LIBERTY BRIDGE ASKED IN SIGNED PETITION

owner along the downtown section of Liberty street has signed the petition. Represented on the petition it is understood, are Roth Grocery company, George C. Will, Dr. B. L. Steeves, Salem Bank of Commerce, Eckerlin Curtie Cross and Frank Myers.

The petition will be presented to the city council at its next meeting to be held March 15. Although the matter of bridges has been given serious and extended attention by the council the Liberty street bridge has received little consideration.

It is claimed that a bridge on South Liberty would cost so much "money that were it built, other bridges in the city would have to be neglected. It is thought the bridge would about equal in cost all the other bridges combined.

By filling in from Trade street and from Bellevue those favoring the project have been shorter.

Further means of reducing cost of construction, some have suggested that the bridge be built of steel instead of concrete. If the span can be made of short enough length, however, it is generally conceded concrete would be most economical construction in the end.

There is practically no negative sentiment to the claim that the South Liberty street bridge project is the most important in the city. Should such a bridge be built, and Liberty street opened up, it is the consensus of opinion that the street would be one of the most important in town.

Already Liberty street from State to Ferry has been built up on the east side. A ten or eleven story bank building is going up on the southwest corner of Liberty and State. An eight-story building will probably be erected on the northwest corner of Liberty and Ferry.

The owners of the property in between on the west side are expected to raise concrete structures in the near future.

But building is arrested from Ferry street south because the street ends abruptly at Trade. Another argument advanced by those promoting the bridge project is that opening of the street through town would greatly relieve the traffic congestion on Commercial street.

OREGON BANKER DIES IN CITY OF SPOKANE

more than two years, and death came from pneumonia following an attack of influenza that had lowered his vitality to the danger point.

At the time of his death he retained the title of vice president in the banking firm of Coolidge & McClaine, at Silverton, second largest institution of its type in Marion county, Salem excluded. For many years he was intimately associated with the Silverton bank during the period in which its policies were tested and expanded.

Coming from a family of distinction, as a relatively young man he left Silverton, going north. He was closely affiliated with the financial world of the northwest throughout the period of his maturity.

AID TO SETTLERS OBJECT OF MEET

Land Settlement Committee to Meet Here Friday, Delegates Asked

A meeting to reorganize the service of the land settlement committee of the Oregon state chamber of commerce is to be held Friday night in the auditorium of the Salem chamber of commerce.

Salem realtors and others throughout the county who are interested in bringing desirable settlers to this section will be present at the meeting.

The object is to work in cooperation with the state chamber of commerce to bring the desirable settlers here. Several such settlers have already approached the state chamber on the matter of coming here.

One object of the meeting is to secure the cooperation of the men in each community in Marion county. The attendance at the meeting is expected to include the leading citizens of each community.

An effort will be made to bring the matter before the public as quickly as possible.

Whitney L. Boise, of Portland, chairman of the land settlement committee of the state chamber, will be one of the principal speakers. J. F. Daly, president of the Hibernia Commercial & Savings bank of Portland, and W. G. Ide, manager of the state chamber, will also be present at the meeting.

RUINS BANK TO AID THE NEEDY

the other for the loans I made my friends. I never used a penny for my own advancement."

This confession was borne out by the two sets of books and investigations of the state bank department.

Bank examiners say it is evident Rosencrans never forced payment on a note in the bank. He used his cunning to switch the bonds and certificates of deposits of one group of customers to bolster up the paper of borrowers who were unable to make payments.

All the mess of bad book-keeping, juggling of accounts, deception in the notes and diversions of trust funds and bonds, had evaded the attention of the bank examiners. It was only after a regular examiner had started to check up that some comparisons were made and deceptive entries discovered.

However, all of Mulvane isn't sorry for Rosencrans. Some of the poor suffered, too.

A Mrs. Frances Burrus, young widow of a World War veteran, is one of the "needy" that figured in Rosencrans' operations at the bank. Mrs. Burrus is blind, a helpless invalid, who lives at the home of A. A. Rucker in Mulvane, who is a relative of one of the bank directors. The blind widow cannot move, but must lie in bed, contented that she can have Mrs. Rucker as a companion. Mrs. Burrus had about $600 remaining from an insurance policy. Rosencrans was guardian of the widow and therefore had charge of her money. Twenty-two cents is credited to her in the bank's books.

Mrs. Ben Swart takes in washing at Mulvane and does any work to be had in the small town to help pay the interest on the family home. She had about $300 in the bank when it was closed and her interest payments were due. But the savings were lost in the crash.

Mrs. A. F. Palmer, widow, who had $500 in the bank, was dependent on the money for any emergency that might arise while she was rearing her children. She took in washing and rented rooms in her house to keep the family together since her husband, a truck driver, died last May. The $500 on deposit at the bank was the remainder from a $1,000 insurance policy.

A. A. Rich sold a small restaurant across the street from the bank a few weeks ago and turned the money over to "Rosie." The banker had lent money to Rich several times, requiring no security. Rich had saved enough by working as a laborer to start the restaurant and was proud of a profit he had made in the sale. However, the $800 was sunk in the whirlpool of Rosencrans' mis-handlings.

"There wasn't a better friend in the world, but he sure did make things bad for me and a lot of others in this town," means Mr. Rich.

Rosencrans turned over all his worldly possessions to the bank department in an effort to cut down the loss to the patrons of the bank. He had sixty cents when he started for prison. This he turned over to his wife, who says she will be waiting for him when the prison doors swing back and offer him his liberty.

