Amendment to High School Student Constitution to Call for Change

Athletic supplies for Salem high school will hereafter be purchased by the athletic coach instead of the student athletic manager, if a proposed amendment to the student body constitution is adopted by the student body.

Already the amendment has received the approval of the student council, and has been referred to the student body, who will vote on the measure May 4, according to announcement made Wednesday, by Cecil Edwards, student body president.

It is understood that J. C. Nelson, principal of the high school, Hollis Huntington, coach, and Bob Kitchen, student manager, are all in favor of the proposed amendment.

ering places of gangsters. All but ten were discharged.

Oscar Wolff, coroner, viewed Mr. Crowe's conduct as an open affront to the coroner's office. They were on opposing sides in the recent primary, in which Wolff lost and Crowe and his cohorts were generally successful.

Wolff retained John J. Healy, former state's attorney and close friend of U. S. Senator Charles S. Deneen as his personal advisor and set an inquest into the triple slaying for tomorrow.

The coroner, aiming, he said, at a "fixer proof" jury, invited William H. Dawson, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce and a cousin of Vice President Dawson, to appoint some lawyer of outstanding integrity in criminal practice to represent the association and to name the jury of six.

Because of the reputation of McSwiggen's companions, the investigation developed wide ramifications. Among the many theories advanced were:

That McSwiggen was an innocent victim of gangsters.
That Doherty and Duffy were victims of friends of Albert Anselmi and John Sealice, recently sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment of them.

That Henry J. Fernekes, the "midget bandit" recently sentenced to death under McSwiggen's prosecution had through friends obtained the revenge he threatened.

That McSwiggen was the victim of a "double cross."
Coroner Wolff tonight announced a list of prominent Chicago business men and civic workers who will serve on the coroner's jury tomorrow.

At the same time 300 policemen were sworn in as deputy sheriffs and started a tour of country towns acting under orders of the sheriff and state's attorney to scour the entire country as well as the city.

Detectives after a day spent in Cicero investigating the slaying, expressed a theory that it might have been the work of gunmen imported here from New York by a Chicago gang or band of beer runners. In a series of raids in Cicero, mostly of saloons and roadhouses, upward of 100 men were taken into custody for questioning and a large quantity of firearms and ammunition seized.

DEBATERS SENT EAST AFTER DEMONSTRATION

the long and deep section of high school rosters broke and swept over State street, off in all directions, and disappeared.

It was a day of triumph, indeed, for the debaters traveling east. An assembly was held Wednesday morning in honor of the debaters. George Hug, superintendent of schools; J. C. Nelson, principal of the high school, and Orlando H. Horning, coach of debate, all spoke words of encouragement to the team, having nothing but praise for the way in which the debaters have prepared themselves for the coming contest.

Brief farewell talks were made by Margaret Pro, Gaynelle Beckett and Homer Richards. Letters of introduction were tendered to prominent persons along the route, assurance that the team will know no idle moments during the full 28 days of its trip.

While the team traveling east was making its last hurried preparations, Salem students and supporters were not forgetting the team that is making all possible preparations to hold up their end of the debate with the Salem, Mass., team that will arrive here next Tuesday. Mr. Nelson called attention to the fact that the home debaters are spending just as much effort to make a worthy showing as the debaters going east. Students were enthusiastic in their pledge for support of the debate that will be held here a week from Friday night at the Heilig theater.

The team going east will uphold the negative side of the question. "Resolved, that the child labor amendment to the federal constitution should be adopted," while

DESERT GOLD!

Sitting pretty and no mistake!

LIKE the chap in the song, I'm sitting on top of the world. And it's not a bad world when you look at it from all sides. I've hit some rough spots, but managed to keep my seat. I want to let it be known that the road has been a heap smoother since I discovered Prince Albert. Here is tobacco!

Prince Albert is friendly in spirit and friendly in fact. It never bites my tongue or parches my throat. They tell me the Prince Albert process fixed that for me and millions like me. I only know that P. A. is cool and satisfying as spring-water on a hot afternoon and that it suits me to a T.

My old jimmy-pipe and Prince Albert and I go along just singin' a song from morning to midnight. Whenever I get to feeling low, I take out my pipe, tamp a load of good old P. A. into the muzzle and light up. Old Man Trouble takes French leave the minute that wonderful smoke starts up the stem.

You're welcome to this leaf out of my book. If you're not smoking P. A., you're not getting full enjoyment out of your pipe. Just get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert. Load up your old jimmy-pipe and light up. Nothing complicated about that, is there? Well, that's my formula. It always works for me.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in this and other, pound and half-pound tin tins, and round crystal-glass tins with spray-mistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.
