Concert Tonight by MacDowell Club Chorus and Portland Quartet

A musical event that has been awaited with unusual interest will be the concert at 7:15 this evening in Walker Hall by the Salem MacDowell club chorus and the Portland String quartet. The 32 voice women's chorus has never been in more excellent trim, and a host of local music lovers are awaiting the first appearance of the group for this year with the assurance that the evening's treat promises to be a most complete one.

The Portland String quartet will make its debut in Salem at the same time and each member all being outstanding in Portland musical circles, will be a most welcome guest. Carl Denton, who for eight years was conductor of the Portland Symphony orchestra, is organist of St. Stephen's pro-Cathedral, and in addition is a violinist of decided note. Ferdinand Konrad, cellist, has an exceptionally fine musical reputation throughout the northwest. The Bacon, whose instrument is the viola, was for ten years a member of the first violin section of the Portland Symphony orchestra and he, as well as Frank Eichenlaub, violinist, are more than ordinary assets to a splendid quartet of this type. All four men have been prominently associated in the work of the Portland Symphony orchestra.

The chorus tonight will be distinctively directed by Prof. W. H. Boyer.

High School Program Announced for This Evening

The music department of the Salem high school will present a program this evening in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The high school band will receive the financial returns from the entertainment of this type. All four men have been prominently associated in the work of the Portland Symphony orchestra.

The chorus tonight will be distinctively directed by Prof. W. H. Boyer.
