NEGLECTED FLOWERS

By Blanche Jones

A year ago, when you were laid away, Your bier was heavy with the flowers you loved; And on your new-made grave a carpet gay, Of tulips and narcissi spread above.

Summer is here, and to your garden sweet, Always you tended with such loving care, Return the foxglove and the mignonette, The larkspur, columbine, and maidenhair.

Often I seem to see you walking there, And in those other days, among the flowers— That sprigging up, neglected, but still fair, Await your coming in the evening hours.

Faith Friday to go on European Tour With Student Group

Miss Faith Friday has a great many Salem friends who will be extremely interested in the following item concerning her opportunity to spend the summer in Europe. Miss Friday is eminently fitted for the honor which has been bestowed on her. The following paragraphs are descriptive of her general plans:

The University of Oregon will be represented in the second annual pilgrimage to Europe during the coming summer by Faith Friday of Salem, Oregon, a senior major in sociology who entered this year from Willamette university.

Miss Friday was active in Y. W. C. A. work on the Willamette campus, being among the students who attended the Seabeck conference last summer. Due to her interest in students of other countries and a desire to do social service work after graduating she was given the opportunity to apply for membership in the party of 24 women.

The party will sail from New York about June 28 according to present plans, and it is possible that they may travel on the same ship with the Sherwood Eddy party, Miss Henrietta Thompson of Berkeley, California, secretary of the committee on friendly relations with foreign students, will act as one of the two guides on the pilgrimage.

The students will be divided into two groups, which will follow different itineraries but will meet in Geneva to hear lectures on the League of Nations. Student members of organizations will be met in the various countries and discussions of problems of mutual interest will take place. England, France, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Austria, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Holland, Bulgaria, Roumania, and Switzerland will be visited by the tourists.

Miss Friday intends to study the European situation in regard to possible fields for social work. She does not expect to graduate this year but will probably be back on the campus next fall.

Salem to Hear Famous Artists During the Season

The announcement that plans have just been perfected whereby Salem will hear four of the world's greatest artists during the season of 1926-27, will be received with enthusiasm by all lovers of music. The Beethoven Society of Willamette University has just made this announcement and the campaign for the sale of season tickets will begin next Tuesday.

Clara E. Nero, who will be remembered by many as Chloe E. Bashor, formerly of this city, and who for a number of years has been Publicity Manager for the Elwyn Concert Bureau of Portland and field representative for the Wolfsohn Musical Bureau of New York City, has been in the city for several days perfecting plans for the coming series. The course will be called the Salem Artists Series and will consist of four concerts by internationally famous artists. Outstanding will be the concert by the Ukrainian National Chorus in December. This chorus consists of 40 voices, 29 men and 20 women, with three distinguished soloists. This organization is the only one of its kind in the world today and musical critics everywhere have used superlatives in describing the work of these artists. They sing in costume and their concert promises to be the most colorful and enjoyable of anything ever heard here or elsewhere. Cecilia Hansen, beautiful and talented Russian violinist will be one of the attractions. This young artist created one of the greatest sensations in the musical world when she first appeared in New York City. The New York Times declared her to be "the peer of the Auer clan" and Glenn Dillard Gunn in the Chicago Herald-Examiner wrote: "Cecilia Hansen is the sensation of the present concert season. Her tone, already known as 'the Hansen tone,' or the 'Auer tone' is so extraordinary that no critic has been able to describe it.

A third concert will be provided for enthusiasts of the piano and will be given by Ernst Von Dohnanyi, eminent Russian composer, conductor-pianist. Dohnanyi, the pianist, ranks with Dohnanyi, the composer, and Dohnanyi, the conductor, is one of the great musical personalities of our times. His larger compositions are in the repertoire of every prominent orchestral organization, his chamber music is universally recognized as masterwork, and his writings for solo instruments have become part of the body of music which every artist knows.

The fourth soloist is still to be selected, and the decision will depend largely upon popular demand. The two artists which are most prominently considered are Reinold Werrnerath, baritone, and Mary Lewis, soprano. Both are Victor Red Seal artists and either one stands supreme in their class. Mr. Werrnerath is undoubtedly one of the most popular artists on the concert stage today and Miss Lewis' debut at the Metropolitan last season was the sensation of the year. She is an ex-folies girl and is considered the most beautiful woman before the concert or opera public.

The coming of a course such as the one announced places Salem on a par with all the larger musical centers of the country. The above artists are found on the concert courses of the Wolfsohn and Elwyn Bureaus in New York City, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Portland. In other words Salem now has the opportunity of hearing at home what heretofore it has been necessary to travel miles to secure at an expense for one concert which will now cover all four. For this reason and from the point of civic pride it behooves the public to support the efforts which it will be necessary for the Beethoven society to put forth in order to make this course an assured success and it also gives the Salem public an opportunity of showing their appreciation for the marvelous art theater where these concerts will be held.

Not a Particle of Dandruff or a Falling Hair

"Danderine" will save your hair and double its beauty at once.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff. One application dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stops itching and falling hair.

Furthermore Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow strong and beautiful.

Bobbed hair has made the girls aware of the dangerous effects of unsightly dandruff which is now more apparent than ever since the hair is short.

Danderine is a sure way to get rid of dandruff and immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and an incomparable lustre, softness and appearance of abundance; and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and keep that dandruff out of your hair and off your shoulders.—Adv.
