CHURCH BREAKS OVER CHARGES BY CLERGY

assembly waxed warmer than any other of the assembly and was participated in by leaders of both groups.

"The action will open the eyes of Presbyterians," Dr. MacCartney continued, "to the fact that our church is rapidly drifting from its historic and laudable witness to the great truths of reformed faith. It is impossible to put any other construction upon what has transpired in the 138th general assembly.

"The extraordinary events of this general assembly will awaken the great number in our church who think that all is well with the Presbyterian church and will unite in solid ranks all those who are determined to stand for our precious and blood-bought inheritance."

Dr. Kelegwin, chairman of the assembly's committee on overtures which recommended the action taken by the assembly, said Dr. MacCartney must have spoken in excitement and "entirely misinterpreted the facts."

"Far from being the result of any coalition," he said, "the actions of this assembly were clearly due to a steady growing spirit in the church which demands unity and a reasonable liberty with the limits of our constitution. The assembly is made up of an overwhelming majority of men of conservative views who stand unhesitatingly for the historic doctrines of Presbyterianism."

"It is agreed that all the members of the faculty at Princeton are thoroughly orthodox men. It has been so stated in the assembly without being questioned. The church is not drifting at all but it is merely reaffirming its historic position and its undeviating witness to the truth as taught in the scriptures."

EPSOM DOWNS RACE TAKEN BY CORONACH

Three-Year-Old Scores Decisive Victory in Historic English Event

EPSOM, Eng., June 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Lord Woolavington's Coronach, son of Harry On and half brother of the famous Captain Cuttle who negotiated the fastest derby every run, became king of all horsefodder this afternoon when he in turn cantered proudly home winner of that historic classic by five lengths.

W. Singer's bay colt, Lance-gaye, was second and Lord Derby's Colorado, favorite in the betting, finished third.

Coronach, clean limbed 3 year old, not only captured the crown, but gained sweet revenge and retrieved his reputation, which was badly smirched when Colorado beat him by an identical five lengths in the two thousand guineas stakes recently.

Until then Coronach was favorite for the season's greatest turf event, but he had to step down in favor of Colorado who today started a red hot, almost universal favorite.

Colorado's downfall was great, for third place was the best he could achieve, and he carried a vast fortune of something like ten million dollars of his backer's money.

PARLEY ENTERS CASE OF MISSING HEALER

alone could answer. On condition that the questions were returned by McKinley's visitors satisfactorily answered, Mrs. Kennedy was quoted as having agreed that she would accept the matter as authentic, pay the $25,000 and ask no questions, and refuse to prosecute in the event the men were arrested.

Ler the Times says Mrs. Kennedy verified the bulk of their confidential information about the negotiations.

"I never met McKinley personally," she said, "but I had dealt with him through the police." She stated that on their suggestion she had made up a list of questions, but had not as yet received any answers.

At the same time, Mrs. Kennedy revealed two mysterious communications. One was a telephone call, she said, to the effect that if she would come to a certain place she would learn something of great importance about her missing daughter, while the other was a message saying: "Mother darling, pay the money."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Searchers for the body of Almee Semple McPherson, evangelist of Angelus Temple who was reported drowned at the beach May 18, today braved the wrath of the state fish and game commission when they dynamited the waters of Santa Monica bay in a vain effort to float the body, if it is there.

In the face of an ultimatum that arrests would follow and that Mrs. Maggie Kennedy, mother of the evangelist, would be held responsible if any game fish were killed by the blasts, Captain Fred Henderson, in the employ of the temple, set off four blasts in the help beds around Castle Rock. A few small dead fish floated up on the beach, but no body rose to the surface, and no arrests were made.

Captain Henderson, after the futile effort, said that he had located many bodies by means of dynamite during the last eleven years.

Otherwise, the search for Mrs. McPherson was at a low ebb here today.

District Attorney Asa Keyes, who said yesterday that he was not interested in the search turned up today at San Francisco, but denied that the hunt for Mrs. McPherson had anything to do with his trip to the bay city.

Rolf McPherson, 11 year old son of the evangelist, arrived here today from the Pleasant ranch, near Winters, Cal., where he had been living, and is now under the guardianship of his grandmother, Mrs. Kennedy.

Telephone advice by Pismo Beach, near San Luis Obispo, today were to the effect that a woman answering the description of Mrs. McPherson was seen at that resort on May 22, four days after her disappearance here. Edward Ball, hotel clerk who was reported to have seen the woman, declined to discuss the matter, referring investigators to Joe Butler, owner and manager of the hostelry. He admitted, however, that he had mentioned to Butler that the woman, who was a guest of the hotel, strongly resembled the missing evangelist. He said that he and Butler studied published photographs of Mrs. McPherson and noticed a resemblance.

HARVARD COACH TO GIVE UP POSITION

Stevens, Mentor of Shell Crew, Declares Cooperation Is Lacking

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Edward A. Stevens, head coach of Harvard rowing, resigned today because of lack of cooperation on the part of the crew.

His resignation, effective at once, has been accepted by William J. Bingham, director of athletics.

Stevens' resignation came in a letter dated today to Director Bingham, which read: "In view of the lack of cooperation on the part of the crew, it seems highly undesirable that I should attempt to continue in the present position of head coach after this date. Much as I regret this step, nothing but harm can result where entire confidence does not exist on the part of both oarsmen and coach."
