THE RIGHTEOUS EXALTED.—Now, therefore, let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt. * * And Pharaoh said, * * Can we find such a one as this, a man in

HURRAH FOR OLD POLK!

Dallas has a wide awake chamber of commerce. Its Chamber realizes that a city stands or falls with its back country. Today the beekeepers of Polk county are holding a honey bee luncheon under the auspices of the chamber to emphasize the part the bee plays in the pollenization of fruits. February 18 the chamber holds a meeting to consider land settlement, with representatives of the Portland chamber land settlement committee in attendance. February 26 the cherry growers of Polk county are called together by the Dallas chamber to hear experts from O. A. C. discuss problems in fruit growing. Watch Polk county progress.

The above paragraph is from the Portland Journal of yesterday, and the words are well written.

The honey luncheon yesterday noon was a great success, and the meeting of bee keepers was a noteworthy one; with inspiration enough to send the bee industry on its way in a continuous story of development, in Polk and Marion and adjoining counties.

And there is no better thing in the many things promising solid prosperity on the land and increasing wealth in the cities and towns of the Salem district.

Two things are essential for the great growth of the bee industry here—

Organization and late bee pasture.

Organization is progressing in Polk county, is on its way in Marion, and will be carried forward in the adjoining counties.

Late bee pasture is coming fast, with the growth of fields in Grimm alfalfa, Hungarian vetch, and Alsike, sweet and white clovers.

The time is coming, and before long, when car load shipments of honey from Salem district points will be common; and when the industry will bring us millions annually of new money.

SEATOR SAM BROWN

(Portland Journal.)

The candidacy of Sam Brown as senator from Marion county is announced.

The state needs his type of citizen in the legislature. He is a Republican, but Republican politicians do not do his thinking for him. He is a party man, but not a machine man. He doesn't go to the legislature to play politics but to do business for the state, and all the state. His record in the legislature shows that he tests measures out on their merits and then supports or opposes them on that yardstick. He is a farmer, and a successful farmer. That is enough to prove his ability, were there no other evidence. He belongs to a great state group that has always deserved but never had adequate representation in the legislature.

A tax system that oppresses the farmer and home owner and all other holders of visible property is directly due to Oregon legislatures. It should have been corrected 40 years ago. But it wasn't, and the main reason why it wasn't is that a legislative steam roller is usually set up in the selection of speaker of the house and president of the senate at the beginning of the session, and that steam roller many times runs the session and does the legislating.

And back of that well-oiled machine are whispering lobbyists, smooth and plausible, who meet the leaders in back rooms and down at the Marion hotel and there worm the will of secret interests into senate statutes.

And in the legislature there are always the claqueurs and cuckoos, weak but generally honest men, who dance whenever legislative politicians pull the strings. They help make up the majority for the steam roller, ignorant many times of the secret interests they are actually serving.

One great thing that Oregon needs is a legislature of strong, capable men who do their own thinking and who will work and vote for all of Oregon and all the people of Oregon and all the various groups in Oregon.

A sixth of all the land in the Willamette valley suitable for the purpose might be devoted to sugar beet growing for beet sugar factories located here, in a six year rotation—and the other five-sixths of such land would produce such increased crops as to more than justify the use of the sixth devoted to beet growing. The sugar beet industry will more than justify itself, in increasing the other crops—besides bringing about $225 for every acre of beets, to be added to the money circulated in the community; new money every year, coming out of the soil, or rather out of the water from the rain falling on the land and the wind blowing over it. That is only one argument for the beet sugar industry. There are enough others to fill a big book.

Bits For Breakfast

Speaking of bees—

It was a great bee meeting at Dallas yesterday, and a wonderful honey luncheon at noon.

The first boys' and girls' bee club for Polk county, at Hills, has already been organized. Marion county boys and girls must get to it.

There is more money in bees for the boys and girls than in any other line. They can organize clubs and get bees and attend to them, and put themselves through school.

with bees. One girl is already doing this, at O. A. C.

By the way the annual bee slogan number of The Statesman is next Thursday. The slogan man wants to hear from everyone who has a bee in his or her bonnet, or knows anything interesting about bees—and there are more interesting things to know about bees than about any other living thing that is no larger than a bee.

The stage is being set now for a vote to find out if the people of Salem want their city to own their water works. It is likely that they do.

The contract blanks will be here any time now, and the campaign for best sugar acreage will be launched. Every one who has a stake in this section must get behind it—and put it over big. Don't think of stopping at 500 acres. Make it five times five hundred.

COUNTY NEWS IN BRIEF

There was a number of people from Rosedale attended the Sunside program Friday night.

