

The Oregon Statesman

Issued Daily Except Monday by THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING COMPANY 215 South Commercial St., Salem, Oregon

R. J. Hendricks, Manager; W. H. Henderson, Circulation Manager; Fred J. Toole, Managing Editor; Ralph H. Kietzing, Advertising Manager; Lee M. Egan, City Editor; Frank Jaskowski, Manager Job Dept.; Leslie J. Smith, Telephone Editor; E. A. Hooten, Livestock Editor; Andrew Bunch, Society Editor; W. C. Conner, Poultry Editor

MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

BUSINESS OFFICES: Albert Ryer, 236 Worcester Bldg., Portland, Ore.; Thomas F. Clark Co., New York, 129-135 W. 31st St.; Chicago, Marquette Bldg.; Doty & Payne, Sharon Bldg., San Francisco, Calif.; Higgins Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

TELEPHONE: Business Office, 23 or 228; Circulation Office, 223; News Department, 23 or 108; Society Editor, 108; Auto Contest Editor, 108; Job Department, 588

Entered at the Post Office in Salem, Oregon, as second-class matter.

March 9, 1926

GOD'S REDEMPTION—"Say unto the children of Israel, I am the Lord, and I will bring you out from the Egyptians; * * * And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God." Ex. 6:7.

WILL TEACH THEOLOGY AT WILLAMETTE

The Kimball School of Theology is to be moved to Seattle, according to present prospects, in the fall of next year, to occupy a church building the use of which has been offered—

That is, the Kimball School of Theology is to remain at Salem the balance of the present school year, and all of the next school year, and then go to Seattle.

As has already been announced, Willamette University will then—that is in the fall of 1927—take up the teaching of branches that will qualify students for religious leadership. That is, branches that will prepare students to become preachers and missionaries and to engage in other lines of religious work. That was one of the matters of discussion and decision at the winter meeting of the board of trustees of Willamette University held at Portland some days ago.

What does this mean?

It means that Willamette University will undertake to do the work that is now being done at the Kimball School of Theology. This may be done in whole or in part in the building now occupied by the Kimball School of Theology, for the title to that property is in Willamette University.

Perhaps some of what may be termed the non essentials may be left out in the new training of students at Willamette who shall elect the studies for religious leadership, but the essentials will all be carried.

There is a story the telling of which may explain what is meant by the statement made in the above paragraph—

Though it is not exactly a story. It is a true statement, excepting as to the name. This is the story: Young Smith had received his university degree; in fact, two university degrees. He considered himself qualified to make a beginning of his preaching career, for that was the career he had planned and for which he had studied. So did his intimate friends. He went to the aged dean of a theological school and asked his advice. The dean inquired how much Hebrew he had. Answer, none. The dean told the young man that he should have a thorough knowledge of the Hebrew language, and he also told Smith that he should attend a good theological school for three years, then come back, and he would tell him if he was qualified to commence his preaching career.

But Smith went to the most prominent and useful and learned and influential minister in the city where he had been a student. He asked the minister's advice. The minister told him to avoid the theological school. He was acquainted with Smith, and he told him the most promising thing about Smith for preaching was just Smith; his own individuality; his own life; his own views of life and living; and that if he attended a school of theology for three years, there was danger that he might come out just a pea—smoothed and rounded and polished, just like all the other peas in the pod, or in the peck of peas—

And that's the story. Preachers are both born and made. The theological school has its uses in making good preachers. No doubt about that. But there are many other qualities and qualifications that are important in the making of a good preacher. The greatest Preacher of history never attended a theological school at all. There is no record that He ever wrote a line—excepting the line in the sand, which He immediately wiped out, a gesture to excuse the men who wanted to stone the woman for the commission of a sin of which they themselves acknowledged they were not guiltless, by throwing no stones and slinking away.

Willamette University will train great preachers, after the Kimball School of Theology shall have taken its name to Seattle—though some of them may not learn the Hebrew language, nor have full knowledge as to what Moses had for breakfast every day.

