

Salem Tossers Take Rough Game from Independence, Score 23 to 13

VISITORS START IN FAST ATTACK

First Quarter Ends 4 to 3 in Favor of Locals, Few Fouls Scored

Salem high school defeated Independence high school in the local high gymnasium last night 23-13. The game was the roughest seen in the city this year. In spite of this few fouls were called. Referee Riding allowed the game to go on good naturedly without retarding the speed.

Independence, starting out with whirlwind offense and defense, gleaned the first score, and went an extra one on a free throw. But Salem came back with two baskets, and the first quarter ended 4-3 for the locals.

Salem took the second quarter by just two points, gaining 7 while Independence made 5. During this session the game was not very rough or very fast, although the passing was good.

When the whistle blew and the ball was tossed starting the second half, both teams launched a fast offensive, garnished with plenty of physical exercise. Checking was close on both sides and play was fast. Independence was unable to score during the third period, while Salem forged ahead to 19.

In the last quarter Nash was sent in to relieve Siegmund, who had played exceptionally up to that time, and Lyons was sent in for Olinger. The period went to Independence, who scored 5 points against Salem's four.

Siegmund was high point man of the game with six points, while J. Drager followed with 5. Weddie, center and Calbreath, forward, stood out for Independence. Salem will journey to Eugene Friday for a battle with Eugene high school. Several members of the student body are laying plans to have an accompanying rooters' caravan.

Following is the lineup for the game last night.

Salem	Independence
Duffey	RF
Siegmund	LF
J. Drager	C
R. Drager	RG
Olinger	LG
Substitutions: Salem; Nash and Lyons.
Referee: Red Higgins of OAC.

KARASICK DOWNS BILL THORNTON

Loses First Fall, Takes Next Two Before Good Heilig Audience

Al Karasick, the highly touted "Russian Lion" easily defeated Billy Thornton, Canadian wrestling light, in the match held last night at the Heilig theatre. Thornton succeeded in executing the first throw, 10 minutes after the start of the match. He used a grapevine hold terminating in a toe hold that proved painful for Karasick.

The second fall, going to Karasick came after 26 minutes of scuffling. Before Karasick applied the ju jitsu headlock that decided the fall each wrestler connected with several good holds, but appeared unwilling to force them.

Eight minutes were all that was required for the last fall. Karasick won the fall with one of his famous headlocks. The headlock was well applied, although resulting in no serious injury to Thornton.

LEWIS TO MEET M'CORMICK HERE

Return Match Scheduled for February 24, Fighters Out for Win

Determined to break the jinx that has held him to draw decisions in his last fights with George McCormick and Billie Gardane, Frankie Lewis, Salem welter, has signed a contract for a match with McCormick at the Salem Armory February 24.

Lewis fought McCormick at Salem on January 21, in a brilliant encounter, securing a draw from the more experienced, heavier fighter. Salem and Portland fans attending the fight pronounced it one of the best battles fought here.

At the next clash both McCormick and Lewis will weigh in six hours before the event. Entrants of other numbers on the card will be weighed in ringside. McCormick has signed to weigh in at 150 pounds and Lewis has stipulated 147 1/2 pounds for his own weight, according to Matchmaker Plant.

Sergeant Plant has also signed up Ted Fox, of Independence and Little Billie Robbins, of Portland for the semi-final. Both lads are fast at their weight of 118 pounds. Young Watts, of West Salem and Bosco Bronson of Wheatland will be on the card. There is a real demand for these two boys as a result of their fast, no clinch preliminary on the Bayes-Edwards card.

Stocky Foley, another Salem lad of good scrapping ability will probably be on the list if a good opponent can be secured. Dan Healy, one time trainer of Phil Bayes and a fast featherweight has made progress in his Portland training program and will challenge the winner of this bout.

Joining for Action, Salem Rod & Gun Club Extends Invitation

A membership drive to increase enrollment from 178 to 500 members was started at last night by the Salem Rod & Gun club with invitation to all men interested in sport, fishing or shooting to join the organization.

Dues are $2.50 which is the permanent membership fee, no annual charges being made. Support of all local sportsmen is needed in order to secure aid of the state game commission in stocking streams and furnishing game birds for fields.

Six prizes, approximating $75 will be offered to present members adding the largest number of new names to the roll. The game commission was requested to furnish information concerning its acts in stocking streams and posting land.

First round in the tri-city shoot will take place Sunday, when Salem sportsmen will journey to Eugene for the contest. As many members as care to go are asked to make the trip, the ten scoring highest in the shooting being counted as Salem's team.

Following the telegraphic shoot, the tri-city shoot will take place. Last night a committee of three was named to represent the club at the state sportsmen's convention in Portland on February 22. Those named were Sam Hughes, Walter Winslow and D. H. Mosher. Regular meetings of the club are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

SUZANNE LENGLEN WINS FROM WILLS

American Girl Is Defeated in Cannes Tennis Matches, 6-3 and 6-8

CANNES, France, Feb. 16.—(By Associated Press).—Suzanne Lenglen remains undisputed tennis champion of the world by virtue of her victory today over Helen Wills, but for a few minutes it seemed as though her reign might end.

It was a wonderful match between the greatest women players of the old and the new world, the finals in the singles of the Carlton tournament which packed the stands with enthusiastic supporters of the two contestants and brought together huge clamoring crowds outside the gates who were unable to get in.

The score was 6-3, 8-6 in favor of Mile. Lenglen after one of the most dramatic finishes in the history of tennis, ending with both near the verge of collapse.

