LENGLEN-WILLS TO CONTEST FOR CROWN

Little California Girl to Meet French Marvel on Courts in Cannes

CANNES, France, Feb. 16.—(By Associated Press.)—A pale, watery moon this morning led tennis fans to fear that rain might cause a postponement of the Lenglen-Wills match.

CANNES, France, Feb. 15.—(By Associated Press.)—The ambition of Miss Helen Wills' life to satisfy which she alone with her mother crossed the American continent and the ocean, is on the eve of fulfillment.

Tomorrow in the finals of the women's singles of the Carlton tennis tournament, the California girl will meet Suzanne Lenglen, the French wonder and undefeated champion for the past five years.

Both Miss Lenglen and Miss Wills safely passed the semi-finals today, the former defeating Henriette Contoslavova, 6-0, 6-2, and the latter winning from Didi Vlasto, 6-1, 6-4.

To those who did not see the matches the French champion's figures seem more impressive than those of Miss Wills, but in the opinion of experts the American girl's performance was more inspiring than that of the French woman.

Miss Lenglen's opponent, stands second to Miss Lenglen in the tennis lists of Europe. She was finalist in the Olympic championships. Miss Contoslavova ranks fifth in France and never before won a single game from Suzanne. She today also succeeded by winning two games, in breaking Miss Lenglen's famous love series in the present matches.

But it was the demeanor of the two champions of the courts, rather than the points, that impressed spectators. Miss Lenglen was pale and drawn; her usual smile and debonair manner were absent. She played as if in fear of losing, and her agitation, when her opponent electrified the spectators by winning two games, was curious to behold. Some of those who had watched the French champion for years looked at one another and asked:

"Has the break come?"

Miss Wills, with courage and cool play even when, with the score 1-1 against her in the second set, things looked gloomy, was a distinct contrast. Miss Lenglen walked off the courts railing at the linesmen, whose decisions she disputed several times during the match, and complaining of a pain in her side.

Miss Wills chatted gayly with friends, and said: "It was a wonderful match and I enjoyed it greatly. Miss Vlasto is a great player."

gotten by the thousands, yes, by the tens of thousands. On every subscription turned in a certain number of votes are allowed, depending upon the size or rather length of the subscription. And in addition to these regular subscriptions 100,000 special votes are allowed on every $15 worth of subscription turned in any time since the beginning of the contest. This offer instantly ends February 27 and will not be renewed.

Therefore by the use of a little mathematics it can easily be figured that a mere handful of subscriptions at this time, the result of a little effort among your friends, relatives and acquaintances would at once place you among the leaders of the race and in the for a prize that can be cashed in for about $1115.

Worth trying for, to say the least—don't you think? Don't wait—start now.

Remember, to candidates we are going to give away a beautiful diamond ring which was purchased at Burnett Bros. on State street and on display in their window, value $100, to the candidate who secures the most money on subscriptions between February 8 and February 27. This diamond will be given away Saturday night at 9 p. m., February 27th. It is an extra special prize and here is your chance to win two in the whole contest.

The Honor Roll today places Mrs. Leo Gronke again first for the diamond ring. Mrs. Gronke is one of the persistent workers in this contest and who deserves a great deal of credit.

Mrs. Frances Kleen holds second place, one of the new starters. She has taken the advice of the Contest Editor and is out to win even though she has just started.

Mrs. Winnie Braden holds third place. Mrs. Braden just started in her campaign a few days ago. She asks the support of her friends. We wish her the best of success.

The leader in the whole contest goes to another new candidate, a Miss Leota Brantner of Woodburn. Miss Brantner in the beginning gave up entirely but has now started in earnest. She has found how easy it is to climb to the top of the list with very little effort.

THE CHERRY CITY MILL IN FINE SHAPE

Turning Out More Flour and Feed Than Before the Fire; New Machinery

The Cherry City Milling company, at its present quarters, 481 Trade street, is now turning out more flour and feed than it was before the fire that destroyed its old plant.

It is producing 50 barrels of flour a day now, and it has a new feed plant, with a capacity of 50 tons a day. This plant is modern, right down to date. This is true of all the present equipment.

Automatic scales have been installed, for both receiving and sacking. The new mill has 20,000 feet of floor space; more than the old mill had. The only shortage is on bin room; but this is provided for at the Dery warehouse.

The officers of the company are P. W. Geiser, president; Ross C. Bidwell, vice president; Alfred Montgomery, secretary treasurer.

CITY DUMP PROTESTED
RESIDENT CALLS SPOT NUISANCE TO COMMUNITY
That the city dump is extremely offensive to residents of the Englewood district was the assertion made before the city council last night by Mrs. Fitz, a resident.

Englewood district, she brought out, is a rapidly growing resident community, with many children. The dump is so close, that not only is it unsightly, but the odors are disagreeable.

Mayor Geisy explained that a special committee is working out a scheme to remove the city dump to some place farther away, and at least outside the city limits. Alderman Dancy added that the dump will have to be moved before the year is out. He stated that Street Commissioner Low is to use Cyanide gas starting today