SPRAY TO PROTECT THE BEES

The following bulletin is being sent out from the United States Department of Agriculture. It is authoritative, and it should be read and heeded by every orchardist in the Salem district:

"When spraying fruit trees, care should be taken to do the work at a time when there is the least danger of poisoning the honey bees which visit the blossoms and which are very necessary for the pollination of the flowers, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Spraying fruit trees while in full bloom with arsenicals is particularly injurious to bees, according to tests which have been completed recently by the Bureau of Entomology.

"Of course the beekeeper does not want his bees poisoned, says the department, because as a result his honey crop is reduced. The subject should be of even more interest, however, to fruit growers because with the loss of the honey bees they lose the most effective means of pollination in their orchards. In this respect the beekeeper, the fruit grower, and in fact everyone is benefited by honey bees.

"The effect of arsenical sprays on the mortality of honey bees has long been debated, but only a few systematic investigations have been made to aid in settling the dispute. In the hope of answering definitely some of the questions so long debated, these tests were conducted. While they are limited in their scope, they do enable the department to make some recommendations.

"Spraying apple trees during full bloom is not recommended because the codling moth can be as well controlled by spraying when 25 per cent of the petals have fallen, and because spraying when the trees are in full bloom is injurious to insect pollinators.

DINNER STORIES

"Stranger," said the Cowboy solemnly, "kindness to dumb critters always pays. Old Man Green down to Cactus Gulch found a big rattler caught in a slide. Did he kill him? No sir, he pried him loose, and that there snake was so grateful he followed the old man home 10 miles. Couldn't drive him off the ranch. No sir, the anmille was so plumb grateful he guarded the house like a regular watch-dog. Come to be a great pet. The folks named him Wilbur.

"One night the feller woke up sudden. Seemed like there was choking sounds right by his bunk. He got him a light and what you reckon he seen? There was Wilbur coiled round the neck of a sneak thief. Yes sir! And the critter had his tail out the window rattling for the police."

In a recent election a colored man happened to be elected justice of the peace in the backwoods of Georgia.

His first case was one in which the defendant asked for trial by jury. When the testimony was all in and the argument had been concluded the justice seemed some what embarrassed. Finally one of the lawyers whispered to him that it was time to charge the jury.

Looking at the jury with a grim, judicial air, the judge said: "Gentlemen ob de jury, sense dis is a very small case, I'll jes charge 'em a dollar an' a half a piece."

Bits For Breakfast

Speaking of Loganberries—

Did you know that Fred J. Browning, the candy manufacturer, out on Route 3, is putting out a line of loganberry chocolates and other candies?

They are as fine as any candies ever made; finer. As fine as the finest, plus the loganberry flavor, which is beyond description. These candies must be tasted to be appreciated. If Mr. Browning will furnish the Bits for Breakfast man with a list of the dealers who handle his loganberry candies, he will gladly publish it—so all may know where to get them. Let's boost home industries, to say nothing of loganberries.

Fair warning: The state's flax acreage is being all gobbled up fast. Nearing the 2500 acre point, and not an acre will be taken on beyond that. Nor will any be taken on to be planted late, unless on irrigated land or in soil especially fitted for a late crop. The contracts are being signed every afternoon but Saturday, at the penitentiary office.

The head lettuce growers in the Labish district suffered a little setback two or three nights of last week, when the tender plants were somewhat wilted by frosts. They will come back, but it will delay the time of being ready for marketing.

Have you prepared to plant some Hubam clover? If not, why not? Great for bees; they make a high quality honey from the blossoms, which persist till frost. And it is a great clover crop for hay, or for soiling or silage; or to turn under for fertilizer. Better get some seed. D. A. White & Sons have a supply of seed now. With plenty of Hubam clover, or other sweet clovers, and Hungarian vetch, and Grimm alfalfa, the Salem district will rapidly become the greatest bee country on earth. That will mean a new money crop, bringing millions a

RHEUMATISM

Use Trunk's Prescription because it is a shame to suffer with rheumatism!

This Prescription does not ruin the stomach, it does not depress the heart, neither does it require dieting to make it effective. Trunk's Prescription does not contain any mercury or narcotics, but it combines those certain medical elements necessary in the successful treatment of rheumatism and gout, according to well informed, present-day medical opinion. Uric acid solvent and excellent liver medicine.

