automobiles and minor attacks on strike breakers and similar incidents, but in an amazing manner, the two or three million men involved directly in the strike are keeping the peace.

At Musselburgh, near Edinburgh, numerous passengers were injured in an attack on a train. Five policemen and as many civilians were hurt sufficiently to make hospital treatment necessary. At Glasgow, always a hot bed in time of strikes, the police were roughly handled, and some of the rioters were arrested.

In a message addressed to all workers, the trades union council says: "The council wishes to emphasize the fact that this is an industrial dispute. It expects every member taking part to be exemplary in his conduct and not to give opportunity for police interference.

"The council asks pickets especially to avoid obstruction and to confine themselves strictly to their legitimate duties."

Kandalaksha is about 200 miles south of Vadsø, Norway, where there is a mooring mast. Vadsø is a short distance from the edge of the Arctic ocean.

MOSCOW, May 6.—(By Associated Press.)—The Amundsen-Ellsworth dirigible Norge passed over Kem, 375 miles northwest of Leningrad on the Gulf of Onega, White Sea, shortly after 10 o'clock tonight. It was heading northwest.

The law, in violation of which a number of Oregon communities including Portland are emptying their sewage in rivers and streams, was passed in its present form in 1919, but has never been enforced. Several months ago the same committee sent letters to all communities of the state advising that all sewage disposal systems must be erected in conformity with the law, while those already in existence would not be interfered with for the present.

If the charges are brought against Eugene, this will be the first instance of enforcement of the law, which if fully carried out, would necessitate the expenditure of many thousands of dollars by various state communities in the erection of suitable sewage disposal plants.

Under the same law, injunction proceedings may be started against the city of Milwaukie which, according to Mr. Averill, has let a contract for the erection of a sewage system to empty into the Willamette river.

Final Decision Postponed Pending Return of Bishop W. O. Shepherd

CITY OF EUGENE FACES SUIT ON SEWAGE DUMP

PORTLAND, May 4.—(A.P.)—The city of Eugene may be prosecuted by the state for emptying sewage into the Willamette river, thus endangering the recreational and sporting facilities of the stream, it was announced here today by state game warden Averill.

Reports have been received that the river for a distance of 12 miles below Eugene is covered by a black viscous film which had killed many fish and prevented other fish from running up the river to spawn. Mr. Averill said these reports would be investigated and if confirmed will result in charges being brought against Eugene under the state law which prohibits dumping sewage and other foreign matter into rivers and streams.

The law, in violation of which a number of Oregon communities including Portland are emptying their sewage in rivers and streams, was passed in its present form in 1919, but has never been enforced. HYDE PARK CAMP OPEN

WANTIME SCENES REVIVED AS RELIEF CREW WORKS

(By the Associated Press) LONDON, May 4.—Huts, tents, and all kinds of portable buildings are springing up like mushrooms in Hyde Park, which is the center for the distribution of food supplies during the general strike. Lorries come and go with a rush, characteristic of war days. There is an air of suspense and hurry everywhere.

Where soap box orators spoke formerly on evenings, and Sunday afternoons, within the shadow of the park's great marble arch, there is now an enormous stack of milk cans. The park, which occupies 364 acres, has been closed to the public and its arches are guarded by bobbies.

Irishers are such good workers that lack of transportation facilities is not proving such a hardship to them as it would to continental dwellers. In fact the opening day of the great strike provided a lark for many of the younger folk, who walked miles to and from work.

Their appetites stirred because of this outdoor exercise, clerks and shopgirls flocked into lunch rooms and tea shops substantially increasing business. Chorus girls who dance tonight reached the theaters early and were served with supper brought in from nearby restaurants. They were to be taken home after the performance in special automobiles.

The vice chancellor of Oxford university issued a notice that under graduates should come immediately with the college authorities in regard to national service. Leave of absence will be granted to all undergraduates not taking the examinations this term. Large numbers of students have left the university since the strike began.

Dr. G. O. Oliver Leads Fight to Keep Institution for Salem, Joined by Students and Alumni

PORTLAND, May 4.—(By Associated Press.)—The trustees of the Kimball school of theology, a Methodist institution, tonight adopted a resolution affirming their previous decision to remove the school from Salem, Ore., to Seattle in 1927. The opinion prevailed, however, that a final decision will not be reached until the return to the city of Bishop William O. Shepherd to whom both sides of the controversy are appealing for support.

The meeting was an excited one, with spokesmen for faculty, alumni and student body vigorously opposing the proposed move to Puget Sound. Dr. G. O. Oliver, vice president of Willamette university who headed the alumni representatives made a strong plea for keeping the school at Salem. He pointed out that the doubtful status of the university church extensions on the campus of the University of Washington at Seattle provided no certain quarters for Kimball school.

Dr. E. C. Hickman, president of Kimball school argued in favor of moving the institution to Seattle, predicting that if the change were made the school would experience a rapid growth. Present at the meeting were deputation from the faculty, alumni and student body of Kimball, president Hickman and trustees, including Dr. Edward Laird Mills, editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, Portland; Dr. J. Ralph Magee, of Seattle; Dr. D. H. Leach, superintendent of the Salem district, Salem; Dr. A. L. Howarth, superintendent of the Portland district, Portland; Dr. D. Fields, pastor at Grants Pass; Ronald Glover, Salem; Charles W. Gill, Portland, D. E. Degraff and others.

Tonight's meeting was the climax of the controversy that has been in progress for several months over the proposal to move the school. Some time ago the trustees adopted a resolution favoring the proposed change. The last week it was learned from authoritative sources that the wisdom of the move was doubted by some of those interested.

At the same time rumors were current that President Hickman was considering tendering his resignation. Dr. Hickman at that time refused to confirm or deny the reports that the school would not be moved and declined to comment on the rumors concerning his resignation. Today's meeting which lasted from three o'clock this afternoon until seven tonight at times grew acrimonious as the opposing factions argued for their contentions.

"Frankly I am not in accord with President Hickman's maneuvering to take Kimball away from Salem," said Ronald Glover, lay member trustee of the school, "and I am going to do all I can to retain the institution in Salem."

Dr. Oliver, vice president of Willamette, declared the plan that Washington university was a better college of connection for Kimball than Willamette. He challenged the Seattle exponents to name more than three Methodist ministers educated at Washington while pointing to the large number of Willamette graduates in ministerial callings.

Dr. Oliver declared that Kimball's function was to train men for the pulpit and that the growth and prestige desired by President Hickman, unless it attained this object, was futile.

Among the proposals informally considered at the meeting were: Removal of the school to Seattle as per the original resolution formerly adopted by the board; the resignation of President Hickman and retention of the school at Salem; the temporary closing of the school. The only resolution officially considered was the one reaffirming the board's previous action, and expressing the trustees' hope that Bishop Shepard would consult with them about the whole proceedings upon his return.