Auburn

Dave A. Terry, who has been a resident of Auburn community for the past 21 years, after suffering intensely at a local hospital since New Year's day, passed peacefully away Sunday morning at 4:15. February 7. He was born in Texas, August 18, 1876, was united in marriage to Maude Portson October 31, 1907. Possessing a kind, cheerful and unselfish disposition, he won the love and respect of all who knew him. He was converted at Auburn in 1908, and remained a loyal and faithful worker for the master. He was the faithful superintendent of the Auburn union Sunday school for the past eight years. He was laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery in Salem, Or., near the spot where lies his mother, whom he so dearly loved and so devotedly cared for during her long illness. Mr. Terry leaves, besides his wife, two brothers, Covey of Salem and John of Long Beach, Cal. One sister, Minnie, in Texas; also two nieces, Pauline Pierce and Helen Fortson, who have been as daughters in his home.

Mrs. Robert Tindall, better known here as Aunt Molly Tindall, passed away at her late residence, 561 E. Oak street, Portland, on Sunday, Feb. 7, 1926, at the age of 65 years. Her late husband was a brother of A. Tindall of Auburn. They owned a ranch near here for many years, and for a time made her home with her niece, Mrs. W. G. Walling at which time she suffered a severe stroke of paralysis. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Edith Clay of Petaluma, Cal., and Mrs. May Chabot of Portland, and one son, Asa, of Pendleton, Or. She was laid to rest Wednesday in the Miller cemetery near Shelburn, beside her late husband, where also rest many of the relatives and friends of pioneer days.

West Salem

Miss Gertrude Wustling, teacher in the public schools of Oregon City, was guest in the family of A. M. Douglas on first street, Saturday and Sunday.

C. A. Boling and Mrs. Boling and family of the Bithed district had a community dinner Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Bowers of 1018 Sixth street, who are Mrs. Boling's parents. They also attended the Sunday evening lectures at the Adventist church in North Salem.

Mrs. N. A. Frost of Forest Grove is at present at the home of Grandma Shields, Fourth street. The threatened attack of pneumonia has passed and Nurse Miss Bliven hopes to have her in the chair soon. Mrs. Frost will return home in a day or so, domestic duties calling her back.

Word has been received by friends of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Fouts, former residents, that they are now located at Payette, Idaho, where they have charge of a large apple orchard.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reese of Tillamook are now located at Fifth street and Johnson avenue.

"MANNEQUIN" IS AT THE OREGON

For three days, today, Sunday and Monday, the silver screen at the Oregon theater will reflect the latest picture drama, "Mannequin," from the pen of Fannie Hurst. "Mannequin" is the $50,000 Liberty Magazine prize story has attracted international attention.

land visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Nugent on Kingwood avenue Sunday evening and on Wednesday.

Monday evening Rev. Albert Freeman, Indian, spoke at the church. He is delivering addresses in behalf of his race along the line of Christian work among them.

The West Salem Community club is now organized. The directors are Enell Needham, Art Moore and Frank Bittler. At present the club is sustaining weekly dances. Later the building so used may be fitted up for public meetings, for lectures and the like but not at present.

A piano has been rented and will be installed at once. Mr. Ezekiel Barnes, a violinist of more than local repute, is one of the musicians secured by the club.

Mr. Ruben A. Raymond is also another though not a violinist. He will probably reside at the piano. His forte is singing. A few years ago he was on a circuit in the state of Washington, singing in the moving picture theaters at Bellingham, Mt. Vernon and other places. He also did similar work in theatres here in Salem. He took one or two vocal courses under special instructors. The club has done well to secure his help. The membership is now 32. The next dance will be Saturday night.

The church has secured an instructor in Sunday school class work.

C. C. Fishback is building a fine room bungalow on Salem-Dallas highway.

Mrs. C. Gerth of Dayton, Ore., visiting in the family of her son Walter of the North Coast store. Dr. W. R. Patterson has bought the Southwest store now occupied by the Simpson meat market and grocery store on First street and Johnson avenue and is having it painted by E. L. Needham and Geo. Thurman.

Mrs. H. F. Shanks from Salem children division superintendent of the Marion County Sunday school council of religious education met with a number of the mothers of the local Methodist church, who have babies on the cradle roll at the home of Mrs. Wm. DeVries. Mrs. A. Brown is cradle roll superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school and Mrs. G. H. Thompson is superintendent of the cradle roll department of the Hayesville district.

The announcement that Elmer Steiner will be married to a girl back in Ohio next Sunday came as a surprise to his many friends here. Several months ago Mr. Steiner went back east on a visit—at least that is what his friends thought—not suspecting that his trip was on such important business.

