

"THE ENCHANTED HILL" AT THE OREGON

From the novel by Peter B. Kyne, "The Enchanted Hill" has been dramatized into one of the greatest western films ever screened. "The Enchanted Hill" is not one of the regular run of "Western thrillers." And it differs remarkably from the cut-and-dried, stilted type of Western melodrama.

UNIVERSITY LISTS SUMMER COURSES

Outstanding Educators Are to Conduct Classes in Oregon

Twelve outstanding figures in the educational world have been secured by the University of Oregon for work in the summer sessions, it was announced recently.

From the campus a few leading members of the faculty will be taken to Portland for the summer session. They are Dr. Dan Clark, history; Dr. Donald Barnes, history; Dr. Glenn Hoover, economics; Dr. F. G. G. Schmidt, head of the department of Germanic languages; Dr. Howard R. Taylor, psychology; A. R. Sweetser, head of the department of botany; Dr. P. A. Parsons, sociology, and J. E. A. Johnstone, Greek.

Both summer sessions will begin June 21 and end July 31.

BUILDING PERMITS PLACE SALEM HIGH

Is Second Only to Portland, With Eugene and Klamath Falls Next

Salem rated second only to Portland among Oregon cities in the number of building permits taken out in January according to a detailed survey made by S. W. Straus' Pacific Coast department. Portland headed the list with 944, Salem came next with 48, Eugene third with 45, Klamath Falls took fourth honors with 37.

Portland's January records of 944 permits totaling $1,985,660 in costs shows a 32 per cent reduction from the record of last January and a 10 per cent reduction from the December period.

Tacoma's January figure of 192 permits to cost $987,675 shows a 1 per cent reduction below last January's figure, but a gain of 32 per cent over December's figure. Vancouver, British Columbia, permits costing $981,543 during January, shows a 22 per cent increase over the last January and 128 per cent over December's record. The 57 California cities comprised in the Straus survey show, as a whole, reductions of 15 per cent below January of last year and 32 per cent below December. Of these cities, but 20 show gains over last January and 24 show gains over December.

Los Angeles issued 3,236 permits calling for a construction cost of $6,973,252 during January. This is the lowest monthly figure reported by this city in the past four years, being 37 per cent less than last January and 58 per cent less than December.

In the Los Angeles metropolitan area, 15 contiguous municipalities reporting, 4,428 January permits total $11,282,469, a 26 per cent reduction from last January and a 48 per cent reduction from December.

In San Francisco, 786 permits were being issued to cost a total of $5,153,504, which is the highest figure this city has reported since April of 1925. This shows a 51 per cent gain over January of last year and a 55 per cent gain over December.

In the San Francisco metropolitan area, 13 municipalities report a January total of 2,362 permits to cost $9,966,181, a gain of 17 per cent above the comparable figure for last January and 16 per cent above December's figure. Seattle issued 834 permits for a cost of $5,003,660, 84 per cent over last January and 329 per cent over December. "This figure has been exceeded only twice before in Seattle during the past four years."

Oakland, with a January record of 914 permits to cost $2,895,253 shows a gain of 1 per cent over last January, but a reduction of 21 per cent from December.

SETTLERS INQUIRE FOR OREGON FACTS

Questions Constantly Received by Land Settlement Department

That homeseekers all over the country are looking toward Oregon is strongly indicated by the fact that on the average of 30 to 50 inquiries a day are being received at the present time by the land settlement department of the Portland chamber of commerce, which, co-ordinating with the Oregon state chamber of commerce, has started its 1926 state wide development campaign.

Since Feb. 1, 58 new settlers have been reported to the department. Josephine county has reported 15 families located this month and 41 names were received from Marion county.

One of the best individual locations was reported this month so far from Astoria. It involves an investment of $16,000, and was made by George W. Peck and H. J. Glover of Redwood, Cal. These new settlers originally came from Idaho and have spent some time investigating the agricultural conditions of both Oregon and California.

Mr. Glover has already taken charge of the farm and they are planning on extending their holdings in Clatsop county, which will include perhaps another farm.

