Marco Club Meets at Mosher Home
 Mrs. D. H. Mosher entertained in a delightful way on Friday afternoon for the members of the Marco club of the First Methodist church, a group of twenty being present for the day. Mrs. Mosher was assisted during the afternoon by Mrs. Charles Rohlin. Refreshments were arranged attractively in the rooms. Pleasing musical numbers were given by Kenneth Mosher, the son of the hostess.

Those in the group included: Mrs. A. A. Siewert, Mrs. H. R. White, Mrs. Ed Tripp, Mrs. F. A. Beard, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Cecil Hawley, Mrs. Carl Abrams, Mrs. R. Boardman, Mrs. Covert, Mrs. Mary Boeschen, Mrs. Grant Day, Mrs. Ronald Glover, Mrs. R. V. Hollenberg, Mrs. T. M. Hicks, Mrs. Walter Pennington, Mrs. Charles Rohlin, Mrs. Harry Swafford, Mrs. B. B. Herrick, Mrs. Walter B. Minier, and the hostess, Mrs. D. H. Mosher.

District Institute at Evangelical Church
 A district institute of the Woman's Missionary societies of the Oregon conference branch met on Friday at the First Evangelical church. Fourteen auxiliaries were represented, with a total of sixty persons being present. A very interesting report of the Woman's board meeting held in Council Bluffs was given by Mrs. D. D. Martin. Special musical numbers were given by Miss Marie Harold of Clear Lake and by the young

A Quartet of Contestants in Oregon Statesman Contest That are Going Strong

MRS. RALPH SKOPII
 Mrs. Skopil is an energetic candidate of good ability who has done wonderful work so far in the contest and believes that she can maintain her splendid record and win a grand prize on April 10. Mrs. Skopil has her eye on the Dodge sedan as the prize of her choice and believes that steady consistent work will win the desired prize on April 10.

LUCIAN HAYES
 Lucian Hayes is one of Salem's most popular young men who has a desire to win an automobile with the purpose of selling the machine and using the money to make a start in business life. His ambition is to develop a distributing system in the city of Salem. His many friends sincerely hope that he will attain his ideal.

ELIZABETH WELCH
 Elizabeth Welch is one of Salem's most popular young ladies and is well and favorably known in Salem and the surrounding district. She is an ambitious worker and believes that steady consistent effort will put her name on the winning list when the automobiles are being awarded on April 10. Miss Welch has a large circle of friends who wish her every success.

EVELYN BEATH
 Evelyn Beath is one of the young candidates in the contest but she is energetic, resourceful, and has many friends who are boosting for her, and she believes that she and her friends have an organization strong enough to win the prize of their choice on April 10. Recently Evelyn wrote to the Dodge Motor Car Company, at Detroit, Mich., and asked them for a subscription to help her win the prize and a short time afterward she received a Six Dollar subscription from Mr. Lee one of the Sales Managers of that Company.

organization in Falls City, which fills a place in school and public affairs not taken by any other, and prophecy much success for the Choral club in its future activities. With interest focussed upon old time dances, and old time dance music, what better time to awaken an interest in the old time songs? Many of them were frothy to be sure, but even in the lightest of them, we find very little that is actually bad. Let's revive the best of the old songs at least. They compare very favorably with most of the popular song hits of today.

Washington Honored by Schools
 Last Monday at 9 o'clock, instead of going to their class rooms, the pupils of both high and grade school met in Victory hall, with their teachers, where the pupils gave a very interesting program, with a good attendance of interested parents and friends to enjoy the exercises with them.

The program follows:
 Star Spangled Banner, by all; Invocation, Rev. H. H. Miller; February Song, first, second and third grades; Flag exercise, first grade; Minnet, second grade; recitation, Elvin Shiltz; The Lesson, third grade; piano solo, Jane Hammel; recitation, Washington's Birthday, Doris Tanner; song and flag drill, fifth grade; A Story of Washington, sixth grade; I Am An American, seventh grade; flag drill, eighth grade; Gettysburg Address, eighth grade; America, by all.
 The entire program was well given, showing careful preparation. Much of this preparation is done as a part of regular lesson work in different subjects, not only in preparation for this special program but in getting ready for other special occasions when the parents are entertained by the children.

