

COUNTY NEWS BRIEFS

Liberty

Last Friday afternoon the Liberty school went to Kaiser and played two ball games with the teams of that school. The score was 12 to 11 in favor of the Liberty girls, and 10 to 3 in favor of the Kaiser boys. Return games will be played here Friday, April 22nd.

The pot-luck supper that was to have been given by the Woman's club has been postponed indefinitely. The regular meeting of the club will be Thursday afternoon, April 15.

"Mrs. Tule of Shanty Town," a three-act comedy given by the Falls City Dramatic club here last Saturday deserves much praise. In the first place, the play is among the very best, and was ably given by each character on the cast. We appreciate the fact that they came to us.

Miss Bernice Colby has returned to her home in Portland after being home for several weeks on account of illness.

Christoff and Annie Schmidt of Marion spent Sunday at the home of their aunt, Mrs. K. Schmidt. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Neuenhaus of Valsetz are visiting relatives here.

Robert Cunningham, who was out of school for a week on account of illness with flu, is able to be with us again.

We are glad to be able to report that Mrs. Ed Tack, who has been sick for several weeks, is now recovering rapidly.

Frank Kolsky and son, Melville, were in Oregon City Sunday.

Some of the best spellers of the eighth and ninth grades will appear with an equal number of adults at the hall on the evening of April 3rd.

Miss Mary Van Handle of Sublimity visited at the E. L. Coffey home last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoag, and Miss Cooley attended the teachers' institute held at Aumsville last Saturday.

C. C. Behnke of Florence visited at the W. H. Dallas home over the week-end. He is Mrs. Dallas' father.

Mrs. A. B. Browning gave a birthday party last Thursday in honor of her daughter, little five-year-old Margaret. The little friends present had a delightful time.

The regular and last meeting for this year of the Forensic society will be at the school house in Mr. Hoag's room after recess next Friday, April 16. Visitors are welcome. This same day at 1 o'clock there will be a debate by the seventh grade. We trust that many visitors will be present for both of these programs.

Lyons

Mrs. Gladys Hill, formerly Miss Gladys Trank, visited in Lyons one day this week.

Sunday evening at 8 o'clock Professor Brenton Vedder, superintendent of schools of Clackamas county, will speak in the M. E. Church at Lyons on the subject, "The Union High School, Its Advantages, and How to Secure One for Lyons and Vicinity." Every one interested in education and the future welfare of Lyons and its youth will be present. This is one time your vote may count for the everlasting good of your home town.

Sunday, May 2, has been designated "Homecoming day." Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m. Rev. Harry G. Crouse, the pastor, will preach at 11 a. m. A picnic dinner will be served at noon. After dinner a miscellaneous program will be rendered by representatives of the various communities present.

An address on "Law Enforcement" will be given in the M. E. church at 8 o'clock. Every patriotic, loyal citizen of Lyons and vicinity is invited.

The Lyons high school has reversed itself and will not give a school play as previously announced by students.

Cloverdale

Mr. and Mrs. M. Townsend entertained relatives from Liberty and Rosedale Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyle, and children of Portland, spent their Easter with Mrs. Herman Wiper.

Mrs. Hugh Roselle of Silverton called on Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Morris and children spent Easter at Aumsville with relatives.

Mrs. Anna Kunkle was hostess for WCTU at their April meeting. It proved to be one of the best attended sessions of the year. There were 24 members and visitors present besides the children and men. Over 30 people were served at the dinner hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blaco of Newport have sold their fruit ranch here to Joseph Morris, so report says.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham have a brother, Mr. Hays and family from the east visiting them.

Roberts

The Roberts station on the Oregon Electric has been painted cream color with green trimmings.

John J. Roberts has just had completed a modern hog house on his farm here, and has purchased some pure bred Poland China stock. Mr. Roberts is also having a large well equipped poultry house built. A brooder house was built a few weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodward and family of Portland spent Sunday with Mrs. Alice Colledge.

The prospects for a very large fruit crop are the finest ever.

The early flax is looking great. Alfalfa will be ready to cut soon if this weather continues.

The Riverside Telephone company is rebuilding the old line from Salem, putting in new poles and some new wire. The line will extend past Hills Ferry where there are several new patrons.

The early sown flax is looking very fine. Alfalfa is far advanced for this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sutton of Portland spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ingram.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Edwards were Sunday visitors at Jack Edwards'.

