

SWINGING AROUND VERY WIDE CIRCLE

Colorado Man and Wife Are Making a Long Trip in Auto Parlor Car

C. B. Lauterman, when he is at home, is a leading jeweler in Colorado Springs, Colorado. But he has not been at home since Feb. 24th, when, accompanied by Mrs. Lauterman, he started for a long journey in an automobile parlor car, or apartment. This car is equipped with everything to make life enjoyable on the road, including bed and cooking outfit and dishes, and a radio, all of which are disappearing when on the road and handy at stopping places. In all this time, the Lautermans have occupied the car at night, until arriving in Salem on Tuesday.

They have been touring Arizona, New Mexico and California, and they will go on through Washington, Idaho and Wyoming, and perhaps British Columbia, in their homeward journey.

The visitors are guests at the J. H. Lauterman home. Mrs. Helen Teal, a sister, is due in Salem today or tomorrow, from her home at Seneca Castle, New York, near Geneva. Her son, George Teal, was formerly circulation manager of The Statesman. He is now in newspaper work at Calcutta, India, having been all over the Orient since he left Salem.

ELSINORE THEATRE OFFERS VAUDEVILLE

Association Circuit to Be Seen in Three Shows at New Theatre Friday

An excellent bill of vaudeville will be offered at the Elsinore theater Friday afternoon and evening when five splendid acts from the Association circuit will play in the new theater for the first time. The bill has been formerly circulated through the Elsinore theater here and has made a decided hit. Since the purchase of the Elsinore by the Guthrie interests, however, all billings have been transferred to the new playhouse.

The program to be offered Friday is replete with mirth, melody, song and dance, and is headed by Maytime, "A Youthful Revue," presented by seven talented performers. Complete scenic equipment is carried by the company, and this, added to the splendid drops of the Elsinore theater, will present a beautiful appearance.

Famous Star Never So Athletic as in "Don Q" Coming to the Elsinore

With the news that Douglas Fairbanks in his latest screen success, "Don Q. Son of Zorro," will be the feature attraction Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Elsinore theater, comes the added announcement that this famous star has, for the time being stepped out of his role of the historic character—such as "Robin Hood" or the fantastic—such as "The Thief of Bagdad," and will be seen in his new photoplay as the romantic adventurer, winning hearts and plaudits with his inimitable athletic prowess.

This new film, "Don Q. Son of Zorro," is by no means a screen version of the Cervantes classic, "Don Quixote," as some have thought, but has been adapted by Jack Cunningham from the novel, "Don Q's Love Story," by K. and Hesketh Lovichard.

Never in all Fairbanks' career, it is said by critics everywhere, did he have a photoplay vehicle that gave him such splendid opportunities for athletic stunts—the type of film portrayal which brought him his earlier successes, and in "Don Q. Son of Zorro," there are feats of ambidexterity and daring that are said to be far in excess of anything the redoubtable "Doug" has ever presented.

MOVE IS STARTED TO HALT CRUELTY

Colonel Hofer Would Cancel Contracts for Road Construction

Cancellation of state highway construction contracts in cases where contractors abuse horses in their employ, was recommended by E. Hofer, president of the Oregon State Humane society, and Dr. W. H. Lyle, state veterinarian, in a report filed in the executive offices here.

The report was prepared following an investigation by the officials of complaints filed against contractors having state highway construction contracts in Linn county. The report indicated that the officials found a number of horses suffering from sore shoulders and that in a few instances it had been necessary to remove animals from service. The conditions in Linn county were not worse, however, than found in other construction camps.

It was suggested by the officials that prizes be awarded annually to teams having the best groomed and free from blemished team in each camp.

GRADUATES GUESTS AT ROTARY DINNER

Two Speeches Are Given by Members of Class at Luncheon

Men students of the graduating class of Salem high school were guests of the Salem Rotarians at their luncheon Wednesday noon. R. O. Snelling, former member of the organization, presided at the meeting, making the address of welcome.