PORTLAND BEAVERS SNAP INTO STRIDE

Brisk Workouts in San Jose Enable Experts to Get Line on Players

PORTLAND, Ore., March 3.—(By Associated Press).—News from the spring training camp of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast Baseball league, at San Jose, Cal., today showed the team is taking shape with the arrival of players. They have had some brisk workouts.

Charley Berry, the new catcher, showed up well. George Payne and Johnny Couch, two of the new pitchers on whom much depends, both appear to be in fine shape for so early in the season. Payne has been pitching in a winter league at Los Angeles and will undoubtedly be one of the twirlers used in the first game of the season here against the San Jose club Sunday.

There is a movement on foot among business men of San Jose to finance a new ball park, and make this the permanent training ground.

NEW YORK CURE RIOTS

with 3,015,700 yesterday and 3,340,600 in the previous record breaking session of November 10, 1925.

The number of industrial stocks dealt in was 653 as compared with the previous high of 625 established yesterday.

Despite the unprecedented and almost perpendicular decline of the past week which is believed to have reduced the quoted value of the securities listed on the exchange by over $1,000,000,000 and uneasiness over the financial condition and credit standing of brokerage houses was apparent in leading banking circles tonight.

One of the most powerful banking institutions in the financial district which has come to the support of the stock exchange in past financial crises, made inquiries of several stock exchange firms today, and also conferred with stock exchange officials, later making it clear that their reports showed conditions to be sound and that there was no cause for alarm as a result of the recent break in securities prices.

Lowering of the renewal rate on call money to 4 1/2 per cent and the appearance of substantial buying orders for such high grade stocks as United States steel common, American Smelting, New York Central and Union Pacific, none of which broke below the low prices established yesterday were accepted as evidence of strong banking support in today's market.

"Nickel Plate" common was the hardest hit, collapsing 33 points.

BRISK DEMAND FOR OUR CANNED GOODS

Even Gooseberries Are Going Out to Distant Markets in Car Lots

There is a brisk demand for the canned goods packed last season in Salem and the Salem district.

Even the gooseberries are going out nicely. It is said that three car loads of gooseberries have gone out in the past week. It is likely that the warehouses here will be very well cleaned out by the time of the opening of the canning season for 1926, which will be the latter part of May, when gooseberries will come in, followed by strawberries, cherries, loganberries, raspberries, etc., ending around the close of the year with apples.

GLAD TO SPREAD GOOD NEWS

Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cleveland, Ohio.—The friends of Mrs. Helen M. Kowalczak of 6819 Hope avenue, were glad to hear she has recovered from her illness.

"I was quite ill and it was impossible for her to work. She took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to build her up. After she had started taking it, she wrote to the Pinkham Company as follows: 'I certainly boost Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel stronger already and sleep sounder. I am very glad to spread the good news of how it has helped me.'"

"Happy to Recommend Pinkham's," Detroit, Michigan.—"I heard of this medicine through an advertisement in the 'Detroit News' and wrote to Mrs. Grace Gillem, whose letter was published. Then I started taking the Vegetable Compound and got the best results. I used the Sanative Wash, too. I am really happy if I can advise women to take your medicine."—Mrs. M. E. Murray, 12103 Washburn Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

This is a dependable medicine.

LIEN DECISION REACHED

STATUS OF MATERIAL DEALER SETTLED BY COURT

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 3.—(By Associated Press).—Holding that a material dealer's lien is superior to the claims of other creditors only when the material delivered is for use in a building under construction or about to be constructed, the supreme court today affirmed the Cowlitz county court in rejecting the claim of Chahalis Brick & Tile company to 65,000 bricks delivered in 1924 to one Brooks in Kelso.

The bricks were delivered to Brooks for the purpose of constructing a building. Actual construction work was never begun. Brooks finally disappeared and C. A. Lowe, another creditor secured a writ of attachment for the bricks prior to the time that the Chahalis concern took similar action. The courts upheld the claim of Lowe as superior to that of the Chahalis Brick & Tile company, pointing out that to all intents and purposes the delivery of the bricks constituted an absolute sale.

PLANS FOR AIR UNIT REJECTED BY HOUSE

not go far enough in proposing changes that a majority of members considered necessary for an adequate air service.

Under the war department plan announced today the army air service at the end of five years, besides having 2200 planes would possess personnel of 1,650 regular army officers, 550 reserve officers on active duty and 15,000 enlisted men, including 500 flying cadets. The expansion would not be effected through reductions in other branches of the army.

CARRY FIFTY TONS AT LEAST 12 MILES

This Feat Said to Be Performed by Every Farm Wife Once a Year

For all household purposes such as drinking, cooking, washing, scrubbing, and cleaning, the average farm family will use about 7 gallons for a family of six. Now 42 gallons of water weigh 336 pounds and if these 42 gallons are pumped and carried on only 300 days out of the year it will mean that some one will have to pump and carry 100,800 pounds, or over 50 tons of water every year. Furthermore, if a 3-gallon bucket is used it will mean 14 trips to the well every day, and if the well is 15 feet from the house, this will mean 30 x 14 or 420 feet daily. In only 300 days this will amount to 126,000 feet or nearly 24 miles.

The farmer's wife who pumps and carries water for the house walks 12 miles to the pump every year, pumps 50 tons of water and walks 24 miles to get into the house.

The pumping and carrying of water is just one of the many tasks that the individual electric light and power plants are doing, saving the housewife all these steps.
