RESPECT FOR LAW TOPIC OF ADDRESS

Dr. Carl Gregg Doney Declares Good Americans Keep All Statutes

"We have the law to defend, and the law to respect, and the law to promote," declared Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, president of Willamette university, who addressed Salem Kentonians yesterday noon on "Patriotism."

"Those who refuse to observe the 18th amendment are not playing the game. They cannot claim to be good Americans. If they have the right to break the law against drinking intoxicating liquors, why should I not have the right to steal a car, automobile, or a house?"

"There is a place at which we ought to stand and stand firmly. And that is, if we are real Americans, on the side of the law." Dr. Doney, speaking of the lives of Washington and Lincoln, whose birthdays have but recently passed, said that the one characteristic common to them both is unselfishness.

"Washington refused to accept from congress remuneration for his services—told them if they wished to pay him the modest amount he had drawn on from his own resources to finance the war, he might accept."

"Yet there are those modern critics, who want publicity, who say that Washington was avaricious!"

CHURCHES UNITE IN PROHIBITION APPEAL

church, and Dr. Thomas H. Lewis, president of the general conference of the Methodist Protestant church.

"The present confusion," it said, "seems to be due in large part to the publication in September, 1925, of a report generally represented as proceeding from the federal council of churches. This report, prepared by Dr. F. Ernest Johnson, was put into print without submission to the administrative committee of the federal council for review or suggestion and without general consultation with church temperance boards or agencies. It does not represent the churches nor the federal council."

Feel Glorious! Nicest Laxative, "Cascarets" 10c

Don't stay headachy, bilious, constipated, sick! One or two pleasant, candy-like "Cascarets" any time will gently stimulate your liver and start your bowels. Then you will both look and feel clean, sweet, refreshed; your head clears, stomach right, tongue pink and your skin rosy.

Because cheery, harmless "Cascarets" never grip, inconvenience or sicken, "Cascarets" has become the largest selling laxative in the world for men, women, children. Buy a box at any drug store.—Ad

Powerful Drama at Oregon

"The Goose Woman" dramatized from the sensational novel from the pen of Rex Beach, will close at the Oregon theatre tonight. Yesterday the Oregon was crowded. The three names, Rex Beach, Jack Pickford and Louise Dresser, combine to make the picture one of the best seen in many months. Advance press reports of the drama, hailing it as a wonderful piece of work, have not been exaggerated.

On the contrary it was an unpardonable misrepresentation, an inexcusable betrayal of many church bodies which cooperate with the federal council of churches. We repudiate it as unscientific in its methods, unwarranted and misleading in its conclusions, a product of provincialism, a strikingly example of the domination of local surroundings and special conditions. The exceedingly meager original research employed in preparing it was confined almost solely to the "New York section" of the country and revealed nothing as to general conditions in this country of 115,000,000 people.

"The report more recently issued as of and from the Church Temperance society of the Protestant Episcopal church by Dr. Emprisham has served only to reveal that the Church Temperance society is a voluntary organization stated by a bishop of that church to be semi-moribund, that it does not represent the Episcopal church and that, on the contrary, the clergy and laity of that church are in favor of the maintenance of the prohibition law and the supremacy of the United States authority over anti-social interests in every part of the country."

"There has been no change in the fidelity to the prohibition law of the churches which we represent. The liquor traffic is prohibited solely on the grounds of its evil effect upon society. The alleged attitude of Christ or of Paul toward the use of wine in the social conditions of that day does not justify the claim that they would approve or even tolerate the covetous, body and soul destroying liquor traffic of modern times."

"The beneficent results of the prohibition law are manifest and unnumberable. Upon it we have built a new prosperity which has raised the entire standard of living of the common people, improved the diet of the poor, housed the homeless, clothed the naked, filled our schools to overflowing, increased the savings which must serve as the instrument of enterprise and development, lowered the death rate and advanced the moral and religious interest of the generation."

"There is no apparent change in the sentiment of the people as a whole toward this law. However squarely the issue has been drawn since a national prohibition has been adopted, outside of the territory surrounding New York City the people have registered their approval of the law."

"We appeal to the people not to be deceived by the plea for so-called 'modification.' Modification means nothing less than destruction of the prohibition law. It means the return of the liquor traffic, which was 92 per cent a beer traffic. It means the return of the saloons, 85 per cent of which were under brewery control."

"There has never been any purpose on the part of the churches to ignore the necessity of earnest, comprehensive consideration of prohibition enforcement. The appointment at the instance of wet senators and congressmen, of wet men to enforce a dry law is dishonest and disastrous. The churches protest the incumbency of men so appointed. The policy of 'decentralization' subjecting appointees to local political influences is a questionable policy."

"There must be a clearer understanding of the division of the duties of state and municipalities on the one hand and of the nation on the other. Local enforcement of local officers is necessary and should be insisted upon in every part of the nation."

NEW DEBATE CHALLENGE ARRIVES BY AIR MAIL

Scott is also debating the Child Labor question. This similarity of propositions will eliminate much trouble and therefore we should like to debate your team. Interest in Toledo is very high at this time, and the bringing of such a well known school as Salem will attract a large audience.

Hoping that you will consider this matter favorably, I am, Yours truly, ALFRED S. COHN, Business Mgr.

Scott High, it will be remembered, sent its championship football team out here against Corvallis three years ago, and has been prominent in interstate high school activities for several years. No action has yet been taken on the proposed debate, but arrangements will be made to hold it if a satisfactory agreement can be reached between the two schools.

Paul Wallace, Fred Thielsen, Ed Schunke and C. E. Wilson working as an independent committee have already lined up nearly twenty business houses for ten tickets apiece.

Rumor from Massachusetts has it that the Eastern Salem thinks the west is still toting six-guns and wearing high heeled boots and chaps.

In their meeting yesterday noon the Kiwanis club voted unanimously to back the school in the debate and instructed the public affairs committee to work actively in cooperation with the student manager. It will be such an enthusiastic support it will be only a matter of days until the entire amount will be secured.

Before a meeting of the student body of the local high school yesterday Dr. Henry Morris and Fred Thielsen both emphasized the fact that the students should be whole heartedly in support of the debate in order to interest outsiders. Several members of the team spoke at this meeting urging the students to support them. Tickets are on sale in each classroom.

Friday night Salem will debate Scotts Mills for the district championship. The two affirmative teams will travel. This debate is of major importance, first because by a victory Salem will enter the state tourney, and second, because local forensic fans will have a chance to see the team in action.

OLMSTEAD TO APPEAL

SEATTLE, Feb. 23.—Roy Olmsted and 20 associates convicted of operating a liquor conspiracy at a conference here tonight decided to appeal to the United States circuit court at San Francisco. Their chief defense counsel, George F. Vandever was selected to make the appeal.

TEACHERS' PAY ISSUE ELECTION IS CALLED

Each one of the taxpayers present declared himself in favor of allowing the matter to be put before the people on ballot. Mrs. E. E. Fisher declared she is not only in favor of the raise, but that she is willing to work personally with the teachers in their effort to succeed in the election.

"I believe we need more men teachers, especially in our high schools. But we can't expect a good man teacher to come here at the salaries we now offer."

"I received $45 a month for teaching school once," Mrs. Elliott revealed. "But I received room, board and laundry for $25 a week. So I was really receiving more than our teachers are now."