Frank Deckebach, whose son, Donald, is a member of the class, made the first of the two main speeches.

"Never spend more than you earn," he admonished the boys. "Dependability and trustworthiness are excellent qualities. They are ingrained. Character counts above all, now just as much as forty years ago."

"College is no more than an assemblage of opportunities," Dr. Carl C. Doney, president of Willamette university, and second speaker, declared. "Some persons think they have attained wisdom at the age of 20 years and are content with themselves. The true student never stops learning."

DANCING IS RAPPED IN SOCIAL REPORTS

Joel V. Berryman Installed President of College Student Body

Joel V. Berryman was installed as president of the Willamette university student body at a meeting of the organization Wednesday. It was the last meeting of the student body this school year.

An announcement that freshmen would hereafter be forced to attend college games met with wide discussion, those against the idea holding that forced school spirit is worse than no school spirit.

Willamette university will not be allowed to succumb to dancing next fall. It was indicated in a report of the special committee submitted by Frances M. Richards, dean of women at the school.

ZANE GREY STORY IS TOLD IN FILM

"The Vanishing American" Featured by Faithful Reproduction of Scenes

The first and only reproduction of the history making episode of the conquering of the Cliffdwellers by the ravaging Indian nation of Navajos has been made in the filming by Paramount of "The Vanishing American," still playing at the Elsinore theater.

The Navajos obtained their first real civilization from the Cliffdwellers, whom we now know as the Hopis, following the defeat of the latter. Just how they scaled the almost impregnable walls of the people who dwell far up on the cliffs, how they waged a fierce, hand-to-hand battle for hours before the Navajos routed the defenders and tossed them to death on the rocks below, is shown in these scenes.

The cliffdwellings reproduced on the Lesky ranch constitute a reproduction of the immense Betastin and Kitzel cliff houses as they would appear if they were

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." ANTI-SALOON HEAD SAYS CHARGE FALSE

Congressmen Making Prohibition Speeches, However, Sometimes Paid

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(By Associated Press)—Denying that the anti-saloon league had ever paid any congressman for introducing or championing a bill, Wayne B. Wheeler, of the league, said in a statement today that occasionally when a congressman makes a speech for prohibition, his expenses and sometimes an honorarium is paid by the organization arranged for it.

A congressman "who has ability enough so that the people want to hear him should not be esopped from this service simply because he is a public official," he declared. "Vice President Marshall said he had to do this when he was vice president."

Mr. Wheeler's statement was in reply to one by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, who has made charges relating to the league's activities and expenditures, and has also drawn up a resolution calling for an investigation to determine whether Representative Cramton, republican, Michigan, or any other member "has received money or fees from the Anti-Saloon league, or any other organization interested in legislation before congress."

Incidentally the Anti-Saloon league general counsel endorsed Senator Booth's speech in Baltimore last night against state referendums on prohibition, asserting they would destroy the policy of uniformity of operations under the constitution and multiply enforcement difficulties.

EXPECTS TO BUILD A STARCH FACTORY

And Prof. Ellerman Expects to Build This Factory in Salem, Oregon

Prof. L. S. Ellerman a few years ago sold his interest in the potato starch and dextrine factory at Gresham, near Portland. Later, he looked over the Salem field with a view to building such a factory here.

He was in Salem again yesterday. He has not given up the idea, he expects to build a factory here. He hopes that this may be at a not far distant time.

Prof. Ellerman constructed and operated potato starch factories in Europe. When he builds the factory in Salem he will turn out starch, dextrine, and about 100 more commercial articles, including face powders. Potato starch is preferable to corn starch in many lines of manufacturing, and even in the kitchen.

Prof. Ellerman thinks Salem is an excellent point for such a factory. It would stimulate the potato industry, as it would use the culms.

It is perhaps not generally known that the dehydration plant in Salem has a new potato starch factory outfit that has never been used. But that is not available for the factory proposed to be built by Prof. Ellerman. The time may come, however, when Salem will have two potato starch factories.