Trunk's Prescription sells for $1.75 at Perry's Drug Store, 115 So. Commercial St.—Ad.

For Sale USED Lumber

DOORS, WINDOWS AND BRICK

See E. M. Ackerman, State and High streets. Better come early. They're going fast.

FREE WOOD

And like the honey bees home. For a little while, besides insuring the pollination of fruit blossoms—and boosting dairying, swine breeding and poultry raising, too.

Consisting solely of personal property, the estate of the late President Prince Campbell of the University of Oregon is valued at only $5239. But he left an estate in good works the value of which cannot be estimated in mere dollars. He was too busy in doing good to think about or spare time for amassing wealth, and in fact he had a small salary nearly all his working days, and only a modest one towards the last, a large part of which was bestowed in the building up of the great institution to which he gave his best years, and in numerous ways for the benefit of others. Though he left a very small estate in mere money value, he had an abundantly successful life, the span of which was short in years but long in deeds.

MURDER TRIAL OPENS

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—(AP.)—Examination of 31 witnesses here provided only four prospective jurors for the trial of David L. Marshall which opened today. Marshall is charged with killing Miss Anna May Dietrich here last January, dismembering the body, and hiding the parts in three different places.

Two Noted Directors Acclaim Sally O'Neil As the Greatest Movie Find of the Year

"The greatest find of the year!" Two directors were talking together at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Edmund Goulding, whose production, "Sally, Irene and Mary," is coming to the Heilig theatre on Tuesday, made the above exclamation to John M. Stahl.

He was referring to Sally O'Neil. Miss O'Neil has the role of Mary in the Goulding picture.

"I hesitated about signing Sally for the part," said Goulding. "I thought she lacked the experience necessary to put such an important role over. There are scenes of stark tragedy and others of light comedy. It was the latter type I was worried about, knowing that only a real actress could portray them."

"We made a test picture of Sally," he continued, "and found she looked the part." Still I was fearful. But there was no one else who was so typically Mary, so I decided to give her a trial.

"I found her the most responsive person I have ever directed. She never failed to sense a situation and proved to be a trouper in every way. I believe when this year is over she is going to be rated with the greatest. There isn't any stopping her. She has extreme youth, a great sense of humor and a corking personality that fairly bubbles over on the screen."

Constance Bennett and Joan Crawford play the other two members of the trio.

William Haines, Henry Kolker, Ray Howard and Douglas Gilmore are in the feature cast.

Edmund Goulding directed the picture from his own screen version of Edward Dowling's stage success.

PLAN SPRING WINDOWS LATEST NEW YORK AND FOREIGN STYLES TO BE HERE

Intensive work in preparation for the first annual window display

Look to your health. Epsom Salts is still the best Physic—take it in small flavored tablets.

Knights Epsom Salts Compound in Tablets

At your druggist, 25c The Knight Laboratories, Chicago

play week, being sponsored by the Salem Ad club, began Monday in preparation for the formal opening on Tuesday, March 16, when judging of the most attractive windows in Salem will take place as a portion of the evening's civic festivities.

Stocks of local merchants now are reflecting the latest eastern and foreign styles and expert trimmers have planned the feature windows to be placed in competition on the opening night.

Baker county mineral, lumber and farm products last year were worth $8,598,860.

Enthusiasm Grows Daily

Contestants' Friends Proving More Loyal Each Day; Interest Increasing

Newcomers in Race Have Excellent Chance to Earn Big Awards

Why Hesitate About Entering This Gift Election

You have been making excuses to yourself, that it was too late to enter. What about it now? Here is your opportunity to enter on equal footing with everyone, and in two weeks' time, be the owner of a $125 Radio. YET—that is not all—you will also find that you have gained a commanding position in the race for one of the Capt. Prizes. Study the vote possibilities. Surely you have the ability to secure a few big subscriptions, to a train a position among the leaders for the Dodge Secan, and at the same time secure points with which to win this new Radio. DON'T IMAGINE YOU ARE TOO BIG FOR THIS UNDERTAKING. IT IS BIG ENOUGH TO INTEREST ANY OF US.

