

SUPREME COURT RULINGS LISTED

Judge George W. Stapleton Affirmed in Arthur Richter Case

The state supreme court in an opinion written by Justice Burnett Tuesday affirmed Judge George W. Stapleton of the Multnomah county circuit court in a suit for accounting brought by Arthur Myron Richter against Rosa Richter, appellant, and Morris A. Richter, Ruth Richter and Sarah Richter, defendants. The lower court awarded plaintiff a judgment in the amount of $8454.65.

The property involved in the suit was left by Philip Richter, father of the plaintiff, to Rosa Richter, his wife, with the provision that she should give to his three children, Morris Richter, Ruth Richter and Sarah Richter, or either of them, such part of the estate and at such time as she desired.

The suit was contested by the defendants on the grounds that Philip Richter was not the father of the plaintiff.

Other opinions handed down here Tuesday follow:

C. Brown vs National Liberty Insurance company of America, appellant; appeal, from Multnomah county; action to collect insurance. Opinion by Justice Hand. Judge Robert Tucker affirmed.

Charles T. Smith vs Fred Dundee, appellant; appeal from Multnomah county; action to recover damages for alleged defective repairs. Opinion of Justice Hand. Judge G. F. Skipworth affirmed.

JACK MULHALL CAST IN FILM AT HEILIG

Popular Star Seen in Picture, "The Dixie Merchant," Now Playing

Jack Mulhall plays opposite Madge Bellamy for the first time in his screen career in Fox Films production, "The Dixie Merchant"—attaining an end to which he had been working for some time. For Jack has wanted to play opposite the lovely little Fox feature player ever since he started playing leading male roles.

The picture is now playing at the Heilig theatre.

Besides Madge's name just about completes the list of the foremost feminine stars on the screen who have had Mr. Mulhall as a leading man. Lately he has played with Colleen Moore in "We Moderns," Blanche Sweet in "The Far Cry," Corrine Griffith in "Classified" and co-starred with Dorothy Mackaill in "Joanna."

In "The Dixie Merchant" Mulhall is the irresponsible son of a wealthy plantation owner who has always had his own way in everything and to whom money is simply something to be spent as soon as possible. Madge is Adia Fippany, beautiful daughter of an indolent, though thoroughly lovable old fellow whose one love in life is his horse, "Marsellaise."

CORN BELT MEASURE RESULT UNCERTAIN

Bill Approved by Committee But Said Unacceptable to Administration

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—The corn belt farm relief bill was approved today by the senate agricultural committee, but indications were given that it is unacceptable to the Coolidge administration.

Secretary Jardine, outlining a legislative program in a letter to Chairman Haugen of the public agricultural commission, and Senator Pepper, republican, Kansas, made public after the senate committee has acted, advocated creation of a federal commission to aid farmers, through the agriculture department and their own organizations in marketing their products.

He made no reference to the corn belt measure, which would levy a fee on basic commodities with a view to stabilizing surplus prices, but the inference was given that he does not look on it with favor. President Coolidge has indicated that in determining his position on relief legislation he will be guided largely by the recommendations of the secretary of agriculture.

The corn belt measure was approved by the senate committee as a rider to the administration's cooperative marketing bill and the senate will be forced under its rules to vote on it before it can act on the cooperative provisions.
