WHITE'S SCANDALS
TO BE HERE MAY 4

Heilig Theatre to Offer Brilliant Musical Comedy With 30 Scenes

George White's Scandals will be presented at the Heilig theatre on Tuesday, May 4. The engagement is limited to one day. The current edition of the "Scandals" is the sixth consecutive production in a series of revues inaugurated by Mr. White in the summer of 1919. The revue to be seen here will be offered in two acts and 30 massive scenes, all of which have been staged by the youthful actor-manager. The comedy scenes are by William K. Wells and Mr. White. Bud De Sylva and Ballard MacDonald supplied the lyrics. The score is from the pen of George Gershwin. All of the costumes, stage decorations and curtains were designed by Erte and executed by Max Wely of Paris. It requires a company of more than a hundred players to present the big revue. Mr. White boasts of the fact that he has succeeded in selecting a rare collection of new beauties. A new road is being made extending the boundary line between Salem Heights and Liberty.

Auburn

Harvey Armstrong has received word that his father was called to his reward last week, at the home of his son, Marion, in Revere, Mo. Until the past few months they were residents on the Garden Road east of Salem. He leaves his wife, seven children, Marion of Missouri, Mrs. Bessie Marshall of Salem, Harvey and Claude, east of Salem, John in Pomeroy, Wash., and Merritt and Mrs. Louis H. Hatcher, in American Falls, Idaho. The children are grateful for the fact that he had visited with each of them during the past year. Friday evening the Auburn Community club will hold its closing meeting for the summer. Plans will be made for the meetings next fall. The house so long vacant belonging to L. T. Woodward of Orengo, Oregon, will be replaced by a modern bungalow by Fred Baratzel, who has purchased the place and he is having a well drilled. Mrs. August Grimm is confined to her bed, suffering with a dislocated hip, and also low blood pressure and diabetes. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cody motored to Brooks Sunday, where they visited the Evangelical Sunday school. There will be a workers' conference of the Hayesville Sunday school at Fruitland. Each Sunday school is requested to send a delegate and to send a list of their problems to the president. There will be a round table at the convention to help the rural workers in their several schools. The Auburn Sunday school is practicing for a Mothers' and Fathers' day program. They are planning to entertain the cradle roll department, and will provide cars for the families of the cradle roll who have no way to come. There will be a social lunch hour after the service.

Liberty

Last Friday afternoon in Mrs. Hoag's room at school the following program was given: Vocal solo, "Bells of St. Mary's" Dorothy Browning. Declaration, "Flying Jim's Last Leap," Annabell Bomer. Declaration, "Little Golden Hair," Veneta Rains. Debate: Resolved, that spring and summer are more enjoyable than autumn and winter. The speakers for the affirmative were Walter, Esplin, Dorothy Browning and Oscar Berndt. Those for the negative were Veneta Rains, Lee Ohmart and James Wolfe. The judges were Mesdames Mumford, Pearson and Gibson, who decided in favor of the negative. The Forensic society held its last meeting for this school year in Mr. Hoag's room at school last Friday after the afternoon recess. President Leland Scott presided. After the regular business meeting, the following program was given: Debate: Resolved, that the Philippine Islands have their independence immediately. Those for the affirmative were Lela Fox and Sabina Schmidt, while the negative was upheld by Dorothy Judd and Janette Dauch. The judges were Mesdames Gibson, Allen, and Ohmart, who decided in favor of the negative. The rest of the program was as follows: Vocal solo, "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight," and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," Ellen Neundorfs. Reading, "Virginity," Lela Fox. Declaration, "The Railroad Crossing," Cecl Dencer. Reading, "The Freckled Faced Girl," Dorothy Judd. Piano solos, Lela Fox. Several visitors were present. Their presence was appreciated by both pupils and teachers. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ohmart and family had a narrow escape Sunday when the sedan in which they were riding overturned. They were in the Rosedale district, going up a short, steep hill when the gas tank became empty. The brakes would not hold, so the result was a ditched car, bruised and frightened people, and smashed windows. Superintendent Mary Fulkerson visited the school last Monday. The new books purchased with the money from "Mrs. Tubbs of Shanty Town," were placed on the shelves of the school library last Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dencer and son, Cecl, visited relatives at Ger-valls last Sunday. Miss Anna Murhammer has returned home from Roberts where she has been working. Mr. and Mrs. George Slyter and daughter, and Christof and Eliza, both Schmidt and Melville Trester all of Marion were guests of Mrs. K. Schmidt Sunday. Guy Epperly and Lynn Judd of Silverton spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Judd. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dorman and daughter, Juanita, visited relatives at Woodburn Sunday. Mrs. M. Dorman spent the week end visiting at Falls City. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hecker were recent Dallas visitors. Aldow Gratzinger, who so severely hurt her wrist about two weeks ago, is back in school with the injured member in a cast. Kaiser will play Liberty two games of ball next Friday, weather conditions permitting. The games will be at Liberty, between the boys and girls teams of both schools.