NOMINATION COUPON

Nomination Blank in the Statesman's "Everybody Wins" Campaign

Date Entered First Week Expires.....

I hereby enter and cast 50,000 votes for Miss (Mr. or Mrs.).....

Address Phone

as a candidate in the Statesman's "Everybody Wins" Prize Distribution.

Note: Only One Nomination Blank Accepted for Each Candidate Nominated

This Special Radio Offer Closes March 20

Value $125.00 Purchased from Vick Bros.

Mrs. B. S. Crowthers writes her view of winning in poem:

My heart is set on winning this grand automobile prize. At first the job looks easy—but now it's developed in size. It's more than clipping coupons and using little bribe. It means walking, talking and hustling to get the most to subscribe. And how are you going to do it when folk look at you askance, when asked if you will subscribe for The Statesman and also pay in advance? So please be courteous and help me for I never can do it alone. And thank you friends for sending the subscriptions over the phone.

—MRS. B. S. CROWTHERS

For further information, subscription blanks, etc., call, write or phone

Contest Editor Office Oregon Statesman

Open Evenings to 8:30 215 South Commercial St. Salem, Ore. Phone 106

Free Voting Ballot

This ballot is good for 100 votes for the candidate in The Oregon Statesman Subscription Campaign, whose name is written on it. Do not fold. Trim.

Name Address

VOID AFTER MARCH 27th, 1926

Anyone Can Vote For Friends

Campaign Notes

VOTE SCHEDULES SOON DECLINE

The present big schedule will continue until Saturday night, March 12. All subscriptions received at this office before 8 o'clock will count. And subscriptions mailed with remittance to cover which are postmarked not later than 8 p. m. will count on the second period vote schedule. The big vote schedule will positively be discontinued at that time, in accordance with the rules and regulations, and will never be repeated.

The big vote schedule won't wait for you—you'll have to jump in and take advantage of it while you can. And it's mighty important that you take advantage of it if you want to land one of the big prizes.

Names and volumes could be written and have been written on the subject of "opportunity." It is one of the queerest elements that enters into the complex existence of present-day Americans.

It means everything or it means nothing—depending on the determination to grasp and take advantage of it. One person capitalizes on his or her opportunity while the other sidesteps it. Some claim that opportunity has passed us—another says: "I was away from home when 'opportunity' knocked at my door." And so it goes.

Why hesitate about entering? Were you ever offered a better paying proposition than is offered in this New Famous Gift Election? Study over the vote possibilities, the prizes that are to be given in return for these votes and send in your nomination today.

One cannot win big without effort but—there is no undertaking one can go into in Salem or this entire section these next few weeks that can pay so well for the time and effort spent.

Subscriptions are to be had—goddess of them. When you total up what a few subscriptions bring you, you know that they figure up mighty fast. However it takes a little effort, and some there are, who, evidently are not putting forth the effort. Go after them if you want to win!

IT'S UP TO YOU The only thing that will keep you from winning is you, yourself. If you enter the campaign determined to be successful YOU WILL BE. It's up to you entirely. If you want a big, luxurious high-powered motor car, or hundreds of dollars in cash (we think you do) get into the campaign today. Send in your nomination blank at once—today.

If you can spare the time, come down to election headquarters yourself this afternoon or evening. Find out all about the campaign, how to get votes, what is necessary to get them and then go after one of the big prizes.

Opportunity

Value $125.00 Purchased from Vick Bros.

Mrs. B. S. Crowthers writes her view of winning in poem:

My heart is set on winning this grand automobile prize. At first the job looks easy—but now it's developed in size. It's more than clipping coupons and using little bribe. It means walking, talking and hustling to get the most to subscribe. And how are you going to do it when folk look at you askance, when asked if you will subscribe for The Statesman and also pay in advance? So please be courteous and help me for I never can do it alone. And thank you friends for sending the subscriptions over the phone.