Blanche and Dale Bonlin spent the week end with their aunt, Mrs. O. Fowler at Rosedale, their mother joining them on Sunday and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lewis of Salem were at Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Townsend's Sunday. Fred Crist of Sea View, Wash., was also a visitor.

Arthur Zielkie has been visiting his father recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Higgins and children, Raymond and Janice, spent Sunday in Salem with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Parker.

G. H. Hansen and family have moved to Salem.

Hazel Green

Supt. Fulkerson visited school Friday and had the "standard" plate taken down, as the requirements were not being filled.

Quentin, son of B. C. Zelniski has pneumonia.

Gene Parmentier, who has been studying music in Portland is visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Parmentier.

Mrs. Maurice Dunigan's sister, Mrs. Mable Faucet, died in Los Angeles recently. Mrs. Faucet is well known here, having lived here before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fletcher and son Ellsworth and grandson Dan, were visitors at G. G. Looney's Sunday.

Dr. G. E. McDonald, superintendent of Oregon conference of United Brethren church, held a business meeting at the church Tuesday evening.

C. A. Van Cleave made a business trip to Portland Saturday.

Ben Clemens is drilling a well and installing a water system.

Mrs. Marjorie Felleis is spending some weeks at home caring for her mother who has been sick for the past month.

Mrs. Albert Carlson and son Stein of Portland, called at G. G. Looney's Sunday.

Turner

W. T. Ritches and son have a new Page milking machine.

The high school will put on a play Saturday night.

Ben Funston was a Salem visitor Tuesday.

J. Mullenax was in Portland Sunday.

Nearly 20 of Mrs. Hewitt's lady friends gave her a surprise birthday dinner at her home Wednesday.

George Burnett is ill at the Deaconess hospital.

Miss Thelma Delzell, teacher near Woodburn, spent the week-end with her parents.

The boys' class of the M. E. Sunday school who won in the recent class contest, were given a banquet Friday evening by the superintendent, Mrs. F. C. Gunning.

Fred Moore and wife were down from Mill City Friday evening for the school orchestra concert. They were accompanied by their niece, Miss Agnes Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomason entertained company from Cottage Grove Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hewitt went to Hubbard Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mr. Hewitt's aged grandmother.

Stayton

Miss Vera Davie left Wednesday for Salem where she has employment as nurse girl in the Holt home.

Mrs. E. D. Crabtree has been quite ill the past few days suffering from throat affection.

Word reached this city today of the death of O. L. Weddle, a former Stayton man, and a brother of W. A. Weddle of this city. The body will be brought here for burial Thursday. Mr. Weddle lived at Oregon City.

A. E. Roy and family of Portland, J. F. Mack and family and Wm. Smith and family of Salem were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Roy.

Mr. Hurd and family moved here this week from Newberg.

Mr. Hurd is a mechanic of some ability and is employed in the local Chevrolet garage.

Mrs. T. C. Crabtree and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Townsend came over from Salem Wednesday to attend the funeral of Alvah Davis who was a nephew of the two women.

The senior play at the high school auditorium Friday night, was exceptionally well rendered, and enjoyed by the large crowd which the school plays never fail to bring out.

J. L. Tweedle who has been operating the "Good Eats" restaurant on high street for some months past, has disposed of his interests to Bob Hagstad who assumed charge of the business the first of the week. For the present the new management will conduct the business at the same old stand.

F. F. Foster lost a horse which he valued very highly, Sunday. The animal has long since passed its usefulness, and was kept by the family as a pet.

Wednesday was the warmest day of the season so far, thermometers about town registered 83 degrees during the warmest part of the day, which was an unusual temperature for April.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Darby of Ashland were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lesley. Mr. Darby and Mrs. Lesley are cousins.

Joseph Fisher has been improving his residence property by pulling a new roof on the house.

Rickey

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Van Cleave of Portland were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Harris.

T. Wallace is building an addition to his house.

Mr. and Mrs. C. McCally and son of Aumsville, and Mrs. M. McCally of Eugene were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marge Sunday.

W. Sheridan intends to build a modern dairy barn in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Cox of Salem spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Harris.

Work on the A. J. Hager house is progressing nicely.