A new road is being made extending the boundary line between Salem Heights and Liberty.

Turner
Mr. and Mrs. Hensley are moving back into their old home in Tangent. Presiding Elder Shangler of the Methodist church (South), preached another of his stirring sermons here on Sunday evening, and held the quarterly conference. John Glaser bought a new Dodge coupe during the past week. The Missionary society will hold its silver tea at the home of Mrs. H. Speers Wednesday. The Methodist church (South) and congregation voted unanimously for the retention of the Volstead act in our prohibition law, and forwarded a "night letter" to Clarence True Wilson, head of the national prohibition forces at Washington, on Sunday evening. Miss Grace Fox spent the week end with relatives in Salem. Mrs. Howard Jenks is recovering rapidly from her illness. The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held at Mrs. Maryann, Thursday afternoon. The auxiliary of the WCTU of Tangent sent a night letter to congress, expressing their opposition to any change or modification of the Volstead act. Messrs. Joyce and Lawrence Fox are tract operators on the road grading contract near Philomath.

HOUSE NUMBER CHANGE URGED AS IMPERATIVE

block should be encountered. These instances are declared typical of many confusing and misleading examples of numbering within the city, which lead to much difficulty in locating houses, even on the part of postoffice officials. To correct this evil, a complete renumbering of the city is suggested, in keeping with the method found most successful in the better cities of the country, where a theoretical 100 numbers is allotted to each block so that a house number would immediately tell how many blocks the structure was from the central numbering point. In keeping with this scheme, the measure passed through two readings at city council Monday night, and endorsed by the chamber of commerce, calls for numbering to start east from the river, or from Water street, increasing 100 numbers for every block lying to the east. Numbers would start north and south from State street and would grow consistently 100 numbers to the blocks. Thus, a house with a number

Winner of Statesman Contest Was Go-Getter During Competition

ELFA LYTLE
Woodburn, Oregon
Winner of first prize in the Statesman's Automobile Contest

The feat of this young lady in carrying off the first prize automobile, the new Dodge Sedan, in the greatest subscription contest ever staged in the Willamette valley, is a story of what a young lady can do when she makes up her mind to overcome the obstacles that beset her path. She is a go-getter, and "hustle along and get subscriptions all the time" was the motto that proved successful. During the life of the contest the contest editor received frequent information of Miss Lytle's methods of hustling around and getting subscriptions and the determined way in which she overcame obstacles that presented themselves on every hand. A letter received from Miss Lytle follows: Woodburn, Oregon, April 19, 1926. The Oregon Statesman, Salem, Oregon. Dear Editor: Words can not fully express my great surprise and truly voice my sincere appreciation of the fact that I was successful in winning the first prize—the Dodge Sedan—in the Oregon Statesman contest. I realized that competition was fast and keen and the result was doubtful up to the very last minute. I fully realized that my privileges were equal to those of any other contestants and that no undue advantage was extended me. I wish to thank the Oregon Statesman, and especially Mrs. Plinkie and Mr. Henderson who conducted the contest on such a fair basis. I also wish to thank my many friends for their loyal support which helped to make possible the winning of this splendid car. Sincerely yours, —ELFA LYTLE

Prince of Wales and Lord Beatty Own Hat Tilt Right
LONDON—The tilt of Lord Beatty's hat is the copyright of two persons only in England—the Prince of Wales and Lord Beatty himself. Lieutenant-General Sir William Parke is advising the boys of the Church Lad's Brigade, who are to be inspected by the prince in June, to remember to put their hats on straight and keep them straight. "There are only two officers in the whole of the Empire," Sir William said, "who are allowed to wear their uniform hats on one side of their heads. One is the great Admiral Lord Beatty and the other the Prince of Wales." "From the little I know of the Prince of Wales, if he sees anybody mimicking him, he will not give them such a nice report as he might otherwise," the speaker added.