Native Oregonian Goes to Rest
 John Steeprow, at the age of almost eighty years, passed away last Sunday morning in Falls City. He had been ill with the flu, which affected his heart, so the end came quite suddenly.

Mr. Steeprow was born and raised in the Alsea country, and the body was taken back there, where funeral services were conducted and interment made. At several points, said Bush, the congregation and the leaders of the opposition to Martin had disregarded these admonitions.

participation in affairs of the church of which he has for years been a member, and in which his father, Dr. T. J. Martin is an elder. At the trial, Martin asked whether he was to be tried under the old or the New Testament code, and when the question was not answered point blank, he appeared at the door of the church, where newspapermen, barred from entering, waited news of the proceedings and said to them:

"I've got them up a tree and they won't come down." Evidence was submitted to show that Martin had in the community house a machine from which one obtained candy by putting a coin in a slot. It often gave more candy than the money purchased, witnesses said, and Martin's accusers claimed it was a gambling device.

The remainder of the passage from St. Matthews gospel which Bush read in opposing continuation of the trial before the judges included these verses: "But if he (thy brother) will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established; and if he shall neglect to hear men's quarter of the Evangelical church. Mrs. C. C. Poling and Mrs. Branson had charge of the day's devotional. An excellent paper on the prayer life was given by Mrs. V. A. Ballantyne of Dallas. An interesting round table discussion was conducted. At noon an elaborate dinner was served.

Paul Hauser Celebrates Birthday
 Paul Hauser was very much surprised on Wednesday when a group of his school friends called at his home to help celebrate his twelfth birthday. Music and games of various kinds were enjoyed by the young folk. Mrs. Paul Hauser was assisted by Mrs. W. J. Hagedorn, Paul's grandmother, and by Mrs. J. A. Krebs. In the group for the enjoyable occasion were: Marlon Duffy, Betty May Hartung, Laura Flagg, Constance and Dorothy Krebs, Alice Speck, Betty Stewart, Margaret Hauser, Jay Bertelson, Sam Harbison, Jack McCullough, Tristram Hale, and the honor guest, Paul Hauser, Jr.

Luncheon at Jason Lee
 The ladies of Central circle of the Jason Lee church will serve a business men's luncheon on Wednesday noon at the church.

Kensington Club Is Entertained
 Mrs. N. C. Kafoury entertained in a delightful manner on Friday afternoon for the members of the Kensington club. The living room was attractive with baskets of red carnations and white narcissi, while blue candles burned in silver holders. At the tea-hour Mrs. Kafoury was assisted in the serving by her daughters, Misses Helen and Mary Kafoury.
 At the next meeting of the club Mrs. George King will be the hostess.

Guests From Portland
 Mr. and Mrs. Mark Skiff, Jr. of Portland are guests today of Mr. Skiff's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Mark Skiff.

coils, over one hundred and seventy-five were in attendance at the Parent-Teachers Association meeting held in the high school auditorium.
 Routine business was transacted, and a general discussion of the side walk needed in front of the high school grounds, the best plan to secure ample parking space, the beautification of the school grounds, and other allied subjects was led by members of the school board. This is a subject in which every one in the community has an interest and should be well understood, and the best plans possible finally adopted.

The program for the evening was in charge of Mrs. Kate G. Boyd, musical director of the Choral Society. The first number was the minuet, danced by Second Grade pupils. The Choral club, appearing in Colonial costumes, gave a group of song numbers. Mrs. Mabel Hatch gave a reading.

 Following the program the refreshment committee, with Mrs. Roy McDonald, chairman, served dainty refreshments of moulded fruit salad, whipped cream dressing; hot buttered rolls and coffee.

The work of the Choral Club, upon this, its first public appearance, was excellent, and both members and director are to be congratulated upon the pleasing results of a few short weeks of practice. We are proud of this newest

"PAY—US—AS YOU—ARE—PAID"

The two lines express in a nutshell the Burnett Budget Plan. Nothing ever developed in the commercial world has proved to be more helpful. Thousands are using it, hundreds who could pay cash outright find that it is a good plan. They leave their money in the bank and pay from the earnings. And those six words are copyrighted in every state where there is a Burnett Jewelry Store—in Oregon, in Washington and in California. Here is an opportunity to test its usefulness to find out for yourself that the Burnett Budget Plan is the Easiest, Happiest and Most Economical ever devised.