Charles Saplingfield is having a lot of building material delivered on his ranch. Apparently something is going to happen. Of course, Charles could "bach," but his friends think he won't.

District Superintendent Leech held quarterly conference here Wednesday evening.

A Bible study class which meets every Friday evening at the Mennonite church conducted by Rev. J. Franz is very well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight and Miss Alma Bannmann all from Portland, were visitors here last Sunday.

Here's Instant Relief from Bunions and Soft Corns

Actually Reduces the Swelling—Soft Corns Dry Right Up and Can Be Picked Off

All Druggists Say Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you have ever used.

Your bunions may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

Two or three applications of Moore's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes all the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn. Something that will end your foot troubles for ever.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

All druggists guarantee Moore's Emerald Oil to cure your foot troubles or money back—Adv.

investment is charged the customer for upkeep.

As soon as enough customers attach to a rural line to bring the average investment down to $60 per customer, the men are refunded in cash the money they have invested, and the company assumes the entire investment.

WILLAMETTE HEAD TALKS ON LINCOLN

"Better Known Than Any Historical Character," Says Carl G. Doney

Speaking before Salem Lions club yesterday, President Carl G. Doney, of Willamette university, made an eloquent address on Abraham Lincoln.

"The martyred president stands forth as highly typical of those ideals which best characterize an American. He is better known to all of us than any other historical character. Yet no character in history is so mysterious.

"Shakespeare we can understand, or Napoleon, or Washington, but Lincoln appears as a root out of dry ground, his heredity and his training giving no indication of the place in history that was to be his."

Miss Alberty Koonits sang two songs. Mayor Gleason, in selecting a name from a hat picked that of Chief Minto who accordingly was given a Lions emblem for his car, in keeping with the attendance record policy. District Governor F. E. Neer presided.

Lyons

The dance Saturday night was well attended and everybody reported a pleasant time.

Miss Minnie Kuiken spent the week-end at her home on the hill. Bill Kuiken also was home over the week-end.

The Lyons garage is receiving a new coat of paint.

Mrs. M. Taylor has purchased a new Ford touring car and Mr. Stafford, her father, is building a garage for the car's use.

Miss Freda Holzfuss returned home where she was welcomed by the rest of the family who are in need of a cook.

F. Tscherner purchased Clifton Sarry's gasoline tank. This gives Lyons but one filling station.

LINE EXTENSION COST EXPLAINED

W. S. Hamilton Tells Realtors Cost Is Approximately $1200 a Mile

Cost of building an extension line for the P. E. P. Co. is about $1200 a mile. W. S. Hamilton, Willamette valley division manager of the company, told Marion and Polk county realtors at their luncheon Thursday noon.

The company plans to invest in rural customers $60 per customer, he said. If cost of bringing the service to them is greater, they invest the difference. A delivery charge of one per cent of their

ROTH'S "QUALITY FIRST"

Groceries and Fresh Meats

The difference in price of best groceries and meats and the under grade merchandise is so small that the cheaper grades will really cost you more in the end. This is not mere talk but the result of our twenty-six years of selling foods in the city of Salem and catering to our customers on the basis of "quality first."

What Does Service Cost?

Our books for 1925 just closed show that it costs two per cent to deliver. If your account runs $25 a month this would cost us 50 cents. Could you go to market every day and buy your goods and carry them home for 50 cents?

Customers and Friends

Daily contact with our customers gives us an intimate knowledge of their wants and our continued success is dependant on giving them a satisfactory service and at the lowest possible prices at which quality merchandise can be sold.

Thirty Day Account Service

We solicit monthly accounts which are payable by the 10th of the month following purchase.

LATIN CLUB WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Prizes Offered by Paul Wallace to Be Presented to Winning Schools

The Latin club of the Salem high school will hold open house Monday evening. At that time the three prizes recently offered by Paul Wallace for the winners of the public school Latin contest will be given to the winners. Mr. Wallace will make the presentation, which is to be held in the high school auditorium.

First prize is a miniature statue of Hebe, goddess of youth. This prize has been won by the classes of Miss Grace Thompson of Parish junior high school. Each of her students average 450 points out of a possible 612. This was the highest average attained at any of the schools.

McKinley junior high school, with an average of 400, won second prize. This is a framed picture of Hadrian's tomb on the Tigris river.

The senior high school succeeded only in taking third prize. This is another large framed picture, that of the Forum in Rome. The public are invited to attend the open house, and the presentation of prizes, which is to be held at 7:30 o'clock.