N. Frysle and son have started planting potatoes.

Rosedale

The Rosedale Community club meeting was held at the school on Friday evening, April 16. This was a joint meeting of the Sunnyside, Liberty and Rosedale clubs. The Rev. H. W. Whiting, pastor from Portland gave the program.

There was a social party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Boje Saturday evening, April 10.

Herman Boje has purchased a new Harley-Davidson motorcycle.

The Rosedale nine played the Fairview team last Friday afternoon. The Rosedale team was defeated 3 to 10.

The Smith, Boje, Gardner and McDow families motored to the Sandy river for a picnic.

Tangent

Mrs. Parker, an old resident of Tangent, more recently of Albany died on Monday and was buried on Wednesday, the funeral was held in the Methodist church here; Rev. Mr. Pendleton preaching the funeral sermon.

Mrs. Howard Jenks, who has been in the hospital at Albany, undergoing an operation, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home.

Miss Unice Griffith, who has been dangerously ill with pneumonia, and was tended in the Albany hospital has been able to return to her home; but will not be able to take up her school duties at once.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Fox, who have been visiting in the home of the parents of Mr. Fox, will move to Albany, where they will make their home. Mr. Fox is engaged with the Chevrolet automobile dealers.

The county assessor has been busy in his official work in this locality the last few days.

James Hensley, a former resident of Tangent, who has spent the last year in California, has returned to Tangent, fully satisfied that Paradise is not south of Oregon, and that this locality is just about right.

On Tuesday afternoon Tangent, again was obliged to yield the laurel to the Shed high school ball team.

Mr. Kees, field secretary for the Epworth League addressed the local chapter here on Sabbath evening.

Farmers, on every hand, have made good progress with their field work and spring seeding as a result of the splendid weather conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Fox were business visitors to the Hood river country on Monday. They were accompanied by their daughters, Grace and Laura, and their son, Lawrence.

NEW INCORPORATIONS

The Womens Auxiliary of Portland lodge, Elks, with headquarters in Portland and capital stock of $500, filed articles in the state corporation department here Friday. The incorporators are Estella M. Foley, Caroline J. Shaw, Nora Crandall and others.

Other articles filed Friday follow:

Oregon-Idaho Mining and Concentrating company, Portland, $50,000; Ralph Thow, Frederick Greenwood, J. Hunt Hendrickson, Larson's Pharmacy, Portland, $20,000; Louis Larson, Rose M. Larson and Allen Larson.

Gilmick Kaitwear company, Portland, $10,000; Gilbert F. Faltman, Malcolm S. Rasmussen and A. C. Bell.

Eugene—Contract let for paving Tenth avenue from Monroe to Almaden, for $27,566.

NEURALGIA
or headache—rub the forehead back and inside the nose
Wicks
Solely of Wicks, Portland, Ore.

EVE'S TWO LOVERS

EDGAR POE NORRIS

What Has Happened Before

EVE MacLURIE, young, beautiful, passionately satisfied with life, private secretary to JOHN INGATE, third of that name to be president of John Ingate's Sons, Inc., wholesale leather merchants, reckoned at thirty to be a "woman later," loved, and is loved by, both her employer and CLAY WALES, one of his employees. When John Ingate proposes marriage to Eve in the face of the opposition of his mother and sister she confesses her love but rejects him in favor of Clay, a youth weak and irresponsible, because she believes Clay needs her more. John Ingate cannot understand her choice between dominance and domination, weakness and strength. He does not realize that it is weak men who make the greatest appeal to a woman's sympathy and heart.

Clay, knowing of his employer's love for Eve, jealously fears him. Neither Clay's nor Eve's parents attended the wedding, which John Ingate was impelled to make something more than the ordinary affair. And with the festivities over and the couple ready to leave on their honeymoon, they receive a cool reception at the MacLurie residence. With sinking heart Clay sets out with his bride for his own home.

Now go on with the story.

THIRTEEN
A repeated ringing of the door-bell finally aroused a response in the darkened house. Clay Wales, straining his eyes through the door curtain, exhaled relief when he discerned a form making its way down the stairs; now illuminated to a degree by a globe in the upper hall, and murmured: "She's here, all right." He had been afraid she wasn't.

Something else was on Eve's mind at the moment: "Isn't it funny, Clay, none of our relatives were at our wedding—except Madeline Overstreet? It is just as if we had eloped." It was to be understood from her tone that she had not been affected by the absence of her close kin. She had been too excited to really miss them.

