

Robin Reed Loses Two Out Of Three Falls In Bout With Soldier Mack

EXTRA WEIGHT USED TO REAL ADVANTAGE

Punishing Headlocks Slow Reed Down After Brilliant Showing at Start

Soldier Mack, 154 pounds, of Equusville, Ky., won from Robin Reed, 144 pounds, of Corvallis, taking two of three falls at the Armory arena last night. Mack won the first fall with a flying headlock in five minutes and 40 seconds. Reed started strong but Mack secured several punishing headlocks which seemed to leave Reed groggy. Reed came back strong and took the second fall with an arm lock and Japanese wrist lock in nine minutes and 50 seconds. Mack did not have an opportunity to secure his favorite headlock as Reed kept him tumbling around the ring at a lively pace. Before this fall Reed punished the soldier with toe holds, headlocks and wrist-locks.

After 24 minutes and ten seconds soldier Mack secured the fall with an arm lock. Reed had continued to be the aggressor before the third fall and it looked as though it would be his match. The pair tumbled around the ring and fought for holds like mad men. One time Reed threw Mack through the ropes onto the timekeepers table and jumped on top of him. Soldier Mack came back and forced Reed into the ropes. The referee called for a break but Mack did not heed and threw Reed into the ring. Time was called to enable Reed to recover but he was easy prey than for Mack who clamped an arm lock for the final fall. A. Stepton won two straight falls from Frank Bettis in the preliminary event. Both men were from Chemawa. A small but enthusiastic audience witnessed the match.

WORLD ARE IN THE CINEMA PALACES

"There was a time," so said, "when it was thought the organ was not very adaptable to the motion picture theater. But we now know how false this opinion was. The organ is most elastic, even more so than the orchestra, and in playing for the screen we can switch instantly from one theme to another."

Hound Dog Business in Arkansas Now Lucrative

EVENING SHADE, Ark.—Time was when the renege of a flock of houn' dogs around the cabin of an Arkansas countryman was regarded as a sure sign of shiftlessness and that the farmer was "triflin'". Today, however, this has changed. For the houn' dog made famous in song and story has become a means of a surer prosperity for its raiser than corn or cotton. The hogs may run wild without care, but the dog gets the best. If you travel through the Ozark hills and hear the booming voices of a group of hounds you may conclude that some dog owner is plying his trade of training hounds for the market. A good hound today is worth up to $50 in the eastern market. And a pair of hounds will pay for their keep within a few days through the fur they will capture. The market for hounds is active locally. This ad appeared recently.

"Now is your chance to get a hound pup from the famous 'old Bell' dog mine. Old Bell took eleven coons, seven possums and a mink in three nights last fall. Can trail and tree any varmint that ever ran on four legs."

PLACE FINDER TO BE INSTALLED IN THE CASCADES
BEND, Or., June 12.—(By AP.) Names of mountains, buttes and peaks of the Three Sisters group, time-worn remnants of the ancient volcanic mountain called by Dr. E. T. Hedge of the University of Oregon geology department, Mt. Multnomah, will be made known to tourists by means of a place-finder to be erected on the summit of the McKenzie Pass lava fields, it was made known in Bend today by Nelson F. MacDuff, supervisor of the Cascade national forest, who was in Bend from his headquarters in Eugene. Plans for the place-finder call for a device similar to the triangulation chart and pointer used by forest service lookouts.

NEW YORK.—Modern organists have found their greatest opportunity for development in a place where a few years ago it was least expected to exist—the American motion picture theater—says Dr. Melchiorre Mauro-Cottone, concert organist and composer. Dr. Cottone lately was decorated with the Cross of the Chevalier of the Crown by the King of Italy, and was presented by the National Association of Organists at their recent convention. Many of the finest organs in the world are in the cinema palaces and the men who play them, in Dr. Cottone's opinion, reach larger audiences than they have ever had before.

Rev. J. J. Dixon, pastor-mayor of this city, elected in a heated campaign, at the last city election, is making good in his promise to "do something to clean up the town."

Bootleggers and whiskey runners have had since Rev. Dixon took office. Recently he attracted considerable attention by vetoing an ordinance granting a franchise to a power company after the ordinance had been approved by all members of the city council. In an attempt to pass the ordinance over the mayor's veto it was found that a number of the councilmen had through logical argument on the part of the mayor come to his way of thinking, so the effort failed.

It has been said that more bootleggers have been arrested, tried and actually sentenced since Mayor Dixon took office than in all the history of the town since prohibition went into effect. The pastor-mayor is pastor of St. Bartholemew's Episcopal church, is commanding officer of Company K, 266th Infantry, chaplain of the American Legion post, and an active member of the Civic Club.

FOUNDER OF NEW ORLEANS Finally To Be Honored

NEW ORLEANS.—After 200 years New Orleans is proposing to honor Bienville, its founder, by naming a park for him.

For two centuries Bienville has had to worry along with only a street named in his honor and that street not one of the leading thoroughfares. The Louisiana Historical society is gaining support in its campaign to have City park rechristened Bienville Park. Bienville and his party of explorers founded New Orleans in 1718, Bienville holding out for locating the city on its present site.

Noted "Slow Train in Arkansas" Is No More

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—The historic "Slow Train Through Arkansas" passed from the picture many years ago and the promotion departments of state railroads intend to keep it so. The coming of the heavier steel and well-built road beds brought the same transportation advance here as elsewhere and railroad officials say trains are no longer slower in Arkansas than in other States.
