Gilbert Wrenn, Former Business Manager, Gives Out Statement

To those who remember the evangelistic campaign conducted by Victoria Booth-Clibborn Demarest two years ago under the auspices of the churches of Salem, the following information is given out by Gilbert Wrenn, former business manager of the party, and now a student at Willamette university and assistant pastor of Jason Lee Memorial church. This statement campaigns in Bethel temple. "We have not joined any body of people. Our church affiliations remain the same, Mr. Demarest being a Presbyterian, and I a member of the Moody Memorial church of Chicago. However, Mr. Demarest and I love and fellowship all of God's people everywhere, and it is our joy to cooperate as much as possible for ers in complete home furnishings.

"As to withdrawing from work in the churches, God permitted me to do so for a while, perhaps that He might teach me-and deepen my message. However, I feel now called to again cooperate with them as He leads, for God wills that I should serve all men that by all means I might be used to

"I am convinced that never before has united effort on the part of the people of God for the salvation of souls and for practical righteousness been so needed as today. It is nothing less than a crime in the sight of God that Christians should allow minor doctrinal differences, denominational barriers and church politics to stand in the way of concerted effort for Christ. Would that Christians would love one another and preach Christ crucified, the hope of mankind."
