Upper right: Miss Pauline Welch, popular saxophone player in the Girls' Orchestra which will be a feature of the Amenic club vaudeville program next Wednesday evening. Center right: Miss Annabelle Hawley, the charming daughter of Mrs. Cecil Hawley and grand-daughter of Congressman W. C. Hawley of Washington, D. C. Lower left: Mrs. W. H. Abell (Margaret Alden), daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Alden, who was the house-guest of her parents for a recent month, returning to her home in Los Angeles on Wednesday last week. While in the north Mrs. Abell accompanied her mother on a week's visit to Seattle where both were extensively feted. Lower right: Marie Patton, attractive elder daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hal D. Patton, who, with her sister, Jean, was hostess at a fancy dress Valentine ball on Friday night at the spacious Patton home on Court street. Marie, who is eleven years of age, shares her sister's musical ability and plays both the cello and the piano with talent.

MY VALENTINE
Oh, better than the minting
Of a gold-crowned king
Is the safe-kept memory
Of a lovely thing.
—SARA TEASDALE

Six Matrons Entertain With Elaborate Affair At Club House
Outstanding among the social events of the entire year was the large distinctively beautiful formal tea of Friday afternoon at which Mrs. Oscar E. Price, Mrs. Ray W. Hartman, Mrs. J. Clarence Perry, Mrs. Linn C. Smith, Mrs. Dale X. Beechler, and Mrs. Ralph H. Cooley were hostesses at the Woman's club house on North Cottage street. Five hundred cards were issued for this outstanding affair.

As charmingly appointed as any drawing room was the spacious assembly hall which was transformed into a room of personality with lavish Oriental rugs, a myriad softly lighted candles in rich holders and burnished candelabras; dvans, and cages of singing birds.

At the door Mrs. F. G. Bowers and Mrs. P. A. Elker introduced to the hostesses who formed the receiving line.

Assisting in the living room throughout calling hours were: Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Mrs. Paul V. Johnson, Mrs. R. L. Edwards, Mrs. Harry Widmer, Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. Wilson Darby, Mrs. Walter Page, Mrs. Claude Steusloff, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. F. C. Myers, and Mrs. Edgar Pierce of Aumsville.

Mary Talmadge Hendrick, Martha Swart, and Clarence Wenger formed the three-piece orchestra which played pleasingly throughout the afternoon from a bower of greenery and spring flowers.

Vera Beechler, Doris Jean Brown, and Virginia Cross, and Helen Wiedmer took charge of the guests' cards at alternate hours. Sako Watanabe, a little Japanese girl, assisted in the balcony cloak room.

In the tea room the long table, beautiful with its gleaming linen and silver, was centered with a long, low basket of roses, daffodils, primroses, acacia, and carnations with an intermingling of green. Two rose and two gold candles shined in silver holders at the center of the table.

Presiding at the urns during the first hour were Mrs. C. P. Bishop and Mrs. Alice H. Dodd. At the second hour their places were taken by Mrs. George H. Alden and Mrs. W. E. Kirk, while from four to five those pouring were Mrs. C. K. Spaulding and Mrs. H. T. Love.

Assisting in the dining room for the attractive event were: Mrs. Herbert Stiff, Mrs. Ben Forbes, Mrs. Harry Crain, Mrs. W. J. Mulsick, Mrs. Frederick Lampert, Mrs. Leo Page, and Mrs. Robert Duncan of Silverton.

Jean and Marie Patton Entertain With Costume Dance
One of the loveliest of all the Valentine affairs sponsored this season was the attractive costume dance of Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal D. Patton when their daughters, Jean and Marie, entertained a group of twenty-six girl friends from seven to nine o'clock.

The spacious rooms were fested with all the appointments beloved to all patrons of St. Valentine. Red tulips and red candles on the table and steamers of red hearts from the ceiling made the dining room a holiday bower where the young folk, coming in grand march down the broad stairway from the third floor, assembled for the delicious refreshments which closed the party.

Assisting Mrs. Patton during the evening were Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. W. E. Burns, Mrs. John Sites, and Miss Marian Linn.

Many attractive costumes were worn by the guests who were in attendance at this distinctive affair; Katherine Ellis, was dainty dressed as a rose; Dorothy Blaisdell and Helen Gardner were both garbed in fetching clown costumes; Myra Belt, in a bewitching costume of Bo-Peep, danced the garden dance; Dorothea Cory was dressed to personify winter; Esther Gibbard was a stunning young page; Margaret Savage was in Spanish costume; Margaret Bell and Zoe Daniels, in clever Dutch costume, danced a duet dance in character; Iris Jorgenson was beautifully dressed in an old-fashioned costume; Jane Robinson wore the attire of a peasant; Grace Elizabeth Holman made an attractive Bo-Peep, with her crook; Josephine McGilchrist was a Scottish Highland lassie; Josephine Cornoyer was exquisite in a pink and lavender Colonial frock; Lillie Samuels came dressed as a French peasant; Virginia Cross was lovely in her party frock; Virginia Bright was a captivating Pierrette; Karlene Rice was precisely frocked as a maid; Julia Johnson was vivid in her role; Evelyn Davis of Independence was a Valentine; Ann Reed Burns was a charming ballet girl; Edna Savage was a peasant; Margaret Jauser wore the stunning attire of a Colonial gentleman; Eleanor Luper was a Spanish girl; Betty Brown and Louise Brown were equally attractive in their dance costumes; and the hostesses were picturesque.—Jean as a realistic Ben Bolt and Marie as a stunning young Spanish maiden.

Loyal Women Meet
At 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon the Loyal Women's class of the First Christian church met for the regular business meeting and social hour. ANNOUNCING THE Grand Opening
OF MILLER'S NEW
Millinery Section
Monday, February 15, 1 o'clock

—Monday, 1 P. M., we open our new MILLINERY DEPARTMENT with a complete line of new hats that were purchased at the great MILLINERY FASHION SHOW recently held in New York City.

These hats, bringing with them the breath of Paris, will create no little interest among Salem women, for they speak the last word in stylish Spring head-gear.

Our policy of selling hats upon a close margin will also be of interest to Milady for she can now purchase her hat in season at a very reasonable price.

Every hat will be marked in plain figures and subject to Miller's Guarantee of absolute satisfaction or a refund of purchase price.

We cordially invite you to come to the Grand Opening Monday.

SPRING MILLINERY
$2.85 to $25.00

—If you want a hat is not only up to the minute but a little ahead of it, see this collection of advance models. Each a copy or adaption of a Paris success, shown at the recent openings. Each displays some new trick in line or trimming that makes it distinctive. Close fitting turbans, cloche, berets and many scooped brim models. Smart felts many of which are crushable with the gigio crowns. Shell weights of Pedaline straw. Rayon taffeta with trims of belting ribbon. Silks in lustrous effects with new ornaments of glimmering-buckles or applique. Here one will find many, many models in an immense stock from which to choose a Spring hat.

—A special feature of our Millinery opening will be a showing of hats which we believe will be second to none for value and becomingness. These were bought less than two weeks ago at the Fashion Show in New York and the group presents the newest shapes, newest colors and of course the wanted materials such as Pedaline straw, Balibuntals, Bangkoks, Visca, Ballilux, hand crocheted Italian straws, faille, bengalines and felts. New colors are Pablo, lip-stick, crabapple, wild honey, Marie Antoinette, rose, Palmetto green, oak buff, Florida gold, flame and the much wanted gray.