Her husband did not respond. His eyes met his mother's through the glass dubiously. He had forebodings regarding the reception awaiting them.

Satisfied by her glimpse out that no peril lurked at her door, Mrs. Wales opened it. "Well . . . (How eloquent that word! Well! . . . Well! . . . Well.)

"Here we are mother," Clay managed to say. His wife was already at Mrs. Wales' arm length, waiting, expecting, to be kissed. It was a feeble embrace Clay's mother gave Eve.

"Is dad home yet?" Clay looked around eagerly.

"He's late tonight—two hours," Mr. Wales was a railroad conductor. He had been climbing over freight cars, braving wintry winds and torrid rays, for 20 years.

Clay was really disappointed. He craved more for his father. "That's too bad. We won't get to see him until we get back."

"I don't know whether he will want to see you," Mrs. Wales said. Clay wisecracked and avoided Eve's eyes. Why did his mother have to say a thing like that! Anger heated her cheeks. "Well, excuse me, Eve. . . I'll run up and get my things."

Mrs. Wales, seated by the window, glanced out. "Is that Mr. Ingate's automobile?"

"Yes, I don't know what we would have done without him today. He attended to everything, as if I were his daughter or Clay his son."

Mrs. Wales regarded her daughter-in-law out of the corner of an eye. Eve, intuitively feeling the glance, was uncomfortable.

"He's mighty young and handsome himself, and HE has money," Mrs. Wales observed challengingly.

Looking at his mother, the bride had her first doubts about Clay. She ought quickly to change the subject. "I'm going to expect you to help me with my recipes and things, Mrs. Wales. I know I'm not one-tenth as good a cook as you are." This was accompanied by a friendly smile.

"Where are you two going to live?"

Eve flushed. Why, Clay had said—

Mrs. Wales read the glance. "Mr. Wales is out on the road so much, and I don't like to be alone, so I think I'll rent Clay's room."

She spoke as if she were innocent of design.

"Oh, I think we'll take a house," Eve spoke up airily, but not without a queer feeling around her heart. She looked up darkly when Clay came back down the stairs.

The sight of her son's luggage, the sudden realization that he WAS going away from her, thawed out Mrs. Wales to some degree. She got up and regarded him with dull eyes. Her baby boy, grown up, a man, married!

AT THE THEATRES

Oregon — Colleen Moore in "Irene" with Lloyd Hughes, Eva Novak, Charles Murray, Kate Price, from the big musical comedy success.

Hellig — "The Dixie Merchant."

Hilig — 5 acts vaudeville and picture.

able them to escape, possible "send-off parties."

Clay put his arm around Eve and pulled her to him. She was his now, his woman! How beautiful she was! Just let that damned John Ingate try to steal her!

(To be continued.)
In the next instalment: A telegram from John Ingate.

William was not a favorite with his rich uncle. In vain did he try to impress him, but the old man was not impressed.

One evening the young man called at his uncle's house ostensibly to ask after the old gentleman's health. In the course of conversation he asked:

"Uncle, don't you think it would be foolish for me to marry a girl who was intellectually my inferior?"

"Worse than foolish, Thomas, my lad," was the reply—"worse than foolish—impossible!"

A wife once complained to a clergyman of her husband's unsatisfactory conduct, when he said to her:

Cottage Grove—Anderson & Middleton Co. will start Mill #2, to cut 40,000,000 feet government timber a year.

OREGON

The World's Greatest Fashion Show!

—a treat for those who wear dresses and those who pay for them.

STARTS TODAY

A First National Picture

Colleen Moore IRENE

Gowns that will amaze every dress-maker in Paris. Hollywood beauties that will open your eyes. Comedy that sets a new pace for the laugh-makers. No wonder they call this Colleen Moore's greatest comedy achievement.

Adapted from the Famous Musical Comedy Triumph
JAMES MONTGOMERY, Author; HARRY TIERNEY, JOSEPH MCCARTHY, Composers with

Charlie Murray—Eva Novak—Lloyd Hughes—Kate Price

MATINEES—
Adults 55c
Children 30c
EVENINGS—
Adults 50c
Children 20c

PROFESSOR
BURRSTON
Will Present an Especially Selected
MUSICAL PROGRAM

"If it's at the Oregon—it's got to be Good!"