SCHOOL SENTIMENT WILL BE DISCUSSED

Residents of the South Salem district have been asked to confer with members of the Salem school board Tuesday evening at McKinley junior high school, it was made known by Lr. H. H. Olinger, chairman of the board, yesterday. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock. The meeting has been called so the board may learn what the residents of South Salem want in the way of a new school building and what site they wish. The impression has gotten around that a new elementary school instead of a new junior high school, is wanted. It is expected the matter will be threshed out thoroughly at the meeting Tuesday night.

Nurse's Advice

Rid Her of Pimples Brooklyn. Mrs. Minnie Fensterer writes -- "My pimples and blackheads got so bad I feared it was eczema. I consulted in a nurse friend of mine. I had been troubled with constipation and indigestion for some time. She advised me to try Carter's Little Liver Pills. You can see by my picture that the treatment has done wonders, and I am now free from constipation. Chronic constipation many times causes pimples. Carter's Little Liver Pills encourage the bowels to eliminate the poisons. Suggests 25 & 75c red packages. —Adv.

RADIO BILL CONSIDERED DANGER OF MONOPOLY IS APPARENT TO OPPONENTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(By Associated Press.)—Hearings on the Dill radio regulation bill before the senate interstate commerce committee today developed both opposition and supporters. Morris L. Ernst, representing the American civil liberties union, attacked the measure as not offering sufficient security against monopoly on safeguarding the expression of minority opinion.

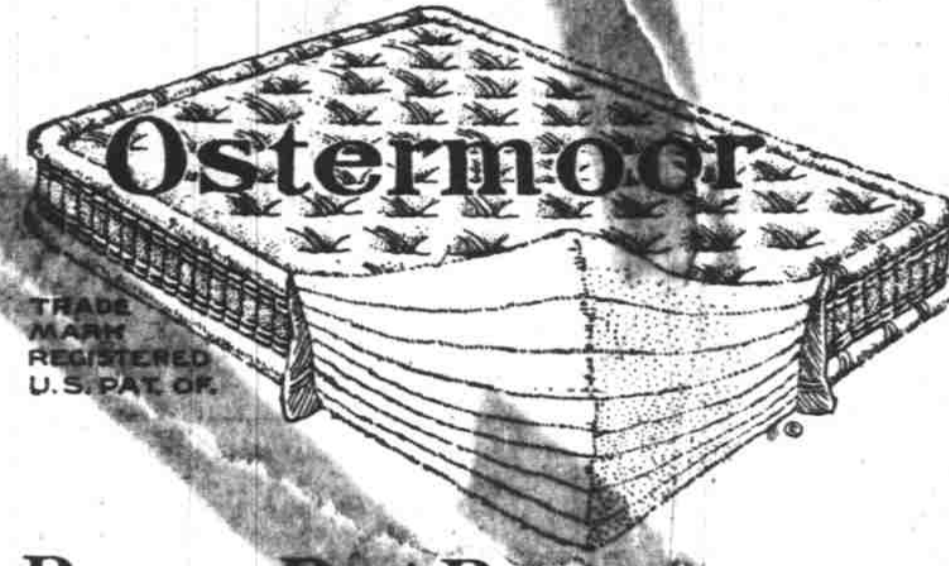

Stephen E. Davis, solicitor of the department of commerce, urged passage of the bill, which he declared would broaden the department's control over radio. This, he held, was necessary to assure orderly development of the industry. Buy a Want Ad—It Pays Best

The Joneses had been through the trying ordeal of a fire. All the neighbors gallantly turned out and gave every assistance that lay in their power, finally putting the Joneses themselves for the night. However, things weren't so bad as they looked and the following day the Joneses found that they should return to their home. Accordingly they did so, and having settled down, they wondered what could be done to show their appreciation of their neighbor's kindness. At last they hit upon a brilliant idea and inserted an advertisement in the local paper. It read thus: "Mr. and Mrs. Jones which to express thanks to their many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted at the burning of their residence."
