Mae Murray Has Excellent Part

Star of "Masked Bride" Case in Wonderful Part in Film at Heilig

What is it that attracts you most to your favorite motion picture player? Always some particular feature of an individual is the thing that first draws your attention.

Mae Murray, for instance, who is now playing at the Heilig theater in "The Masked Bride," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, has a perfect mouth. The lips are shaped perfectly and turn up in the corners just enough to denote a lovable disposition. In fact, she has always been referred to as "the girl with the bee-stung lips."

Marion Davies, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, has an alluring smile. Though she is an exceedingly beautiful girl, it is the smile that is outstanding.

Norma Shearer has a nose that rivals any of those chiseled by de Vinci. It is piquant, yet aristocratic.

Claire Windsor, too, is noted for her perfect mouth.

Aileen Pringle has an extraordinarily intelligent forehead with a perfect hair-line.

Lillian Gish has remarkable eyes. They are large and expressive, and she says volumes through them on the screen.

Eleanor Boardman has a perfectly shaped head. It is small and proportioned correctly to her body and is set upon a slender and shapely neck.

Mae Busch has a beautiful carriage and is said to have the best figure in Hollywood.

Each one of them, as a whole, is beautiful and of a decidedly individual type, but each has some particular feature that is outstanding.

CITY DUMP FACTS TO BE CONSIDERED

Garbage Committee to Meet on Monday to Investigate Offer

A meeting of the special garbage committee of the city council has been called for Monday night by Alderman W. H. Dancy, chairman. A local scavenger concern has offered to take care of the city's garbage for five years at a flat rate.

One of the significant features of the offer is that the company will provide a "suitable site" for dumping. The offer of the company will be considered at the meeting of the special committee. The matter of purchasing an incinerator will also be brought up. For several years the matter of abandoning the present dump at the north end of Seventeenth street has been before the city council. Recently Mayor Giesy appointed the committee to investigate thoroughly the situation and the committee is now about ready to report on its findings. Alderman Dancy informed the members of the council that the report will be made at the next meeting of the council.

Reason for wishing the removal of the present dump is that it is unsanitary, unsightly and odorous.

PRESBYTERY ENDS TWO DAY SESSION

Thirty-five Ministers and 15 Elders Attend Woodburn Conference

Willamette Presbytery closed a two-day session Wednesday, meeting at the Woodburn Presbyterian church beginning Tuesday afternoon. There were about 35 ministers and 15 elders present.

Dr. R. A. Thompson first gave an address on national missions as applied to Oregon, which was followed by one on the religious education field in Oregon, by Rev. W. L. VanNoy, both of Portland. Each address followed by a discussion on the subject.

After dinner the retiring moderator, Rev. Emil L. Winterberger of Eugene, gave an exceptional discourse of "Love as the Motive" in which he read a paraphrase and modern language interpretation of the thirteenth verse of I Corinthians. His thought followed throughout the two days of the assembly and permeated every act of the Presbytery.

Rev. Thomas Robinson, pastor of the Presbyterian church at McMinnville, was elected as moderator and immediately took the chair, following Rev. Winterberger's sermon. The new moderator then introduced Dr. Clarence W. Green, president of Albany college, who gave a very interesting address on the Presbyterian college at Albany, emphasizing it as a Christian self-help college. He stated that with the new building, into which the college will move this summer, there would be room for an additional 100 students who desired to work their way through college.

The roll of delegates showed 33 ministers and 15 elders present. Quite a number were excused because of sickness. The educational report showed a splendid work being done by the student pastors at Corvallis and Eugene and also endorsed the work of Albany college. With the endorsement for Albany college was included a financial campaign to be conducted during the next college year.

Dr. Lee, reporting for national missions, showed that the distribution of home mission money in this Presbytery was $3700. An overture was adopted recommending that no student loans be made to students smoking. The pastoral relationship between Rev. C. S. Knott and Mill City was dissolved at request of both. Rev. Knott has served in this field six years and also goes to general assembly because of his long term of service.

