Salem MacDowell Club to Give Distinctive Program on Monday

A program of premieres, one might safely call the unusually attractive program which the Salem MacDowell club will sponsor on Monday evening, February 22, in Waller Hall, so unique in musical circles of this locale are some of the numbers chosen.

Of especial interest will be the duet rendition of "Le Roi King" (King David) by Honegger, one of the most modern of the composers, by Mrs. W. H. Burghardt and Miss Dorothy Pearce. As far as is known, "Le Roi King" has never been heard in America outside of New York city, where it was presented as a symphonic poem—a musical composition similar to the oratorio.

Many, in addition to the associate members who hold season tickets, will doubtless attend this concert in order to avail themselves of an unusual opportunity to acquaint themselves with some of the most interesting work being done in the field of music.

Numbers for two pianos will be given by Lucile Ross and Byron Arnold, providing a group on the program that will be of particular interest inasmuch as music for two pianos is rarely heard in Salem. Miss Ross and Mr. Arnold have chosen Gerahwy "Rhapsody in Blue" and other premieres in the northwest for a strikingly effective performance. In addition they will play two piano numbers from Arensky.

The vocalist of the evening will be Jeannette Boyer Xanten, who will sing groups in both French and English in her peerless manner. Mrs. Xanten is the daughter of Prof. W. H. Boyer, the director of the MacDowell club chorus.

Prominent Salem People Compose Membership of Salem Garden Club

Mrs. W. H. Burghardt will talk at the regular February meeting of the Salem Garden club, formerly known as the Salem Floral society, on French gardens, basing her talk on her own discriminating observations while abroad. Gertrude Robinson Ross will read a poem with a garden theme, while Mrs. Richard Robertson will sing garden songs.

The following Salem people make up the complete personnel of the club: Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. John Albert, Hector Adams, Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. Mollie Brunk, Mrs. J. F. ## President Dobbs to Speak

President John F. Dobbs of Pacific university will be the speaker at the luncheon meeting today at the Elks' club of the Salem branch of the American Association of University Women.

President Dobbs has chosen as his subject, "The Content of Higher Education for Tomorrow."

School Children to See Film

Salem school children are invited to see part one of the famous film, "Abraham Lincoln," at 7 o'clock this evening at the First Congregational church rather than tomorrow night, at which time only those children accompanied by their parents will be admitted. There will be no admission charge but an offering will be taken.

Moroni Olsen Players

One of the most distinctive dramatic offerings of the season is promised for Tuesday evening, March 2, when the distinctive actors in the Moroni Olsen company will present "Friend Hannah" at the Hellig theater. Paul Kester, the author of "Friend Hannah," is also the author of such productions as "When Knighthood Was in Flower" and "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." In the opinion of many, "Friend Hannah" is both the author's best production and the Moroni Olsen Players' best performance.

South Circle Meets

The South Circle of the First Christian church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. A. Penney Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 17. After the business session the social hour was spent in sewing. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Birch. The next meeting of the circle will be held with Mrs. Otto Headrick.

Members present were Mrs. Gabbert, Mrs. Birdwell, Mrs. Gritton, Mrs. Phillip, Mrs. Hobson, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Elgin, Mrs. Headrick, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Walcher, Mrs. Reilly, Mrs. Ruggles, Mrs. Nash, Miss Mortenson, Miss Ahne and the hostesses, Mrs. Penney and Mrs. Birch.

Mrs. Price Entertains With Birthday Luncheon

Mrs. Erry A. Price was hostess on Thursday at a delightful one o'clock luncheon honoring Mrs. Clifton B. Mudd and Mrs. Biddy Bishop. The affair was planned to celebrate the birthdays of the honor guests. An attractive centerpiece of daffodils was used on the table where yellow candles glowed in crystal holders. Favors and place cards carried out the same color note. After the luncheon needlework and conversation were the diversions.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Clifton B. Mudd, Mrs. Biddy Bishop, Mrs. Ralph Gordon, Mrs. J. P. Daniels, Mrs. Al Lockard, Mrs. John Waters, Mrs. Russell Mead, and the hostess, Mrs. Perry A. Price.

W. W. Club Is Entertained

Members of the W. W. club were the guests at a delightful evening of five hundred on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stiff, Jr., at their home on North Twenty-first street. Light refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Andre Mattoni, hailed as a second Valentino, has just arrived in New York, where this picture was taken en route to Hollywood. Mr. Mattoni is only 23 years of age, was born in Vienna and is the favorite of the European women.

Two years ago Anna Q. Nilsson had the role of a boy in "Ponjola." Remember her short clipped locks? Now First National has cast her as the heroine in "Miss Nobody," in which she is required to masquerade as a youth.

Colleen Moore was originally scheduled to star in "Miss Nobody," which as "Sheba" was a newspaper serial.

"The Second Chance," which Miss Nilsson finished a short time ago, has been retitled "Her Second Chance."

Helene Chadwick undertakes the part of a young newly rich girl attempting to break into exclusive society in "Pleasures of the Rich," in which she is being starred by Tiffany Productions.

John Bowers is denying reports that he is to desert the grease paint for a director's megaphone.

Charles Dillingham and A. L. Erlanger have released for motion picture production all of their stage successes. But they are for sale with reservations—no new ideas may be inserted by scenarists, and the original texts must be followed as nearly as possible. Among the vehicles for sale are two plays by General Lew Wallace, "The Prince of India," and "The Fair God," John Galsworthy's

DINNER STORIES

With a jerk the bus came to a halt and two girls clambered gingerly aboard. It was raining and had been so for upwards of an hour, the vehicle was crowded and they were unable to get seats.

One of the girls was a little unsteady on her feet, and after the bus had indulged in several violent lurches, she decided that it would be safer to hold on to something. Accordingly, she grasped what she imagined was her friend's hand.

After standing thus for a few moments she looked down, and to her embarrassment, discovered that she was holding the hand of a strange man.

"Oh!" she gasped. "I've got the wrong hand!"

With a smile, the man withdrew his hand and held out the other.

"All right, miss!" he said reassuringly. "There's the other one!"

lady sat with her hands spread on the tablecloth. Suddenly the burr of conversation ceased, and in the silence that followed a young man on the right of his hostess said, pleasantly: "Awful pause!" "Yes, they may be," said the old-time cook, with heightened color; "and yours would be like them if you had done half my work."

GAMBLING GAME LIKED

INDIANS RIVAL NEGRO IN GAME WITH SMALL STICK

GLACIER PARK, Mont., Feb. 13.—Indians of the Glacier National Park reservations are ardent gamblers with their stick game. This merely consists of holding a small stick in the closed fist and the amusement is furnished when the opposing Indians try to guess the hand that holds the stick. The extravagant side talk and gestures indulged in would do justice to the negroes' picturesque game of craps. The value of General Motors company "exports" during 1925 were $122,000,000. Last year this had been increased to a total of $178,000,000.
