

MAY PERMIT LIST HIGH

RECORDS OF PREVIOUS MAY SMASHED IN SIX DAYS

In spite of the fact that only six days of May have passed, the building total for the month has already surpassed those of May, 1924, and May, 1925. For the six days passed, a total of $203,100 is represented in the permits issued from the office of the city recorder.

For the month of May in 1925 the total was $120,950, and for the same month in 1924, $161,600. The two main factors in the large total already established this month are the permits taken out by Frank Bligh for a $150,000 theatre, store and office building, and by Willamette Grocery company for a warehouse to cost $30,000.

Two permits were issued Thursday from the office of the city recorder. The Willamette Grocery company was issued a permit to construct a two-story concrete warehouse at Trade and Cottage streets. E. T. Barkus & Son took out a permit for an addition and repairs to their warehouse at 287 South Commercial street. Cost is estimated at $1500.

STRIKE RELIEF IS NOT YET IN SIGHT

Innumerable clashes, the breaking of windows, the overturning of automobiles and minor attacks on strike breakers and similar incidents, but in an amazing manner, the two or three million men involved directly in the strike are keeping the peace.

At Musselburgh, near Edinburgh, numerous passengers were injured in an attack on a train. Five policemen and as many civilians were hurt sufficiently to make hospital treatment necessary. At Glasgow, always a hot bed in time of strikes, the police were roughly handled, and some of the rioters were arrested.

In a message addressed to all workers, the trades union council says:

"The council wishes to emphasize the fact that this is an industrial dispute. It expects every member taking part to be exemplary in his conduct and not to give opportunity for police interference.

"The council asks pickets especially to avoid obstruction and to confine themselves strictly to their legitimate duties."

The king and queen are spending most of their time in Buckingham palace, keeping in close touch with the situation. Today was "accession day" but under the exceptional circumstances there were no public celebrations.

An abundance of voluntary labor which is being slowly but surely organized by the government is greatly relieving the worst aspects of the stoppage; food is plentiful and transport is improving daily, not only in London, but throughout the country.

London's underground railways and tubes are re-opening with fairly frequent service. More trains are in service on the main lines, and those who are engaged at their employment are going back and forth with less convenience than on the first day of the strike.

Only one death has been reported as directly due to disorders at the end of the third day of the strike. The British police are stoically carrying on their business unarmed throughout England and Scotland rushing to relief of volunteer buses and motor cars packed by the hoodlum element in the rougher sections of the cities.

NEW LEADERS APPOINTED BY OREGON CLUBWOMEN

Mrs. Charles E. Wells, Hillsboro, unanimous; editor, Mrs. Ray W. Logan, Seaside, unanimous; first director, Mrs. E. O. Blanchard, Hood River, who won with 125 votes to 57 received by Mrs. Chas. E. Runyon of Portland; second director, Mrs. Elizabeth McNary Albert, Salem.

Office of corresponding secretary, which is appointive, will be filled by Mrs. George Gerald Root of Portland, the new president, Mrs. Frankel announced. Mrs. Frankel has held numerous offices in Portland clubs, having served especially as president of the Portland federation of women's organizations. She was treasurer of the state federation during the last two terms.

Adequate support of state, county and local libraries was endorsed in a resolution adopted by the body. Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, Salem, in a talk on the morning program, urged the need of establishing county libraries. She also urged the women to obtain legislative support for the state library which, she said, is year after year hampered by limited appropriations.

"The most isolated and god-forsaken communities must have the books," Miss Marvin declared. "The library's share in adult education and citizenship was also stressed as the great basis for the club women's continued support."

There Is a Wealth of Health in Ice Cream

Its richness in essential minerals and valuable butter fat make it a necessity for grown-ups and absolutely indispensable for children.

According to Dr. F. Lyman, one-fourth of the people of the United States suffer impaired health and vigor because their daily food does not supply sufficient lime

Ice cream, as a result of its concentrated character, is especially rich in lime, containing three to five times more than milk. It also contains one-third to one-half more ash, casein, albumen and milk sugar than milk--and at least three times as much butter fat.

Eat ice cream frequently for its wonderful flavor--but don't forget the abundance of nourishment you obtain in every spoonful.

At fountains, order ice cream plain, in a sundae or malted milk, or any other way you prefer. At home the family should have ice cream dessert frequently. In restaurants or cafes, top off the meal with delicious ice cream.
