PORTLAND, April 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Portland beat Seattle today, 7 to 6, when a torrential rain storm hit the ball park just after the beginning of the Seattle ninth. Seattle batted in three runs, making the score 9 to 7 in her favor, and with a big black cloud making the field so dark the players could hardly see the ball. With only one Seattle man out, the rain became a near-cloudburst and umpires and players hiked for shelter.

After half an hour's wait the field was too wet for further play, and the score reverted back to the eighth inning, giving Portland the game 7 to 6.

Burns who started for Portland, was greeted with a five run welcome by the Suda. He was relieved with one out by Fred Crisman, the 18 year old righthander, off whom only one other run, and an error responsible for that was made until the drenching ninth. The Beavers found Miljus for two runs in the fourth, including Prothro's homer, and for four more in the fifth, homers by Johnson and Ray Rohwer each scoring two.

Angels 4; Oakland 0

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—(By Associated Press.)—The Los Angeles Angels failed to outswat the Oakland Oaks, but by more effectively bunting their hits, defeated the invaders four to nothing, in fitting style in the long delayed opening game of the Pacific Coast league baseball season here today.

Arnold Stutz, former Chicago Cub outfielder, twice crossed the plate when he poked out triples and each time was brought in by sacrifices by Mitchell. Frank Brazil, third baseman recently purchased from the Seattle club, put over a homer as indication that he will justify his $10,000 cost. A crowd of 15,551 persons saw the opening game.

Hollywood 2; Seals 0

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Two errors by Nobby Paynter, recruit shortstop on the Seals team gave Hollywood its second victory of the current series here today with a score of 2 to 0.

Shellenbach for the Stars and Williams for the Seals hooked up in a pitching duel with honors about evenly divided. Paynter's fatal boots came in the third inning when with two out and runners on first and third, he missed Witt's roller and threw wildly to first, both runners scoring.

Barham Expected to Take Mound, Johnson Placed Behind Bat

Motion pictures of the game today between the Salem Senators and the Cycl club of Portland will be taken by C. M. Boyle. The pictures will be shown at the Bligh theater, where Boyle is producing every Friday evening "Brother Boyle's Booster Show." The picture of today's game will appear next Friday, April 16.

All equipment and technical work is being furnished by the Salem studio under the direction of J. O. Brown and C. M. Coffee.

Cycol are considered slight favorites in today's contest, although Biddy Bishop, manager of the local boys, declares that an attempt will be made to start the season in the right way by keeping the victory on the home lot.

Barham will probably start on the mound, with Johnson behind the bat to plug up the wild breaks. Battery for the Portlanders has not yet been disclosed.

OREGON IS SWAMPED IN SOUTHERN MATCH

Stanford Team Defeats University in Track Meet; Score Is 121 to 10

STANFORD OVAL, Palo Alto, Cal., April 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Capturing first place in every event and enough points on the track alone to assure victory, Stanford university romped home an easy winner in its meet here today with the University of Oregon 10; Stanford 121.

The squad from the Pacific northwest, handicapped by lack of practice and in its first meet of the season, contested every event bitterly but was able only to register one second place; six thirds and a tie for two other third positions.

"Bill" Hoffman and Clarence West, both Stanford, tied for high point honors, each taking two first places. Hoffman gained his tallies in the shot put and discus, while West came to the front in both hurdle races to account for his 10 markers.

Oregon's failure to rule the broad jump division furnished the surprise of the meet. Proctor Flanagan, Pacific coast conference champion, failed to qualify in his favorite event and consequently the Webfooters saw five points flitter away.

Another Oregonian failed to turn in the performance he is capable of when Victor Wetzel fell down in the javelin. He placed third, but Coach "Bill" Hayward had confidently expected his charge to whip the spear around the 185-foot mark to take first position.

The meet was held in the old Stanford oval, hard rains having softened the new stadium track to a degree where competition today would have been virtually impossible. The oval offered but little better conditions and the men necessarily were unable to chalk up outstanding marks.

About 800 persons were in the stands when the opening event was called. The Cardinal athletes went into the lead at the start by taking first and second places in the mile run. Kerr romped home an easy winner in 4:29 flat. It was good time considering the soft condition of the track. His team mate, Ranney, followed 20 yards behind with Kelley, Oregon, rounding out the point scorers.

Clean sweeps by Stanford in the 100 yard dash and 440 yard dash followed, bringing the total count for three events to 26 for the red shirts and one for the northern squad.

Oregon gained a point in the 120 yard high hurdles by placing third, but Stanford came back to take the first two places in the javelin thrown, and all scoring positions in the shot-put and high jump.

Bob King of Stanford, in topping the bar at six feet three inches, easily beat out his team mate, Tom Work, holder of the Pacific coast conference high jump record who placed third.

The Webfooters made a desperate bid for the two mile run when Niedemeyer set a beautiful pace only to be nosed out at the last turn by Swayne of Stanford, who dug his spikes into the ground to finish in 10:07 8-10. Nelson finished third and these two places gave the meet to Stanford with 66 of a possible 131 points.

COLISEUM, Los Angeles, April 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Charles Paddock, Los Angeles Athletic club runner, broke the world's record for 150 meters in a race here today that featured the triangular meet of the LAAC, University of Southern California and Olympic club of San Francisco, running the distance in 15.6 seconds.

SPORTSMEN PLANT TROUT IN CREEK

Henry Stevenson, Local Game Warden, Supervises Placing 17,500

Seventeen thousand five hundred trout were planted in Battle Creek yesterday by members of the local Rod and Gun club and Henry Stevenson, local game warden. The trout were fingerlings between two and three inches in length and according to local club members were in especially good condition. They were placed in the upper part of the creek between Turner and Salem.

A shipment of 25,000 trout are expected this week for planting in Beaver Creek, a tributary of Mill Creek that flows in above Turner. Both Battle and Beaver creek are closed to fishing for the coming season.

The planting will be done under the supervision of Henry Stevenson and members of the local club.

According to State Game Warden Avritt a number of trout fry and a large amount of bass and crappie fry are available for planting this year.

They are featherweights.

ers in all singles here today. Doubles were called off on account of a sudden rainfall. Roy Okerberg of Oregon, high man of the day, won over Swett, Reed, 6-1, and 6-2. SPORTS DONE BROWN

CHARLEY GEHRINGER

Gaze a bit at the young lad whom the big league clubs want and only one can have, of course. He is Charles Gehringer, the rookie second baseman of the Detroit Tigers. He is standing on second, which bids fair to be his permanent home with the Tigers, once he gets going.

The Detroit Tigers obtained him from Toronto last fall after the young man had drawn the attention of the big league ivory hunters by his all-around playing. Friendly relations between the clubs gave Cobb the edge. Gehringer led the International league in total bases on hits by collecting 337. He also led the league in sacrifices, to show his versatility at the plate.

When he joined the Tigers last fall he found big league pitching pretty stiff, but in eight games did not make a single error afield.

Gehringer is serving his third year in professional baseball. After playing a year on the baseball team at the University of Michigan, Gehringer joined the London team of the Michigan-Ontario league in 1924, and the following year went to the Toronto team where, under the shrewd coaching of big Dan Howley, he became the talk of the minors.

Gehringer will be playing second for the Tigers before the season is many weeks old if Cobb does not start him there.
