Fashion Goes to Zoo for Season's Decorative Ideas

LONDON-Fashion again is going to the zoo for its decorative ideas of the season.

Almost every known skin has been taken up by the modern furrier, and in addition the animal motif in decoration has made its presence evident in unexpected directions. Jewelled animal, fish, bird and insect pins are seen a great deal on hats. Stags, dogs, frogs and lizards are among the favorites. A tiny squirrel embroidered in the corner of a pocket handkerchief is novel and some women even have the particular species of pet dog they favor used in this way.

Another striking effect for or dinary wear is a snake embroidered in gold thread up the front 24 ACRES - 3 MILES NORTH OF CITY of the stocking.