GRAND RONDE ROAD MEETING SATURDAY

State Highway Commission to Consider New Improvement District

Members of the state highway commission will hold a meeting at Grand Ronde, Yamhill county, next Saturday to consider a petition for the creation of a highway improvement district. Establishment of these highway improvement districts was authorized under an act of the 1925 legislature.

The proposed new district, if created, would construct a new highway from a point near Grand Ronde to connect with the Roosevelt coast highway at Taft. Such a highway would reduce the distance materially between Salem and points on the Roosevelt highway south of Cloverdale.

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the poisonous waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. In short upon "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" rest bottles, see directions.

LIVING and LOVING

GRANDMA! Duty may call them. Pleasure may lure them. The complexities of this existence may lead them into mental mazes.

Time, that Moloch of youth, may consume their vitality. Experience wear all illusion to a frazzle. But—

Youthful charm and beauty shall not perish from this earth. This is the creed of the modern Grandmas. We find the proof in the news:

"Grandmothers with boyish bobs, cigarettes and short skirts are rushing to a new physical culture club where the middle-aged and the elderly are promised the health and the grace of the Greeks!"

Poor things! Save for the occasional exception with which Nature proves her every rule, they are doomed to bitter disappointment. As we vision these pathetically young-old ladies hither-skittering toward the Fountain of Youth, forgetting dignity in their mad desire to live in its refreshing waters, another and contrasting picture flashed across our mental screen:

It is summer, just before twilight! An old fashioned house with a spreading porch. Flowering trees in blossom, a humming bird str-

WILKINS SETS NEW RECORD IN FLIGHT

Planes in polar exploration. Captain Wilkins, reported that at the farthest north point to which he flew he could see fifty to seventy five miles farther with no land in sight. In addition to flying across the pole he hopes to be able to discover land believed to lie northward of Alaska and Siberia and claim it for the United States.

"Great things can be looked for in the next flight that Captain Wilkins makes," Mr. Stefansson said. "It was hardly to be expected that he would find land directly north of Point Barrow. Soundings taken by Captain Bartlett in the Kariak gave 7,000 fathoms, indicating a very deep ocean bottom; but to the west the ocean bottom is much shallower and land can be looked for."

"Wilkins' original plans called for the first reconnaissance flight northwesterly from Point Barrow, so his next flight probably will be in that direction."

Mr. Stefansson thought Captain Wilkins flight should be looked upon as a great achievement. Only the first 100 miles of the flight plane are being rushed at Fairbanks to reach Smith's detachment.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, April 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Captain George H. Winkins and Lieutenant Carl B. Eielson who returned to Fairbanks today after an airplane flight 150 miles beyond Point Barrow on the Arctic coast found land but sighted many unbroken stretches of ice which were noted as possible places for lighting.

On their return trip yesterday the pair was lost in the air eight hours before sighting Circle, 150 miles northeast of here. The plane lighted at Circle for the night.

The flight to Barrow Wednesday was made in approximately four hours. A landing was made in a blizzard which continued two days. The field was covered with snow eighteen inches deep which was described as good for lighting but afforded a difficult take-off. Eight white men and 150 Eskimos were found at Barrow. After the storm had subsided, the two flyers and all the natives available worked on the field smoothing it off for future flights. The Alaskan, a single engine plane which carried the airmen, withstood the trip well. An examination after its landing here disclosed only a leaking oil line.

Cigarettes seemed to have been the chief worry of Captain Winkins and Lieutenant Eielson. They did not take many with them, having planned on getting some from Charles Brower, a veteran trapper at Barrow. Finding Brower's supply exhausted, the men were not forced to go without "smokes" however, as a woman writer named Miss Wallace, wintering at Barrow, came to their rescue.

Douglas County broccoli was best of any section on Coast, this year. About 400 carloads were shipped.
