

State Press Writers Favor Baker, Medford, Salem For Tourney Win

SPORT FANS TURN TO 1926 CLASSIC

Marshfield Is Dark Horse, Comparative Scores Rank Locals High

By Donald Deckebach
Favorable comments furnished by the state press on the teams to play at the tournament this year seems to lean slightly toward districts one, four and seven, these teams being Baker, Medford and Salem.

The other teams are not to be put aside, though, because each is the champ of its district. Baker seems to be a team well "talked-up," and its record of 23 straight games seems to help the talking along.

In the southern part of the state Medford proved the victor by defeating Ashland twice in a series for the district championship. As none of these teams seemed to have played out of their districts, the direct comparison of games played is lacking, but, all told, Baker and Salem seem the two wisest bets.

The Dalles won its right to come to Salem in a fast game with Bend in which the losers seemed to have the edge until the last. This game was won by a 25 to 17 score.

Astoria licked Clatskanie in a three-game series, the first time 22 to 12 and the second time by a 22-9 score. Astoria seems a wee bit weaker than last year, but may show up in the league.

McLaughlin defeated Pendleton for its passport to the tournament and seems to be the dark horse of the bunch.

Eugene just a while ago defeated Albany 41 to 22, while Salem two weeks ago led Albany astray 53-9. Eugene may show up better in the league, her trail last year was enviable.

Not very much hope has been had on Marshfield, and her wares will be shown in the odd team series in the tournament with Medford and McLaughlin.

Salem, after beating Albany, had to play in the district league against Independence and West Linn. Independence was downed 44 to 11, while West Linn was beaten the following night 51-22. In Salem's last three games she has scored 148 points to her opponents' 42.

Coach Glindeman of the Baker team sends in the following bit of news about his team and their history of the season:

"With a record of 23 consecutive victories, over every opponent in eastern Oregon who faced them, the Baker 'Wonder Five,' as it is called in that section, will arrive in Salem Tuesday, March 9, about noon. (The exact time is not known here, but the team will leave on train No. 25) to take part in the state tournament.

Baker has a very impressive record this year, probably one that will equal that of any team in the entire state. They have won 23 games straight, garnering a total of 418 points to their opponents' 258. Baker also showed superiority over every team in that section, taking the annual East Oregon tournament in the face of keen competition.

Coach Glindeman and his eight basketballers will be accompanied by the Rev. L. G. H. Williams, Episcopalian minister at Baker, who is an enthusiastic fan and has made every trip with the team this year. The members of the team are: Payne and Cundiff, forwards; G. Duff, center; Hines and T. Duff, guards. Haskins, Landreth and Thomas are subs.

Baker will lose two men this year—Payne and Cundiff, forwards, who will graduate. T. Duff will have two more years to play, and his brother, George, has yet another year on the floor. Hines has two more years in which to play for his school.

Portland — Portland Electric Power company will issue common stock, under new plan for heavy expansion program this year.

Allie Taylor

Allie Taylor, the Bend wildcat, arrived in Salem last night and will go through his workouts here today in preparation for his match at the armory on Wednesday night with Phil Bayes of Salem. Taylor will go through his stuff in the armory ring tonight and Harry Plant, matchmaker, has invited Salem fans to come and look him over.

This is the second time Bayes and Taylor will appear in the same ring, the Salem boy losing the decision in Bend. Taylor's home town. Their ten round match Wednesday night is expected to be one of the classiest ever put on in Salem.

STEUSLOFF PLANS 4 STORY BUILDING

Structure Will Rise on Property Just South of P. E. P. Offices

Steusloff Brothers are planning to construct a four story building on the property just south of the PEP company's office, on North Liberty street, according to announcement made yesterday.

The property was purchased for $16,000. It has a frontage of 41 1/2 feet and a depth to the alley of 165 feet. It was part of the Knight property.

Alterations on the Steusloff meat market on the corner of Court and Liberty are to be made, it is understood. A window will be installed on the Liberty street side, to open that part of the building which is at present a solid wall.

ROAD WORK PLANNED
BEND, Ore., March 8.—(By Associated Press.)—Road and trail improvements to the amount of approximately $15,000 will be made in the Deschutes national forest the coming year according to H. L. Plumb, supervisor of the forest who just returned from the allotment conference held in Pendleton.

FREE COOKING DEMONSTRATION

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday
Friday and Saturday

Salem women are most cordially invited to attend a Cooking Demonstration at our show rooms Today, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, which is being conducted by a Domestic Science Expert who is here to advise with them on

COOKING WITH ELECTRICITY

FEATURING THE MANY USES OF THE

Universal Electric Range

Has been perfected by the use of plates directly over the coils. These retain the heat and distribute it evenly. As the plates cover the coils tightly, no foods or other particles can become lodged in the coils, thus preventing smoke and smudge, which assures a clean, sanitary range top.

ABSOLUTELY FREE!

With every Universal Range that we sell or take an order for during this demonstration will go a 12 piece set of high grade aluminum kitchen ware, valued at $35.00.

Meet Miss Murdoch

Miss Ethel Murdoch of New Britain, Conn., is at our show rooms Today, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week demonstrating the famous "Universal" Electric Range.

Miss Murdoch is a domestic science expert and is especially informed when it comes to cooking by electricity—the clean modern way.

Miss Murdoch will be pleased to have you call at your convenience. She can help you with your cooking and baking problems no matter what kind of electric range you are using. She came to Salem for your special benefit. Be sure to come and see her. She will be in the show rooms during our regular business hours.

The Universal Electric Range, with its fast, long life, sanitary hot plates and quick, hot oven, is proving the sensation of the cooking demonstration.

There Is No Substitute for Electric Cooking

The demand for Universal Electric Ranges is far exceeding the supply. Place your order now.