The California girl took the lead in the first set, as had been hoped by her supporters, and the score stood 2-1 at the end of the third game. But the French champion, playing with old time skill and finesse, evened matters in the fourth and won also the fifth and sixth. Helen took the next game, but Suzanne finished the set with careful placements.

It was the second set, however, that all the dramatic features of the contest were displayed. From start to finish it was give and take, each striving at the end for the extra point that would spell victory. Miss Wills performed far above her usual game, while Mile. Lenglen, at times trembling with emotion, stroked like one in pain.

Showered with flowers and congratulations from many of the great of the world, Suzanne was accorded an ovation such as perhaps before she has never experienced in her career. The reaction made the tears flow down her face as friends gathered about her, but the cheers of the multitude soon brought back the smile of the victor.

"I told you you would have to congratulate me," she said to one who had previously expressed some doubt as to her ability to win. Helen Wills, with youth in her favor, took her defeat philosophically.

PUGET SOUND FIVE TO PLAY BEARCATS

College of Puget Sound will arrive in Salem today for the game this evening with the Willamette quintet. The game is scheduled to take place on the floor of the Willamette gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Visitors have a strong team, having won 17 games this season and lost none. In the recent Willamette-CPS game played at Tacoma the Loggers defeated the Bearcats 32-29.

While little is at stake for the Bearcats in the game, upon the ability of CPS to win depends her chances for the northwest conference championship. If she loses, she is out of the running.

Although the matter has not been decided, Whitman and CPS will in all probability be pitted against each other should each school emanate from the conference schedule with a clear record.

Four of the men on the CPS team are six footers and fast, according to Coach Rathbun. The team is close guarding, and each member is said to be a good shot. To insure a fast game Ralph Coleman of OAC has been engaged to serve as referee. Coleman is considered to be one of the best basketball officials on the Pacific coast, and has recently been engaged prolifically by teams in the Pacific coast conference.

Sign Banned by Order

Understood clearly that the commission will retain a policy of sanctioning the placing of no signs except those advertising the business located on the same property as the signs and for sale and for rent signs.

Petition of Mr. Kramer to remodel his house on Church street next to the Salem high school to set up a sandwich and confectionary business was referred to a committee appointed to investigate the matter.

BAYES TO FACE TAYLOR IN BOUT

Local Fighter Will Probably Meet Man Who Took Decision in Scrap

Phil Bayes, popular Salem featherweight, will probably fight here early in March. Matchmaker Plant is completing contracts for the appearance of Bayes and Ailie Taylor of Bend.

Taylor took a close cut decision from Bayes at Bend last week in an event that kept the central Oregon fans on the shout from the start till the last clang of the gong.

Bayes believes that he can better his condition and take the doughy little Bender into camp, Lwa removing another serious obstacle from his path to recognition.

This will be Bayes' 48th fight. Of this number he has won a score of decisions, delivered eight knockouts and sustained few losses. Bayes has not been knocked out at any time in his career. At one time he was floored but was up before the count and fought out to a draw.

EUGENE 'Y' CHORUS WILL SING SUNDAY

Members of the Salem boys' chorus, directed by Dr. H. C. Epley, held a rehearsal last night in the rooms of the Salem YMCA. The boys are preparing for a concert to be one of the principal features of the opening of the new YMCA building.

It was revealed at the rehearsal last night that the Pioneer clubs chorus of Eugene, headed by W. P. Walters, boys' work secretary of that city, will give a concert next Sunday evening at the local First Christian church. There are 60 voices in the choir.

Salem boys' chorus will turn out in a body for the concert, wearing their uniforms of white shirts and flowing red ties. Dr. Epley will accompany the boys.

The Pioneer club of the First Christian church will entertain the visiting chorus, and will furnish ushers for the occasion. Members of the Pioneer clubs of Salem and members of the Salem boys' chorus have been extended special invitations to be present for the concert. The public is also cordially invited to attend.

LEIGH WADE TO LEAVE SERVICE

Pennsylvania and will be known as the American Universities Alumni expedition.

Robert Anderson Pope, a New York engineer and Harvard graduate who has spent five years in the Arctic, conceived the expedition. He interested several prominent alumni of other universities who, with him, have undertaken to finance the outfit.

Although the personnel has been almost completed, the names of two of the pilots and a navigator cannot be announced until they resign from United States service. Other pilots, however, will be Noel Wein, a commercial aviator who has flown 20,000 miles in Alaska without mishap, and Norman H. Read, a Yale man, who joined the Royal air forces at the beginning of the war and has a record of almost six thousand hours scout and reconnaissance flying during the war in the United States air service.

Other members of the party will be Lowell Thomas, writer and photographer; Harry Ehleb, mining engineer, and L. L. Jackson, radio expert formerly of the navy, and a geologist and meteorologist on the staff of the American museum of natural history. An ornithologist-botanist is yet to be selected.

"A flight to the pole as a minor purpose of the expedition, Lieutenant Wade said, probably would be attempted.

"If we find the unknown continent, which we feel certain lies to the north of Siberia and Alaska," he said, "we shall establish a base there. From there a round trip flight to the pole could be made in three hours. With flying conditions right, that should be a very simple matter."

The expedition will be equipped with five Douglas planes. Each will be equipped with three 220 horsepower motors. If upon scouting trips land is discovered and a favorable place found to establish a base the expedition may go in at once and spend the winter. If the situation calls for greater preparation plans will be made to go in the following summer.