—MRS. B. S. CROWTHERS

For further information, subscription blanks, etc., call, write or phone

Contest Editor Office Oregon Statesman

Open Evenings to 8:30 215 South Commercial St. Salem, Ore. Phone 106

Free Voting Ballot

This ballot is good for 100 votes for the candidate in The Oregon Statesman Subscription Campaign, whose name is written on it. Do not fold. Trim.

Name Address

VOID AFTER MARCH 27th, 1926

Anyone Can Vote For Friends

Value $125.00 Purchased from Vick Bros.

Mrs. B. S. Crowthers writes her view of winning in poem:

My heart is set on winning this grand automobile prize. At first the job looks easy—but now it's developed in size. It's more than clipping coupons and using little bribe. It means walking, talking and hustling to get the most to subscribe. And how are you going to do it when folk look at you askance, when asked if you will subscribe for The Statesman and also pay in advance? So please be courteous and help me for I never can do it alone. And thank you friends for sending the subscriptions over the phone.

—MRS. B. S. CROWTHERS

For further information, subscription blanks, etc., call, write or phone

Contest Editor Office Oregon Statesman

Open Evenings to 8:30 215 South Commercial St. Salem, Ore. Phone 106

Free Voting Ballot

This ballot is good for 100 votes for the candidate in The Oregon Statesman Subscription Campaign, whose name is written on it. Do not fold. Trim.

Name Address

VOID AFTER MARCH 27th, 1926

Anyone Can Vote For Friends

Value $125.00 Purchased from Vick Bros.

Mrs. B. S. Crowthers writes her view of winning in poem:

My heart is set on winning this grand automobile prize. At first the job looks easy—but now it's developed in size. It's more than clipping coupons and using little bribe. It means walking, talking and hustling to get the most to subscribe. And how are you going to do it when folk look at you askance, when asked if you will subscribe for The Statesman and also pay in advance? So please be courteous and help me for I never can do it alone. And thank you friends for sending the subscriptions over the phone.

—MRS. B. S. CROWTHERS

For further information, subscription blanks, etc., call, write or phone

Contest Editor Office Oregon Statesman

Open Evenings to 8:30 215 South Commercial St. Salem, Ore. Phone 106

Free Voting Ballot

This ballot is good for 100 votes for the candidate in The Oregon Statesman Subscription Campaign, whose name is written on it. Do not fold. Trim.

Name Address

VOID AFTER MARCH 27th, 1926

Anyone Can Vote For Friends

Value $125.00 Purchased from Vick Bros.

Mrs. B. S. Crowthers writes her view of winning in poem:

My heart is set on winning this grand automobile prize. At first the job looks easy—but now it's developed in size. It's more than clipping coupons and using little bribe. It means walking, talking and hustling to get the most to subscribe. And how are you going to do it when folk look at you askance, when asked if you will subscribe for The Statesman and also pay in advance? So please be courteous and help me for I never can do it alone. And thank you friends for sending the subscriptions over the phone.

—MRS. B. S. CROWTHERS

For further information, subscription blanks, etc., call, write or phone

Contest Editor Office Oregon Statesman

Open Evenings to 8:30 215 South Commercial St. Salem, Ore. Phone 106

Free Voting Ballot

AUCTION SALE

Of Furniture, Dairy Cows, Poultry, Etc. At 1566 Bellevue Street This Wednesday, March 10 Commencing at 1 P. M.

Comprising 3 Jersey cows from 3 to 6 years old; 1 registered Jersey, papers and transfer furnished day of sale, one just freshened, the above cows are T. B. tested; 48 hens, good laying strain; 1 incubator; 3 beds, springs and mattresses; dressers, commodes, dining room table; 1 organ in A-1 condition; rugs of various sizes, 2 good ranges, heating stoves, 1 8-day clock, dining room furniture, kitchen drain, rocking chairs, 1 2-burner oil stove and oven, a quantity of canned fruit, a quantity of books, 2 fence tighteners, block and tackle, wagon jack, garden tools, blacksmith tools, kitchen utensils and numerous other articles.

MR. WILSON, Proprietor

H. F. WOODRY & SON Salem's Auctioneers and Appraisers

271 North Commercial Street Phone 75

List your sale with us for results

SOLE AGENTS FOR LANG'S STOVES AND RANGES