Radio Crystal Set Still Predominates In Britain

WASHINGTON. — The radio crystal receiving set, which confuses reception mainly to the nearest broadcasting station, still is the predominant type used in the British Isles.

Of the 1,570,000 British receivers, Commerce Department figures show that about 75% are crystal sets. The British government has shown some hesitancy in adding to its present number of broadcasting stations, because of the possible effect on these sets.

Present indications are that the British Broadcasting company, which conducts all broadcasting in Great Britain under contracts from the government, probably will be bought by the government at the expiration of its contract next year.

THE LOGANBERRY JUICE MAN TALKS

Tells the People of Salem What He Has Planned to Boost Industry

The biggest loganberry juice booster in Salem at the present time is E. J. Crumbers. He lives out on Route 4, where he presses the juice, but he spends a good deal of time in Salem and on the road boosting the industry. He has equipped himself with a wonderfully showy car for carrying the juice and at the same time advertising it. Talking to a Statesman reporter yesterday, he said:

"My proposition to Salem business men in selling juice is that they buy one gallon for $1.50.

"My aim was to get our home folks to know more about how to use and serve loganberry juice.

"My objective is to furnish a light delivery car for use on the highway this summer, advertising loganberry juice, seeing that it is served properly at road side stands, furnishing signs and supplying juice regularly.

"With equipment to start with, I think the business would pay for itself. Had hoped Salem people would interest themselves in this project, but it may be I'm asking too little!

"During the past year it was my pleasure to be influential in bringing the Humphrey dispenser to Oregon, and as a result the Woodburn pool of juice is disposed of or will be by the time the new crop comes on. One of these dispensers has been taken to Long Beach by Mr. Gregory. The other is on exhibition at Roth's grocery store."

OLD AGE PENSION BILL COPY FILED

Will Be Referred to Voters for Verdict at November Election

A copy of the proposed old age pension law, which is being sponsored by the Oregon league for old age pensions, was filed in the office of the secretary of state here Friday and later referred to the attorney general for ballot title.

Under the provisions of the proposed law an applicant for the pension would have to be 65 years of age, a resident of the state of Oregon for 10 years and a resident of the United States for 15 years.

The amount of the pension, which shall not exceed $30 per month, would be determined by the old age pension commission.

It was said that a similar law is now in operation in Pennsylvania and a number of other states.

The bill will be referred to the voters at the November election.

RICHARDS OPPOSES DRYS

SEEKS TO BE REPRESENTATIVE; PROGRAM IS WET

Modification of all prohibition amendments and laws, and opposition to bone-dry prohibition in any form, was advocated by Norman S. Richards, Portland attorney, who Thursday filed with the secretary of state here his declaration of candidacy for the office of representative in congress for the Third congressional district, comprising Multnomah county.

"If nominated and elected," reads Mr. Richards' platform, "I will be opposed to bone-dry prohibition in any form. I will stand for a modification of all prohibition amendments to the constitution of the United States, and for a modification of all prohibition laws.

"I believe in the prohibition of all saloons and the governmental regulation and control of liquor traffic. If you will take the money and graft from the liquor business that will end the problem. These things should greatly reduce the cost of government and the present excessive taxes."

"See here," said His Honor, "this boy of yours has been in this court so many times charged with chicken stealing that I'm quite tired of seeing him here."

"I don't blame you, judge," said the parent. "An I's tired of seeing him here as you is."

"Then, why don't you teach him how to act? Show him the right way and he won't be coming here."

"I has showed him de right way," said the father, "but he jest don't seem to have no talent for learning how, judge; he always gets caught."
