

Kings Of Speedway Drive Daring Races On Indianapolis Motor Track

LOCKHART LEADS IN 400 MILES CLASSIC

Dare Devil Drives Machine to Victory in Deluge That Soaks Track

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—(By Associated Press.)—A youthful driving dare-devil from Los Angeles won $40,000 and the speed crown of the racing world on the Indianapolis motor speedway today.

Frank Lockhart, 23 years old, driving his first major race, piloted his little white-colored racer to victory in the motor classic, cut to 400 miles because of a downpour of rain.

The event, scheduled for 500 miles, was ended when rain-laden clouds suddenly gathered and let loose a deluge that soaked the track, making any further attempt to continue too perilous.

As the flying racers were flung into the pits, the rain came down in torrents, soaking thousands of spectators to the skin. In the crush for protection under the grandstands, stretching for a mile along the left side of the track, several women were trampled on and injured. Costly wearing apparel and the newest millinery creations were ruined.

Lockhart stopping only once during the race and driving the entire 400 miles without relief sent his little car 160 circuits of the rough brick 2 1/2 mile course in 4:13:37.78, an average of 94.63 miles an hour.

He finished five miles in front of Harry Hartz, a Los Angeles rival, who was flagged down in second place.

Chief Woodbury, a Chicagoan, was third, about a mile behind Hartz.

Fred Comer, another Los Angeles entry, was fourth.

Peter De Paolo, the smiling young Italian, winner of the 1925 classic, was fifth, nearly 17 miles behind the winner. De Paolo, however, was driving at remarkable speed at the time the race was ended, gaining steadily on the leaders and might have improved his position if it had gone the limit.

Lockhart, a graduate of the dirt tracks, won $20,000 as first prize, $9,500 in lap prizes and about $10,000 offered by accessory firms. He went into the lead at the 152nd mile, after Dave Lewis had set the early pace. From the 152nd mile on, Lockhart engaged in a terrific duel with Hartz, always leading until the 252nd mile when he was forced to stop at the pits for fuel. He was away again in less than sixty seconds but in the meantime Hartz had snatched the lead.

The young Californian, however, pushed his car to the limit of its speed, sometimes hitting 130 miles an hour on the straight-aways and quickly overcame Hartz, increasing his lead every second until the deluge ended the race.

Thirteen of the original twenty-eight starters finished.

The speedway management estimated the crowd at between 140,000 and 150,000 making it the largest that ever witnessed a sporting event in America.

Today's race was run off under the worst weather conditions in the fourteen years of the event. The skies were overcast when dawn broke over the huge racing plant and three hours before the start a drenching rain soaked the track, making the narrow ribbon of brick dangerously slippery. After 175 miles had been reeled off, another shower suddenly sprung up, forcing a temporary halt in the race, until the sun broke through and dried the track. Before the race could be stopped, however, Ben Jones of Shlater, Miss., sent his car crashing into a retaining wall on the south curve. The car was wrecked. Jones miraculously escaped injury. Today's race marked the first for cars powered with motors with 9 1/2 cubic inches piston displacement, a motor smaller than the power plant of a standard flyer.

SENATORS LOSE TO PORTLAND CYCLES

Locals Break Even in Holiday Series—Montavilla Is Defeated

Salem Senators celebrated the week-end by splitting the spoils in the two games played. Yesterday they defeated the Montavilla team from Portland and Sunday they lost to the Portland Cyclos.

Yesterday's game was in doubt for the first few innings, but as soon as the Senators found their stride it was evident which way the score was going to sag. Salem's batting turned the trick.

In Sunday's game Salem had the same apparently on ice until the ninth inning. When the Cyclos came up to take their last desperate crack at bat in the first half of the ninth Salem had five runs chalked up while they had one lone tally.

But when the deluge broke loose and when Salem came to consciousness again the Cyclos team had turned the score upside down and were standing on the heavy side of a 9 to 5 outlay.

Salem came back in the final struggle with two runs, but were unable to gain the two more necessary to make a tie.

Among the gentler pastimes indulged in on the side was that of razing the umpires, which proved most popular. Each side, after having agreed before the game that the umpires were o. k., and after having agreed full heartedly to leave the decisions changed when the game grew warm and decided to help the umpires in determining the true definition of a strike and of a ball.

Until the Senators broke under the onslaught of the Cyclos the shouts of the fans proclaimed that the game was interesting.

Following is the summary of Sunday's game:

COMMITTEE OF 15 WINS IN ASSEMBLY

New York Presbytery Scores Victory in Convention in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., May 31.—(By Associated Press.)—The report of the committee of fifteen to the general assembly today overrode the objections of the presbytery of Philadelphia through Dr. Clarence E. MacArtney and won unanimous approval from the assembly.

The approval also became a technical victory for the New York presbytery through the points which Dr. MacArtney raised and on which he was defeated.

Mr. MacArtney sought to eliminate the finding of the committee that the assembly sitting as a judicial body, might reverse its own rulings in a new and different case. He argued that this left a perpetual doubt as to the ruling against New York presbytery last year when the presbytery minister boked for admitting a minister who denied the virgin birth, and the synod of New York cautioned for approving this.

"If you let that statement stand," Dr. MacArtney said, "there is not a church in the presbytery of New York or any other taking the same stand which will not declare the assembly said there is something about the case still open. This means, we are left in confusion as to whether we have certainty of law in our court."

Commander Donald B. MacMillan has ordered from Swift & Company the meat products for his latest Arctic Expedition.

Commander MacMillan's scientific studies in the Polar Regions have brought him world-wide recognition.

The noted explorer realizes the necessity of having the best foods and supplies in order that members of his party may enjoy the good health necessary to carry on their labors.

In 1923 Swift & Company was proud to be called upon to furnish the supplies for the expedition.

In 1925 a repeat order for the Geographic Society trip was a satisfaction.

In ordering for the trip scheduled to start from Wiscasset, Maine, on June 1st, Commander MacMillan said: "We want supplies such as you have furnished before, the best as always and packed with the usual Swift care."

When the Bowdoin and the Schem sail, Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon, Brookfield Butter and "Silverleaf" Brand Pure Lard, and other products will help to furnish many appetizing Arctic meals.
