quintet, 25-17. The game was played on the Woodburn floor. When Salem met Woodburn here, she took the game by a large score.

The Woodburn floor is small—the type that the local boys cannot function on. They could not get started last night, passed poorly, could not get up steam, and found the basket with infrequency. The floor is about the same size as the one at Corvallis high school.

The local boys believe they can trim Woodburn or Corvallis on a regulation size floor.

Fans will be given the opportunity to see whether or not Salem can make good her claim and beat Corvallis on the home floor when the two teams tangle in Salem's last game of the season proper, to be played February 27.

Tomorrow evening the Salem team will meet up against what is doped to be her hardest game of the season—that with the Chemawa Indians. Salem has one advantage in that the game is to be played in the local high school gymnasium.

Fans feel Salem has not really been tested against a powerful team.

The Indians, according to report, have one of the strongest

250 Fans Watch Dannie Edwards Work Out for Tonight's Bayes Fight

COLOR LINE CUT BY CLEAN FIGHT

Phil Bayes, in Best Condition Ready for Scrap of His Career

An audience numbering 250 fans was present at the armory last night when Dannie Edwards went through a 20 minute workout, exhibiting in shadow boxing his shifts, inighting and footwork.

Phil Bayes, Salem clownster, who meets Edwards tonight, arrived in Salem during the afternoon and was anxious to put on a workout supplementing Dannie's show, but trainers advised against this.

Bayes is down to his contract weight of 126 pounds and is ready for his encounter with the scrappy little colored veteran.

"I am out to win this fight by fair means," said Edwards last night. "I never underate any two-handed man who steps in the ring with me. Some of my opponents have proven to be polukas, but many a poluka has knocked down his man just because the elder fighter was too confident."

Edwards is more concerned over the possible arrival of his wife who is traveling from their home at Oakland in hope of witnessing the bout with Bayes. Mrs. Edwards has been one of his most devoted camp followers.

There is every evidence that here will be absolutely no color line drawn in the attitude of the spectators.

"I have been well treated by fight followers," observed Edwards when questioned regarding his experience. "Ten years ago Jack Johnson had brought our race into bad repute in this game. George Smith, my present manager, went into the cat with me and we encountered much opposition. Perseverance and sincere fighting has won me thousands of white friends and now a good colored fighter can enter eastern rings without being hooded. I respect my audience and my opponent, and if their respect is accorded me, that is sufficient."

In exchanging greetings with Salem friends, Phil Bayes gave assurance that he was out to get his man, and that at the very least he would give his best.

Matchmaker Plant announced last night that arrangements have been made for ample ringside and balcony seats to give every fan a chance to secure his favorite location at the fight.

Three good preliminaries have been scheduled as curtain raisers to the main event.

In the history of the school, they recently beat Franklin high school of Portland by a good-sized score. They have beaten two or three other Portland high schools. The team is reported to be fast, and the members are said to be dead shots.

Whether or not the Duffy-Siegmund-J. Drager combination will be able to best the Indians is a matter of speculation. The lineup to start for the local boys will be Siegmund and Duffy at forwards, J. Drager at center and Olinger and R. Drager at guards.

AUTO GIFT ELECTION OPPORTUNITIES OPEN

The end of the contest (just a few short weeks) are the ones who will rejoice on April 10. Do you realize that it is but a short time away. Can't you see that there is no time for hesitation or delay? The person who hasn't a car this season must jump right into the contest today and hustle with the brightest and best of candidates.

Candidates in The Statesman's big automobile contest, as well as some of those who have not yet entered the race, are busy with pencil and paper these days figuring what it would take in subscriptions to acquire the leadership for one of the grand prize cars.

Votes are the only things necessary to win, and they can be gotten by the thousands, yes, by the tens of thousands. On every subscription turned in a certain number of votes are allowed, depending upon the size, or rather the length of the subscription. And in addition to these regular subscription votes, 100,000 special votes are allowed on every $15 worth of subscriptions turned in.

Therefore by the use of a little mathematics, it can easily be figured that a mere handful of subscriptions at this time, the result of a little effort among your friends, relatives and acquaintances, would at once place you with the leaders of the race and in line for a prize up to $1125.

Worth trying for, to say the least—don't you think?

But don't wait—start now! The beauty of this contest is that while you win big, you give value received for everything you sell. Many in Salem and many more outside are regular Statesman subscribers. They subscribe and pay for The Statesman because they want it, because they get value received. You are not begging, you are selling a product that should be in every home in this territory—the newspaper. People who read are informed. Your Statesman is a home newspaper, one which is safe for all members of the family to read.

PARRISH JUNIORS WILL MEET SCIO

Parrish junior high school hoopers will meet Scio high school this evening on the Parrish gymnasium floor. Scio is said to have a fast team, and is expected to give the local boys a hard tussle this evening. In fact, Coach Brown of Parrish believes his boys are going to have to show some unusual playing if they are to keep the victory in Salem.

Parrish basketmen have been setting a good record this season, winning the majority of their games, in spite of the fact that most of these have been with full fledged high school teams.

The lineup for this evening's contest will be as follows: Siegmund and Green at forwards, Andressen at center and Kelly and Keppinger at guards.

ALL STARS LOSE CAGE GAME HERE

Play Speeds Up in Last Half, With Silvertown Taking Good Victory

Kenneth Brown's All Stars of Salem went down to defeat last night at the hands of the Silvertown Athletic club quintet. The game, starting out slowly in the first half, speeded up to such proportions that the crowd was cheering.

Defeat of the locals was the old, old story of one team taking the sixts close in and the other taking them from the distance. This was true especially in the second half.

Salem All Stars had the best of it during the first half. Silvertown had not been playing so swiftly as later in the game, and the Brown boys rang up 13 points while Silvertown tallied only 9.

In the second half, the Silvertown boys started an offensive that lasted for the remainder of the game. Although an occasional long shot was attempted and one or two made, practically all of Sil-
