Rolla Waterhouse was a man of strong convictions, of upright life and sterling character, a friend to all, and a kind and loving father. He will be missed in the community, as well as in his home.

Long, Useful Life Finished Grandma Chamberlain passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rida Lineback, in Albany, Or., March 3, 1926, following several weeks' illness, the result of est sort. an accident when she fell, breaking the bones of her hip.

Rebecca Elizabeth Belieu was born in Marysville, Mo., April 16, 1853, coming to Oregon with her father when 8 years of age, the family making the trip by ox-team. In 1870 Rebecca Elizabeth Belieu and James T. Chamberlain were united in marriage at Independence, Or., and of this marriage seven children were born. Five children survive, one daughter, Mrs. Rida Lineback residing in Albany, and four sons, Dee, of Longview, Wash., John of Salem, Frank of Pendleton, and George of Falls City. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Ellis Lynch of Amity, has not been a considerable group and one brother, Leander Belieu of dairy farmers making satisfacof Dallas, a number of grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.

Since the death of her husband in 1910 Grandma Chamberlain had been making her home with her daughter in Albany and son in ducing cows. The farmer with Salem, visiting the other members the highest producing herd has of the family at times. The family had resided in Falls City for several years, and for that time Mrs. Chamberlain had been united with the Christian church of Falls City. During her younger life she was very active in church work, always taking part in what was for the good of those around her.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at 10 o'clock at the Church of Christ. Rev. A. H. Dodd conducted the services, speaking from a part of the 12th verse of the first chapter of Second Timothy: "I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day," Special music of hymns, especially favored by the departed, were sung by a women's quartet. Many very beautiful floral offerings testified to the esteem in which she was held by her many friends in the world's market as the Oregon dairymen must in the future he is compelled to produce economically because some of his competition will be from the greatest dairy countries of the world. The state, or farmer, or group of farmers in position to produce efficiently and economically are those who can enter the world markets and compete with competition of the keen-

Herein Oregon has a decided advantage. She is in a position to improve her production methods with great rapidity. The efficient-ly producing cow is already with her. Her offspring are available in large numbers. It only remains for the farmer to make use of this well bred dairy stock to create and maintain for himself an enviable position in the world markets for dairy products.
