FURNITURE STORE TO FREE BALLOONS

Davenport Is Offered to One Recovering Ticket This Afternoon

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock the Giese-Powers furniture store will release a number of balloons here in celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the Powers furniture industry. To one of these balloons will be attached a ticket, which, when returned to the Giese-Powers store, will entitle the finder to a beautiful Birchfield davenport—free.

In telling The Statesman of the birthday celebration, Mr. Giese, manager of the Salem store, said that the balloons to be released will be filled with sufficient gas to keep them aloft for an hour and a half to two hours. The one finding the balloon to which the prize ticket is attached is asked to notify The Statesman and the Giese-Powers store at once.

The anniversary is in celebration of the establishing of the first Powers store in Portland 60 years ago when the metropolis of Oregon was then a small village.

still too early to calculate prospective production of crops this season since the planting of corn and other late crops has not been completed.

Winter wheat production, now placed at about 543,300,000 bushels, declined about 5,000,000 bushels in May but owing to the larger acreage planted last autumn, this year's crop is expected to be about 145,000,000 bushels more than that produced last year.

The low condition of spring wheat, 78.5 per cent of a normal, compared with the previous June 1 low of 82.3 in 1924 and the 10 year June 1 average of 89.9.

The crop was below the usual average in every state of the spring wheat belt from Minnesota to Washington and Oregon. Final yields will depend largely upon moisture conditions during the remainder of the season, the department said.

SPAN OF LIFE SAID TO BE INCREASING

their feet. There they would lay eggs. These would be hatched into hook worms, and working up through the blood would attach themselves to the children's bowels. The disease was largely stopped by the wearing of shoes and presently a cure was effected.

The greatest benefits you derive from medical science are those you seldom hear of. And yet think what is yet to be done! Cancer and infantile paralysis have yet to be conquered." Dr. Dillehunt declared that it is easier to solicit funds for programs of disease prevention for animals than it is for disease prevention for human beings.

He said that medical science has nothing to do with the "cults" that spring up here and there. He said that the great bulk of the business of the various pathies is based on the fact that 85 per cent of all ailments are curable without medical care.

In giving the qualifications of a doctor he declared that a doctor should have a heart and soul in tune with his profession, should have a modicum of intelligence, and should have the best in training.

He expressed impatience with the various so-called remedial fads whose proponents practice with little or no medical schooling. Dr. R. E. L. Steiner served as chairman at the meeting.

FILM COMEDY SAID ACTOR'S BEST YET

"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," at the Elsinore, Establishes High Record

Harry Langdon exceeds expectations. We thought he would be good. Now we know that he is great. He is as great a comedian as Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd.

"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," now showing at the Elsinore theater, definitely establishes Langdon as a top-notch among film comedians. He is beyond the shadow of a doubt as funny an actor as has ever been seen in the films.

Langdon's humor is enigmatical. He is the picture of innocence involved in all sorts of complications. Very, very funny indeed.

"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," is an appropriate title for the story of a transcontinental hike. Harry's peregrinations takes him all over the country and into all manner of difficulties. He is launched over a precipice, he is set to work on a rock pile, and he is caught in a cyclone.

DISTURBANCE EXPLAINED
PRINCETON, N. J., June 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Dean Gauss denied early today there had been a riot of Princeton students. He said that a crowd gathered at a fire and that some one dropped and broke a bottle of vile smelling liquid which accounted for reports that police used tear bombs.
