Miss Robinson Is House Guest at Weller Home

Miss Elma Weller has had the pleasure of entertaining over the week-end, in all probability, the most distinguished visitor in Salem for that period—Carol Robinson, America's pianist.

When asked whether she preferred to draw upon American or European talent for her program, Miss Robinson, in a brief interview yesterday, responded with that magnificence peculiar to all truly great artists, that it wasn't the nationality—the label—it was the intrinsic value of the musical product itself. Miss Robinson spoke with large faith in behalf of the younger American pianists. She believes there are a number of them who possess a consummate gift. Miss Robinson credits the war with one excellent issue: It was the war that brought an influx of internationally known artists into America where their priceless influence could permeate every state.

A number of Salem people will be interested to know that Miss Robinson is a fast friend of William Van Hoogstraten, conductor of the Portland Symphony orchestra, and of his distinguished wife, Elly Ney.

Miss Robinson is also a composer, and told with a fascinating play of light in her eyes of a composition for the cello on which she was working on the train as she passed through Texas. Miss Robinson and Miss Weller were friends together in Chicago during their school days.

International Relations Program Tonight

The International Relations committee of the Salem Woman's club, of which Mrs. W. E. Crews is the chairman, will sponsor an extremely interesting program this evening at the Woman's club building, 460 North Cottage street. The Monday classes, under the chairmanship of Mrs. George H. Alden, will also assist.

Special musical features will be "The Night Wind," by Ball, and "Kornd," by Eschlin, sung by Lawrence Deacon; and "My Heart Sings to You," by Ashley, and "Cocoon," by Lehman, sung by Miss Eva Roberts.

The program will open promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Prof. Robert M. Gatzke's talk on "The New International Mind" will follow Mr. Deacon's numbers and Prof. S. B. Laughlin's illustrated lecture, "Palestine and the Near East," after Miss Roberts' solos.

The program will close every state. A number of Salem people will be interested to know that Miss Robinson is a fast friend of William Van Hoogstraten, conductor of the Portland Symphony orchestra, and of his distinguished wife, Elly Ney.

Miss Robinson is also a composer, and told with a fascinating play of light in her eyes of a com-and Mrs. Jessie Martin. The many friends of Mrs. Cornforth were lavish in their wishes for many more birthdays as happy.

Woman's Club Hears Committee Reports

A number of interesting reports, covering health and hospital work, plants, and music, and an international relations program scheduled for this evening, made Saturday's meeting of the Salem Woman's club of considerable interest.

A report on public welfare work, announcing unusual success in the Christmas seal sale last season, was given by Mrs. F. A. Elliott. Mrs. E. E. Fisher gave information concerning the loan closet, the child health demonstration, Mrs. C. F. Brett-haupt gave an splendid report of a class in Americanization which her committee had the pleasure of witnessing recently at the court house. Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding, as chairman of the hospital committee, outlined plans that she has in mind; Mrs. T. S. Roberts reported concerning the music; Miss Mattie Beatty on the success of the recent plant sale, and Mrs. John L. Rand and Mrs. Guy O. Smith on the international relations program, which will be given this evening at the club house.

Three dance numbers, by pupils of Mrs. E. L. White, comprised a delightful program for the middle hour of the afternoon. Margaret Bell and Zoe Daniels gave a Dutch dance; Maxine Myers and Cynthia Delano a Russian dance, and Grace Day and Edith Haun a gypsy dance. Mrs. James Teed accompanied at the piano.

Miss Grace Fawk was especially pleasing in her vocal solos, "The Wayfarer's Night Song," by Martin, and "The Second Minuet," by Beesley.

Mrs. W. W. Rosebraugh contributed a lovely basket of crimson tulips from her garden as a feature for the speaker's table.

The tea hour was particularly enjoyed. Mrs. George A. White, as chairman of the committee, was assisted in the serving by Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mrs. Charles H. Robertson, Mrs. Frank Spenser, Mrs. C. S. Hamilton, Miss Leora Carver and Mrs. John L. Rand. Mrs. Thomas B. Kay and Miss Margaret Cosper presided at the urns. Carol Robinson, America's Pianist, Pleases Audience Last Night at Heffig

Civic Music Club Season to Close April 19; Lawrence Strauss, Tenor, to Be Soloist

A notable attraction of the season was the brilliant concert last night at the Heffig theater by Carol Robinson, American pianist.

While parts of the theater were far too sparingly filled, the fact remains that the audience was extremely friendly and enthusiastic. Opening her program with a group of the older compositions, Miss Robinson gave Scarlatti's "Pastorale," Daquin's "The Cuckoo," Gavotte, (Gluck-Brahms), and "Tozatta," Bach-Bauer) all as one fearlessly rendered group. Beethoven's "Conata Opus 90," was interesting for the fact that it is so seldom played in public, while the gorgeous Brahms number, "Rhapsody, Opus 19, No. 4," has much intrinsic beauty all its own. The Liszt Concert Etude, D Flat, delightfully familiar to many, was performed with a fine rhythmic spirit. The difficult Chopin "Impromptu, F Minor," was a restful treat. A second Chopin number, "Ballade," was followed by a third Chopin number, "Polonaise," as an encore.

Particularly interesting was Miss Robinson's last group, with the modern tendency interestingly emphatic. Two MacDowell numbers, "Moonshine" and "Winter," and the Balakirev Scherzo, B Minor, was followed by the admitted gem of the evening, Debussy's "Gaelic Dancers." Miss Robinson, who plays with a vivaciousness and sparkle, sparkled intriguingly in another Debussy number, "La Plus que lente." The formal program closed with Charrier's "Bourree Fantastique." Miss Robinson's closing encore was Debussy's "Spanish Dance." The best Civic Music club attraction of the season will be an event of Monday, April 19, with Lawrence Strauss, tenor, the artist.

Read of Other Women Who Found Health

Brooklyn, New York.—Mrs. G. Hegmann of 35 Central Ave., was in a run-down condition and could not do her household work. She could not sleep at night. Her story is not an unusual one. Thousands of women find themselves in a similar condition at some time in their lives. "I found my own relief in my letter book," wrote Mrs. Hegmann, "and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got relief." Mrs. Hegmann also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Herb Medicine and Lydia E. Pinkham's Pills for Constipation, with good results. She says, "I am recommending your medicines to all I know who have symptoms the same as mine, and to others whom I think it will help. You may use my statement as a testimonial, and I will answer any letters sent to me by women who would like information regarding your medicines."

There are women in your state—perhaps in your town—who have written letters similar to this one telling how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped them.
